Learning Interreligiously Francis X. Clooney SJ, 2018-06-01 Learning Interreligiously offers a series of about one hundred short pieces written online between 2008 and 2016. They are meant for a wide range of readers interested in interreligious dialogue, interreligious learning, and the realities of Hindu-Christian encounter today and are rich in insights drawn from teaching travels in America and India and the author's research on sacred texts. The author, a Catholic priest who has spent more than forty years learning from Hinduism and observing religion as a plus and minus in today's world, has much to share with readers. Some pieces were prompted by items in the news; some go deeper into traditions and probe the rich Scriptures and practices going back millennia; some seek simply to provoke fresh thinking, and others invite spiritual reflection. The book is divided into several parts so that readers can focus on individual events that made the news or, on longer term, more concerted study. Familiar texts such as the Yoga Sutras, the Bhagavad Gita, the Qur'an, and key passages from the New Testament will be considered for their spiritual possibilities. Readers will find much here to learn from and respond to as they too consider religion in today's world.

The Spiritual Philosophy Of Shri Shirdi Sai Baba Satya Pal Ruhela, 1998

The Cambridge Companion to New Religious Movements Olav Hammer, Mikael Rothstein, 2012-08-30 New religions emerge as distinct entities in the religious landscape when innovations are introduced by a charismatic leader or a schismatic group leaves its parent organization. New religious movements (NRMs) often present novel doctrines and advocate unfamiliar modes of behavior and have therefore often been perceived as controversial. NRMs have, however, in recent years come to be treated in the same way as established religions, that is, as complex cultural phenomena involving myths, rituals, and canonical texts. This Companion discusses key features of NRMs from a systematic comparative perspective, summarizing results of forty years of research. The volume addresses NRMs that have caught media attention, including movements such as Scientology, New Age, the Neopagans, the Sai Baba movement, and Jihadist movements active in a post-9/11 context. An essential resource for students of religious studies, the history of religion, sociology, anthropology, and the psychology of religion.

Learning from Life, Da'ath Magic for Beginners Harry Eilenstein, 2021-06-22 Usually, magic begins with simple telepathy experiments, the production of talismans, telekinesis experiments, and the like. However, these beginnings, which mainly show that magic is possible, can be increased significantly: first by practice, then by recognizing one's own soul, and finally by one-pointedness, invocations, presence, and the like. Thus, simple ordinary magic can eventually be increased to extraordinary magic, to miracles such as firewalks, spontaneous healings, and materializations. For this, no craftsmanship, no special rituals or spells, no secret traditions, and the like are necessary, but a certain consciousness, which in the Kabbalistic tradition is called Da'ath. This is the state of letting go and of boundlessness. The way to it can be sudden, which can be felt as a jumping into a bottomless abyss. Or it can be approached gradually, in which case it can be one of the most pleasant states of all: a smile like Buddha, a boundaryless consciousness like the gods.
