

The background of the slide features a row of seven black silhouettes of people in various public service roles against a warm orange-to-yellow gradient. From left to right, the silhouettes represent: a person holding a laptop, a doctor with a stethoscope, a firefighter with a helmet and tool, a police officer, a fire engine driver with a cap, a construction worker with a hard hat, and a waiter with a tray of two glasses.

Business Reference Services and Sources Linda S Katz, 2013-04-03 The most proactive source for business reference librarian information on the market Business Reference Services and Sources How End Users and Librarians Work Together shows you that the librarian customer relationship is as synergistic as ever. It gives you timely facts about how librarians and users work together and how those partnerships are built. In it you will encounter group projects done by faculty students, external users and non-librarian supervisors and discover an enlightening spirit of collaboration lacking in most research literature today. Further establishing the marketability of contemporary research librarians, Business Reference Service and Sources goes to the front lines of business reference service, solidifying and updating the librarian user partnership. You will see how research librarians can reach users at the crux of their needs. Overall, individual chapters address the needs of such people as students, business school officials and corporations. Specifically, you will read about these areas: Internet business research and ESL students, corporate home pages as supplements to traditional business resources, networking with community business sources, synergy in the information specialist customer partnership, avoiding information overload in bibliographic instruction, the Internet's impact on government documents, assessing the validity of electronic journals, underprivileged nontraditional students and bibliographic instruction. Today, in our climate of negative ad campaigns directed at libraries and librarians in general, business reference librarians face many challenges, academic as well as professional. But if you are one of the vocal, proactive supporters of productive librarian customer partnerships, this book will help you grow feet and move out from behind the restrictive comfort of your desk into the world's classrooms and manufacturing teams. Certainly, Business Reference and Sources will convince you that collaborative projects between contemporary reference librarians and end users are alive and well.

Library Outreach, Partnerships, and Distance Education Wendy Arent, Pixie Anne Mosley, 2024-11-15. Increase patronage with effective outreach strategies. From the Introduction by Wendi Arant and Pixie Anne Mosley: Outreach is a concept that is gaining more and more significance for libraries, particularly with the recent developments in information technology. Dictionaries define it as the act of extending services, benefits, etc. to a wider section of the population. This definition also implies a mission to communicate a particular message to an audience in order to gain their support. Its meaning for libraries is profound, having consequences for fund raising, public service and public relations. Library Outreach, Partnerships and Distance Education Reference Librarians at the Gateway focuses on extending community outreach in libraries toward a broader public by expanding services that are based on recent advances in information technology. This crucial volume will help you explore many of the issues that are currently affecting libraries, including the growth of technology and its effect on libraries and library users, emerging literacy issues, computer literacy, non-English speaking populations, providing effective services to at-risk populations, diversity and multiculturalism, and how they are changing the ways that libraries are used, targeting and reaching specific user groups, distance education, bringing the mountain to Mohammed. If the public perception of libraries is ever to move beyond that of musty old book warehouses, librarians must take a more active role in the development of new services and in heightening awareness of their existing services and collections. Library Outreach, Partnerships and Distance Education presents ideas and strategies that are now being implemented around the United States to do just that This book should be a part of every library's plans for the future
