Keenan, 2011-05-02 Approximately fifteen hundred years after Confucius his ideas reasserted themselves in the formulation of a sophisticated program of personal self cultivation Neo Confucians argued that humans are endowed with empathy and goodness at birth an assumption now confirmed by evolutionary biologists By following the Great Learning eight steps in the process of personal development Neo Confucians showed how this innate endowment could provide the foundation for living morally Neo Confucian students did not follow a single manual elaborating each step of the Great Learning instead they were exposed to age appropriate texts commentaries and anthologies of Neo Confucian thinkers which gradually made clear the sequential process of personal development and its connection to social order Neo Confucian Self Cultivation opens up in accessible prose the content of the eight step process for today's reader as it examines the source of mainstream Neo Confucian self cultivation and its major crosscurrents from 1000 to 1900      Emerson and Neo-Confucianism Y. Takanashi, 2014-02-20 A comparative investigation of Emerson's Transcendental thought and Zhu Xi's Neo Confucianism this book shows how both thinkers traced the human morality to the same source in the ultimately moral nature of the universe and developed theories of the interrelation of universal law and the human mind      The Illustrated Encyclopedia of Confucianism: A-M Rodney Leon Taylor, Howard Yuen Fung Choy, 2005 Covers topics related to the understanding of Chinese Confucianism Includes entries in the following categories arts architecture and iconography astrology cosmology and mythology biographical entries ceremonies practices and rituals concepts dynasties official titles and rulers geography and historical events groups and schools literature language and symbols and texts      Sainthood Richard Kieckhefer, George D. Bond, 1990-08-09 Every major religion exalts certain individuals who occupy a dual role On the one hand they serve as exemplars of virtue to be imitated and on the other hand they stand removed from other mortals privileged and unique Christianity knows them as saints and in the study of religion the term has been taken over and applied to similar figures in other traditions The essays in this volume analyze the role of the saint in Judaism Christianity Islam Hinduism Buddhism and Confucianism providing both a comparative and an interpretive view of sainthood The notion of sainthood is problematic in two ways First can the category be usefully applied to individuals in religious traditions other than Christianity How has it manifested itself and what differences are there in the various manifestations of sainthood Second where individuals are considered to have risen above the norms in these different traditions how is it possible to resolve the tension between the saint's imitability and his or her otherness between imitating and venerating the saint The authors consider these questions in relation to a wide range of individuals in all the major traditions
