Shanghai 1842 1949 The Rise And Fall Of A Decadent City:

Shanghai Stella Dong, Captures the exoticism extremes and excitement of this legendary city Shanghai Stella Dong, 2001-05-22 Transformed from a swampland wilderness into a dazzling modern day Babylon the Shanghai that predated Mao's cultural revolution was a city like no other redolent with opium and underworld crime booming with foreign trade blessed with untold wealth and marred by abject squalor Journalist Stella Dong captures all the exoticism extremes and excitement of this legendary city as if it were a larger than life character in a fantastic novel Shanghai Stella Dong, 2000

Shanghai, 1842-1949 Stella Dong, 2000-02-01 A wonderful biography of the greatest metropolis in Asia from the turn of the 19th cent until Mao's army swept away its decadence in 1949 Chronicles how a wilderness of swamps was transformed into a dazzling modern day Babylon Seductive and cruel Shanghai was a booming international port at the mouth of the Yangtze River a powerful criminal underworld controlled the port in league with the city's wealthiest citizens and the military This was the most turbulent spot in Asia for war rebellion and econ disaster were never far from its door Knowing that the control of Shanghai was the key to China warlords revolutionaries and outside invaders all vied for this richest of prizes Photos The History of the Shanghai Jews Kevin Ostoyich, Yun Xia, 2022-11-28 This volume provides a historical narrative historiographical reviews and scholarly analyses by leading scholars throughout the world on the hitherto understudied topic of Shanghai Jewish refugees Few among the general public know that during the Second World War approximately 16 000 to 20 000 Jews fled the Nazis found unexpected refuge in Shanghai and established a vibrant community there Though most of them left Shanghai soon after the conclusion of the war in 1945 years of sojourning among the Chinese and surviving under the Japanese occupation generated unique memories about the Second World War lasting goodwill between the Chinese and Jews and contested interpretations of this complex past The volume makes two major contributions to the studies of Shanghai Jewish refugees First it reviews the present state of the historiography on this subject and critically assesses the ways in which the history is being researched and commemorated in China Second it compiles scholarship produced by renowned scholars who aim to rescue the history from isolated perspectives and look into the interaction between Jews Chinese and Japanese World Film Locations: Shanghai John Berra, Wei Ju, 2014-01-01

Celebrating Shanghai's rich cinematic history the films covered here represent a lengthy time period from the first Golden Age of Chinese Cinema in the 1930s to the city's status as an international production hub in 2013 Given the enduring status of Shanghai as the Paris of the East World Film Locations: Shanghai emphasizes the city's cosmopolitan glamour through locations that are steeped in cinematic exoticism while also probing the reality behind the image by investigating its backstreets and residential zones To facilitate this study of Shanghai's dual identity through reference to film locations the book includes films from both the commercial and independent sectors with a balance between images captured by local filmmakers and the visions of Western directors who have also utilized the city for their projects With numerous essays that reflect Shanghai's relationship to film and scene reviews of such iconic titles as Street Angel Temptress Moon Kung Fu Hustle and Skyfall World Film Locations Shanghai is essential reading for all scholars of China's urban culture

Architecture and the Landscape of Modernity in China before 1949 Edward Denison, 2017-02-17 This book explores China's encounter with architecture and modernity in the tumultuous epoch before Communism an encounter that was mediated not by a singular notion of modernism emanating from the west but that was uniquely multifarious deriving from a variety of sources both from the west and importantly from the east The heterogeneous origins of modernity in China are what make its experience distinctive and its architectural encounters exceptional These experiences are investigated through a re-evaluation of established knowledge of the subject within the wider landscape of modern art practices in China The study draws on original archival and photographic material from different artistic genres and architecturally concentrates on China's engagement with the west through the treaty ports and leased territories the emergence of architecture as a profession in China and Japan's omnipresence not least in Manchuria which reached its apogee in the puppet state of Manchukuo The study's geographically temporally and architecturally inclusive approach framed by the concept of multiple modernities questions the application of conventional theories of modernity or post colonialism to the Chinese situation By challenging conventional modernist historiography that has marginalised the experiences of the west's other for much of the last century this book proposes different ways of grappling with and comprehending the distinction and complexity of China's experiences and its encounter with architectural modernity

China's Urban Revolution Austin Williams, 2017-10-19 By 2025 China will have built fifteen new supercities each with 25 million inhabitants It will have created 250 Eco cities as well clean green car free people friendly high tech urban centres From the edge of an impending eco catastrophe we are arguably witnessing history's greatest environmental turnaround an urban experiment that may provide valuable lessons for cities worldwide Whether or not we choose to believe the hype there is little doubt that this is an experiment that needs unpicking understanding and learning from Austin Williams The Architectural Review's China correspondent explores the progress and perils of China's vast eco city program describing the complexities which emerge in the race to balance the environment with industrialisation quality with quantity and the liberty of the individual with the authority of the Chinese state Lifting the lid on the economic and social realities of the Chinese blueprint for eco modernisation Williams tells the story of China's rise and reveals the pragmatic political and economic motives that lurk behind the successes and failures of its eco cities Will these new kinds of urban developments be good humane healthy places Can China find a third way in which humanity nature economic growth and sustainability are reconciled And what lessons can we learn for our own vision of the urban future This is a timely and readable account which explores a range of themes environmental political cultural and architectural to show how the eco city program sheds fascinating light on contemporary Chinese society and provides a lens through which to view the politics of sustainability closer to home

