India At War Yasmin Khan, 2015-09-10 World War II was a global catastrophe Far broader than just the critical struggle between Allies and Axis its ramifications were felt throughout the world It was a time of social relocation reorienting ideas of patriotism and geographical attachment and forcing the movement of people across oceans and continents In India at War Yasmin Khan offers an account of India's role in the conflict one that takes into consideration the social economic and cultural changes that occurred in South Asia between 1939 and 1945 and reveals how vital the Commonwealth's contribution was to the war effort Khan's sweeping work centers on the lives of ordinary Indian people exploring the ways they were affected by a cataclysmic war with origins far beyond Indian shores In manpower alone India's contribution was staggering it produced the largest volunteer army in world history with 2.5 million men Indians were engaged in making the raw materials and food stuffs needed by the Allies and became involved in the construction of airstrips barracks hospitals internment camps roads and railways Their lives were also profoundly affected by the presence of the large Allied army in the region including not only British but American African and Chinese troops Madras was bombed by the Japanese and the Andaman and Nicobar Islands were occupied while the Bengal famine of 1943 in which perhaps three million Bengalis died was a man made disaster precipitated by the effects of the war This authoritative account offers a critically important look at the contributions of colonial manpower and resources essential to sustaining the war and emphasizes the significant ways in which the conflict shaped modern India Wartime Japanese Anthropology in Asia and the Pacific Akitoshi Shimizu, Jan van Bremen, Kokuritsu Minzokugaku Hakubutsukan, 2003

日本学術会議 日本 日本学術会議 日本学術会議 日本学術会議 日本学術会議 PRAVAT ROY, Japanese Prisoners of War in India, 1942-46 Tilak Raj Sareen, 2006 This is the first in depth study to examine the history treatment and conditions of more than 2500 Japanese prisoners of war who were captured by British forces on the Burma front and kept in India during the period 1942-46 Drawing on original sources including the National Archive of India the International Committee of the Red Cross as well as limited government records in the UK USA and Japan together with some former Japanese POWs first hand accounts the author has been able to provide a detailed picture of the way of life of these prisoners the organization of camp life as well as the policies that governed their incarceration In so doing the author fills a significant gap both in Pacific War studies and prisoner of war history The manner of the capture and surrender of the Japanese was unique in that they were captured for the most part when they were either seriously wounded or sick or had become unconscious due to hunger or disease while fighting on the Arakan Imphal and Kohima Burma fronts A few in good health gave themselves up but there was no mass surrender even by a single regiment or unit ever took place thus giving rise to the myth that no Japanese soldier ever became a prisoner of war This account sets the history straight and will be widely welcomed by the generalist and specialist alike particularly those studying the history of this period including POW history as well as students of international law and the work of international agencies such as the Red Cross Testament of Subhas Bose Subhas Chandra Bose,2023 Testament of Subhas Bose, Being a Complete and Authentic Record of Netaji's Broadcast Speeches, Press Statements, Etc., 1942-1945 Subhas Chandra Bose,1946 Indian National Army and Subhas Chandra Bose Through Japanese Sources ,2019 Japan and the Indian National Army Tilak Raj Sareen,1986
