Reflections On Antipoverty Programmes:

Evaluating Anti-poverty Programs Martin Ravallion, 2005 The author critically reviews the methods available for the ex post counterfactual analysis of programs that are assigned exclusively to individuals households or locations The discussion covers both experimental and non experimental methods including propensity score matching discontinuity designs double and triple differences and instrumental variables Two main lessons emerge First despite the claims of advocates no single method dominates rigorous policy relevant evaluations should be open minded about methodology Second future efforts to draw more useful lessons from evaluations will call for more policy relevant measures and deeper explanations of measured impacts than are possible from the classic black box assessment of mean impact Cover verso