Branding Cities Stephanie Hemelryk Donald, Eleonore Kofman, Catherine

Kevin, 2009-01-13 Cultural analysts social scientists and media scholars explore the ways in which cities generate competing visions of their use and their future thereby branding their image for international consumption Contemporary Sino-French Cinemas Michelle E. Bloom, 2017-11-30 Transnational cinemas are eclipsing national cinemas in the contemporary world and Sino French films exemplify this phenomenon through the cinematic coupling of the Sinophone and the Francophone linking France not just with the Chinese mainland but also with the rest of the Chinese speaking world Sinophone directors most often reach out to French cinema by referencing and adapting it They set their films in Paris and metropolitan France cast French actors and sometimes use French dialogue even when the directors themselves don't understand it They tend to view France as mysterious sexy and sophisticated just as the French see China and Taiwan as exotic As Michelle E Bloom makes clear many films move past a simplistic opposition between East and West and beyond Orientalist and Occidentalist cross cultural interplay Bloom focuses on films that have appeared since 2000 such as Tsai Ming-liang's What Time Is It There Hou Hsiao-hsien's Flight of the Red Balloon and Dai Sijie's Balzac and the Little Chinese Seamstress She views the work of these well known directors through a Sino French optic applying the tropes of métissage or biraciality intertextuality adaptation and remake translation and imitation to shed new light on their work She also calls attention to important lesser studied films Taiwanese director Cheng Yu-chieh's Yang Yang which depicts the up and coming Taiwanese star Sandrine Pinna as a mixed race beauty and Emily Tang Xiaobai's debut film Conjugation which contrasts Paris and post Tiananmen Square Beijing the one an incarnation of liberty the other a place of entrapment Bloom's insightful analysis also probes what such films reveal about their Taiwanese and Chinese creators Scholars have long studied Sino French literature but this inaugural full length work on Sino French cinema maps uncharted territory offering a paradigm for understanding other cross cultural interminglings and tools to study transnational cinema and world cinema The Sino French rich and multifaceted linguistically culturally and ethnically constitutes an important part of film studies Francophone studies Sinophone studies and myriad other fields This is a must read for students scholars and lovers of film Architectures of Hurry—Mobilities, Cities and Modernity Phillip Gordon Mackintosh, Richard Dennis, Deryck W. Holdsworth, 2018-03-20 Hurry is an intrinsic component of modernity It exists not only in tandem with modern constructions of mobility speed rhythm and time space compression but also with infrastructures technologies practices and emotions associated with the experience of the mobilizing modern Hurry is not simply speed It may result in congestion slowing down or inaction in the face of over stimulus Speeding up is often competitive faster traffic on better roads made it harder for pedestrians to cross or for horse drawn vehicles and cyclists to share the carriageway with motorized vehicles Focusing on the cultural and material manifestations of hurry the book's contributors analyse the complexities tensions and contradictions inherent in the impulse to higher rates of circulation in modernizing cities The collection includes but also goes beyond accounts of new forms of mobility bicycles buses underground trains and infrastructure street layouts and surfaces business exchanges and hotels to show how modernity's architectures of hurry have been experienced represented and practised since the mid nineteenth century Ten case studies explore different expressions of hurry across cities and urban regions in Asia Europe and North and South America and substantial introductory and concluding chapters situate hurry in the wider context of modernity and mobility studies and reflect on the future of hurry in an ever accelerating world This diverse collection will be relevant to researchers scholars and practitioners in the fields of planning cultural and historical geography urban history and urban sociology

The Lady and the Panda Vicki Croke, 2009-03-25 Here is the astonishing true story of Ruth Harkness the Manhattan bohemian socialite who against all but impossible odds trekked to Tibet in 1936 to capture the most mysterious animal of the day a bear that had for countless centuries lived in secret in the labyrinth of lonely cold mountains In The Lady and the Panda Vicki Constantine Croke gives us the remarkable account of Ruth Harkness and her extraordinary journey and restores Harkness to her rightful place along with Sacajawea Nellie Bly and Amelia Earhart as one of the great woman adventurers of all time Ruth was the toast of 1930s New York a dress designer newly married to a wealthy adventurer Bill Harkness Just weeks after their wedding however Bill decamped for China in hopes of becoming the first Westerner to capture a giant panda an expedition on which many had embarked and failed miserably Bill was also to fail in his quest dying horribly alone in China and leaving his widow heartbroken and adrift And so Ruth made the fateful decision to adopt her husband's dream as her own and set off on the adventure of a lifetime It was not easy Indeed everything was against Ruth Harkness In decadent Shanghai the exclusive fraternity of white male explorers patronized her scorned her and joked about her softness her lack of experience and money But Ruth ignored them organizing outfitting and leading a bare bones campaign into the majestic but treacherous hinterlands where China borders Tibet As her partner she chose Quentin Young a twenty two year old Chinese explorer as unconventional as she was who would join her in a romance as torrid as it was taboo Traveling across some of the toughest terrain in the world nearly impenetrable bamboo forests slick and perilous mountain slopes and boulder strewn passages the team raced against a traitorous rival and was constantly threatened by hordes of bandits and hostile natives The voyage took months to complete and cost Ruth everything she had But when almost miraculously she returned from her journey with a baby panda named Su Lin in her arms the story became an international sensation and made the front pages of newspapers around the world No animal in history had gotten such attention And Ruth Harkness became a hero Drawing extensively on American and Chinese sources including diaries scores of interviews and previously unseen intimate letters from Ruth Harkness Vicki Constantine Croke has fashioned a captivating and richly textured narrative about a woman ahead of her time Part Myrna Loy part Jane Goodall by turns wisecracking and poetic practical and spiritual Ruth Harkness is a trailblazing figure And her story makes for an unforgettable deeply moving adventure

