Communication, Public Discourse, and Road Safety Campaigns Nurit Guttman,2014-06-05 This book discusses the use of communication campaigns to promote road safety arguing that they need to elicit public discourse on issues pertaining to culture equity gender workplace norms environmental issues and social solidarity Increasingly new media channels and formats are employed in the dissemination process making road safety related messages ubiquitous and often controversial Policy makers educators researchers and the public continue to debate the utility and morality of some of the influence tactics employed in these messages such as the use of graphic images of injury or death stigmatization or blame and shame and the use of black humor Guttman argues that influencing road safety requires making changes in normative and cultural conceptions of broader issues in society yet the typical discourse on road safety tends to focus on individual attitudes and practices The book highlights the importance of social and behavioral theory in communication campaigns on road safety and critiques the tendency to focus on individual cognition affect and risk conceptions rather than on normative structural and cultural factors The volume positions the discourse on road safety as a social issue and treats road safety behavior as a social activity that directly relates to other public issues social values and social policy while discussing potential uses of social media and participatory approaches The discussion turns to the role of road safety communication campaigns as part of a democratic process of eliciting public discourse including how contemporary society could address broader issues of risk and safety

Dream Walking With Shadows Susan Elaine Graves,2011-07-08 The Gulf waters sing a beautiful song As the wind blows its waves along The crimson sky paints the setting of the sun Glistening waves roll in then run Manatee swim freely in the Springs The Egret ready to fly spreads her wings Gators swim from the banks where they lay in the heat of the Florida sun To the warm waters to feed when the day is done Fishermen reel in their lines Then head home to cook their finds Bathers on the beach wrapped in a towel Go to their cars when they hear the waters growl Splashing against the rocks Gulf Waters make a pounding sound When the high tides roll up onto the higher ground Sea Gulls and Pelicans rest on the rocks Gathering there in large flocks Then all the echoes disappear into the night Bringing celestial bliss until daylight

Recovering Inequality Steve Kroll-Smith,2018-08-15 A lethal mix of natural disaster dangerously flawed construction and reckless human actions devastated San Francisco in 1906 and New Orleans in 2005 Eighty percent of the built environments of both cities were destroyed in the catastrophes and the poor the elderly and the medically infirm were disproportionately among the thousands who perished These striking similarities in the impacts of cataclysms separated by a century impelled Steve Kroll Smith to look for commonalities in how the cities recovered from disaster In Recovering Inequality he builds a convincing case that disaster recovery and the reestablishment of social and economic inequality are inseparable Kroll Smith demonstrates that disaster and recovery in New Orleans and San Francisco followed a similar pattern In the immediate aftermath of the flooding and the firestorm social boundaries were disordered and the communities came together in expressions of unity and support But these were quickly replaced by other narratives and actions including the depiction of the poor as looters uneven access to disaster assistance and successful efforts by the powerful to take valuable urban real estate from vulnerable people Kroll Smith concludes that inexorable market forces ensured that recovery efforts in both cities would reestablish the patterns of inequality that existed before the catastrophes The major difference he finds between the cities is that from a market standpoint New Orleans was expendable while San Francisco rose from the ashes because it was a hub of commerce

Race, Place, and Environmental Justice After Hurricane Katrina Robert D. Bullard, Beverly Wright, 2010-06 On August 29 2005 Hurricane Katrina made landfall near New Orleans leaving death and destruction across the Louisiana Mississippi and Alabama Gulf Coast counties The lethargic and inept emergency response that followed exposed institutional flaws poor planning and false assumptions that are built into the emergency response and homeland security plans and programs Questions linger What went wrong Can it happen again Is our government equipped to plan for mitigate respond to and recover from natural and manmade disasters Can the public trust government response to be fair Does race matter Racial disparities exist in disaster response cleanup rebuilding reconstruction and recovery Race plays out in natural disaster survivors ability to rebuild replace infrastructure obtain loans and locate temporary and permanent housing Generally low income and people of color disaster victims spend more time in temporary housing shelters trailers mobile homes and hotels and are more vulnerable to permanent displacement Some temporary homes have not proved to be that temporary In exploring the geography of vulnerability this book asks why some communities get left behind economically spatially and physically before and after disasters strike

Gulf Coast Disaster Recovery Stanley J. Czerwinski, 2009-11 Almost 4 years after the 2005 Gulf Coast hurricanes the region continues to face daunting rebuilding challenges To date 19.7 billion in Community Development Block Grant CDBG funds have been appropriated for Gulf Coast rebuilding assistance the largest amount in the history of the program This is a report on 1 how Louisiana and Mississippi allocated their shares of CDBG funds 2 what difficulties Louisiana faced in administering its housing recovery program and 3 what human capital challenges Louisiana and Mississippi encountered and the efforts taken to address those challenges The author interviewed fed and state officials and reviewed budget data fed regulations and state policies and planning documents Tables and charts

Enlightenment Pie Lisa M. Gunshore,2018-10-26 It seems that everywhere we look these days we see more and more people carrying weight To someone on the outside they may only see the unhealthy side effects of poor diet and pass judgements on the person s ability to care for themselves What may not be seen is the deep layers of emotional baggage that this person is carrying and their lack of self love that ultimately affects their choices when caring or ultimately not caring for themselves The baggage is really layering what we have acquired throughout this lifetime and others and it has manifested into physical weight that we carry in our bodies emotional weight and spiritual weight in the form of karma The purpose of this book is to teach you how to release this weight from your spirit mind and body I have learned from my own experience that to truly lose weight we must complete the inner work of all the aspects of our lives By looking at those difficult pieces of ourselves that is our weight we bring to the surface many destructive emotions By working through these emotions and facing them rather than stuffing them away we are able to overcome this weight once and for all This book is not really about changing your diet but instead is about transforming all aspects of yourself and changing your life German Culture and Christianity: Their Controversy in the Time 1770-1880 Joseph Gostwick,2025-08-25 Reprint of the original first published in 1882 The Antigonos publishing house specialises in the publication of reprints of historical books We make sure that these works are made available to the public in good condition in order to preserve their cultural heritage Your Child Next M. The Wrong Complexion for Protection Robert D. Bullard,Beverly Wright,2023-09-05 Uncovers the ways the United States government responds to natural and human induced disasters in relation to race over the past eight decades When the images of desperate hungry thirsty sick mostly black people circulated in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina it became apparent to the whole country that race did indeed matter when it came to government assistance In The Wrong Complexion for Protection

Robert D Bullard and Beverly Wright place the government response to natural and human induced disasters in historical context over the past eight decades. They compare and contrast how the government responded to emergencies including environmental and public health emergencies, toxic contamination, industrial accidents, bioterrorism threats, and show that African Americans are disproportionately affected. Bullard and Wright argue that uncovering and eliminating disparate disaster response can mean the difference between life and death for those most vulnerable in disastrous times.
