Regeneration Story of the Dome Adam Nicolson,1989-01 Adam Nicolson's book is a fascinating picture of the spirit of Britain in the new millennium coupled with a biography of the Dome and an analysis of the political background to its creation The inside story of Britain's first grand project since the 1940s is a picture of vision and idealism muddle and uncertainty and of a journey deeply unfamiliar to the political elite and the people Pariah Tom Nairn,2002-09-17 When political victories are based on a fraction of the electoral register parish looks like the only way towards reform Cultural Capital Robert Hewison,2014-11-11 Britain began the twenty first century convinced of its creativity Throughout the New Labour era the visual and performing arts museums and galleries were ceaselessly promoted as a stimulus to national economic revival a post industrial revolution where spending on culture would solve everything from national decline to crime Tony Blair heralded it a golden age Yet despite huge investment the audience for the arts remained a privileged minority So what went wrong In Cultural Capital leading historian Robert Hewison gives an in depth account of how creative Britain lost its way From Cool Britannia and the Millennium Dome to the Olympics and beyond he shows how culture became a commodity and how target obsessed managerialism stifled creativity In response to the failures of New Labour and the austerity measures of the Coalition government Hewison argues for a new relationship between politics and the arts