A Jewish Heart Robert L. Green, 2024-08-08 A Jewish Heart A Struggle for Status and Identity in Asia is at once the saga of a modest charitable grant in 1903 an unimagined windfall ninety years later and a history of Progressive Judaism in Asia Enriched with profiles of key players the author roots the narratives in the entrepreneurial and philanthropic activities of two legendary Baghdadi families the Sassoons and the Kadoories beginning in mid nineteenth century Bombay Shanghai and Hong Kong and unfolding against the backdrop of worldwide waves of Jewish arrivals The story gains currency when challenges are raised over community funding facilities preserving or replacing the aging synagogue and accommodating Reform Judaism Robert L Green provides a thorough and previously undocumented account of the decade long religious legal and public relations battles that follow engaging the attention of international media and top rabbinical and legal authorities in Hong Kong Israel Australia United States and United Kingdom The author focuses on questionable legal gymnastics as trustees facing China's impending takeover of Hong Kong undertake efforts to protect the funds from unknown perils Concurrently he chronicles the establishment of a vibrant Reform congregation braided with Jewish lore and the struggles of visionaries hoping to make Hong Kong an oasis of Jewish worship learning and recreation in Asia

From Rice to Riches Jane Hutcheon, 2014-12-04 Jane Hutcheon's connection to China goes back more than one hundred and fifty years when her great great grand uncle Phineas a Scottish tea merchant was drawn to its shores When Jane became the ABC's China correspondent in 1995 she began her own journey through an ancient and intriguing culture that is undergoing rapid change

Like learning to eat a dish of slippery braised pig's face Jane had to learn the etiquette of reporting in China a country where people often give interviews in lowered voices or with a glance over their shoulders to see who might be listening Though China has transformed itself into a heady capitalist republic the country's new facade covers up a multitude of the same old problems And in the lead up to the 2008 Beijing Olympics the clash between new and old is more pronounced than ever By talking with ordinary people a glamorous Amway couple a traffic cop a rubbish collector and members of the Falun Gong among others Jane provides intimate insights into China's radical transformation In the process she discovers that the real China is intense humorous cynical and quite often bizarre Travelling with a television crew coping with a serious bout of banquet intolerance and dealing with the frustration caused by Chinese bureaucracy Jane takes us on a bumpy ride across a country the world is fascinated with and that everyone is dying to get their chopsticks into

Opium Traders and Their Worlds-Volume One M. Kienholz,2008-10-13 Opium Traders and Their Worlds examines the opium trade with a detective's investigative approach The author uses evidence to dismiss many of the false claims commonly held with regard to the so called legitimacy of the Old China trade presents proof of important figures who were deeply involved in all parts of the world and shows how world events were affected by famous men in opium hierarchies Lateral contributors to the drug trade include shipbuilders who fashioned their craft to meet needs of the commerce designing specially built Indiamen clippers and fast crabs Ms Kienholz shows how vicious competition in the trade moved players like chess pieces with winners and losers shifting positions Her research into the production of the new opioids such as oxycodone is an area not previously probed

Historical Dictionary of the People's Republic of China Lawrence R. Sullivan,2016-08-03 When the Chinese Communist Party CCP assumed power in October 1949 China was one of the poorest nations in the world and so weak it had been conquered in the late 1930s and early 1940s by its neighbor Japan a country one 10th its size More than five decades later the People's Republic of China PRC is an emerging economic political and major military power with the world's fastest growing economy and largest population 1.35 billion in 2015 A member of the United Nations Security Council since the early 1970s and a nuclear power China wields enormous influence in the world community while at home what was once a nation of largely poverty stricken peasants and urban areas with little to no industry has been transformed into an increasingly urbanized society with a growing middle class and an industrial and service sector that leads the world in such industries as steel and textiles while becoming a major player in computers and telecommunications All the while the country has remained under the tight political control of a one party system dominated by the Chinese Communist Party that despite periods of intense political conflict and turmoil governs China with a membership in 2014 of 88 million people the largest single organization on earth This third edition of Historical Dictionary of the People's Republic of China contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 700 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent access point for
