Strategic Occidentalism Ignacio M. Sanchez Prado, 2018-08-15 Strategic Occidentalism examines the transformation in both aesthetics and infrastructure of Mexican fiction since the late 1970s During this time a framework has emerged characterized by the corporatization of publishing a frictional relationship between Mexican literature and global book markets and the desire of Mexican writers to break from dominant models of national culture In the course of this analysis Ignacio M Sanchez Prado engages with theories of world literature proposing that world literature is a construction produced at various levels including the national that must be studied from its material conditions of production in specific sites In particular he argues that Mexican writers have engaged in a strategic Occidentalism in which their idiosyncratic connections with world literature have responded to dynamics different from those identified by world systems or diffusionist theorists Strategic Occidentalism identifies three scenes in which a cosmopolitan aesthetics in Mexican world literature has been produced Sergio Pitol's translation of Eastern European and marginal British modernist literature the emergence of the Crack group as a polemic against the legacies of magical realism and the challenges of writers like Carmen Boullosa Cristina Rivera Garza and Ana Garc a Bergua to the roles traditionally assigned to Latin American writers in world literature
