Sharing The Sacred Religious Contacts And Conflicts In The Holy Land Firstbsfifteenth Centuries Ce:

Sharing the Sacred Arie Kofsky, Guy G. Stroumsa, 1998 In a contrast to the more monolithic religious history of other lands or geographical entities the plurality of religious traditions and identities is an essential and distinctive factor in the history of the Holy Land These identities have usually developed in opposition to one another and inter religious relations have more often than not reflected negative if not openly hostile attitudes to outsiders Nonetheless the daily polemical or intellectual encounter between members of different religious traditions has occasionally led to a particular dynamic that influences the internal evolutions of each community Sometimes even common interests or patterns have appeared among the different traditions and communities Through a series of case studies Sharing the Sacred exemplifies the variety of issues and methods involved in the study of the religious history of the Holy Land

Johnson,2017-05-15 This volume brings together a set of fundamental contributions many translated into English for this publication along with an important introduction Together these explore the role of Greek among Christian communities in the late antique and Byzantine East late Roman Oriens specifically in the areas outside of the immediate sway of Constantinople and imperial Asia Minor The local identities based around indigenous eastern Christian languages Syriac Coptic Armenian Georgian etc and post Chalcedonian doctrinal confessions Miaphysite Church of the East Melkite Maronite were solidifying precisely as the Byzantine polity in the East was extinguished by the Arab conquests of the seventh century In this multilayered cultural environment Greek was a common social touchstone for all of these Christian communities not only because of the shared Greek heritage of the early Church but also because of the continued value of Greek theological hagiographical and liturgical writings However these interactions were dynamic and living so that the Greek of the medieval Near East was itself transformed by such engagement with eastern Christian literature appropriating new ideas and new texts into the Byzantine repertoire in the process Early Christian Monastic Literature and the Babylonian Talmud Michal

The Rich and the Pure Daniel Caner, 2021-09-07 As the Roman Empire broke down in western Europe its stability and prosperity moved decisively to the east producing history s first truly affluent multi faceted Christian society in what is now known as the Byzantine Empire What united the twenty four million people living in this vast realm Roman citizens all but as diverse as the landscape itself was a shared conviction in the Christian ideal of philanthropia In this sweeping cultural and social history of Christian philanthropy Daniel Caner shows this practice involved more than simply a love of humanity it required living up to Jesus's injunction to Give to all who ask of you by offering mercy and material aid to every human being whatever their origin or status Yet this commitment to the common good arose in an aristocratic society marked by sharp gradations of rank and privilege and dominated by an official church experiencing explosive growth and unprecedented affluence In tracking the evolution of distinctive ideals and modes of Christian giving over three centuries Caner brings to the fore the people of Byzantium from the countryside to the lower levels of urban society to the elites and the complex hierarchical relationships that these gifts fostered among them Drawing on an immense range of evidence The Rich and the Pure offers nothing less than a portrait of the whole of early Byzantine society

Late Antique Responses to the Arab Conquests, 2021-12-13 Late Antique Responses to the Arab Conquests is a showcase of new discoveries in an exciting and rapidly developing field the study of the transition from Late Antiquity to Early Islam The contributors to this volume engage with previously neglected sources such as Arabic rock inscriptions papyri and Byzantine archaeological remains They also apply new interpretative methods to the literary tradition reading the Qur'an as a late antique text using Arabic poetry as a source to study the gestation of an Arab identity and extracting settlement patterns of the Arabian colonizers in order to explain regional processes of Arabicization and Islamization This volume shows how the Arab conquests changed both the Arabian conquerors and the conquered

River Jordan Rachel Havrelock, 2011-12 As the site of several miracles in the Jewish and Christian traditions the Jordan is one of the world's holiest rivers It is also the major political and symbolic border contested by Israelis and Palestinians Combining biblical and folkloric studies with historical geography Rachel Havrelock explores how the complex religious and mythological representations of the river have shaped the current conflict in the Middle East Havrelock contends that the intractability of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict stems from the nationalist myths of the Hebrew Bible where the Jordan is defined as a border of the Promised Land Both Israelis and Palestinians claim the Jordan as a necessary boundary of an indivisible homeland Examining the Hebrew Bible alongside ancient and modern maps of the Jordan Havrelock chronicles the evolution of Israel's borders based on nationalist myths while uncovering additional myths that envision Israel as a binational state These other myths she proposes provide roadmaps for future political configurations of the nation Ambitious and masterful in its scope River Jordan brings a fresh provocative perspective to the ongoing struggle in this violence-riddled region

Female Power and Religious Change in the Medieval Near East Uriel Simonsohn, 2023-02-21 Female Power and Religious Change in the Medieval Near East engages with two levels of scholarly discussion that are all too often dealt with separately in modern scholarship the Islamization of the Near East and the place of women in pre-modern Near Eastern societies It outlines how these two lines of inquiry can and should be read in an integrative manner Major historical themes such as conversion to

Islam Islamization religious violence and the regulation of Muslim non Muslim ties are addressed and reframed by attending to the relatively hidden yet highly meaningful role that women played throughout this period This book is about the history of Islam from the perspective of female social agents It argues that irrespective of their religious affiliation women possessed crucial means for affecting or hindering religious changes not only in the form of religious conversion but also in the adoption of practices and the delineation of communal boundaries Its focus on the role and significance of female power in moments of religious change within family households offers a historical angle that has hitherto been relatively absent from modern scholarship Rather than locating signs of female autonomy or authority in the political intellectual religious or economic spheres Female Power and Religious Change in the Medieval Near East is concerned with the capacity of women to affect religious communal affiliations thanks to their kinship ties Border Lines Daniel Boyarin, 2010-11-24 The historical separation between Judaism and Christianity is often figured as a clearly defined break of a single entity into two separate religions Following this model there would have been one religion known as Judaism before the birth of Christ which then took on a hybrid identity Even before its subsequent division certain beliefs and practices of this composite would have been identifiable as Christian or Jewish In Border Lines however Daniel Boyarin makes a striking case for a very different way of thinking about the historical development that is the partition of Judaeo Christianity There were no characteristics or features that could be described as uniquely Jewish or Christian in late antiquity Boyarin argues Rather Jesus following Jews and Jews who did not follow Jesus lived on a cultural map in which beliefs such as that in a second divine being and practices such as keeping kosher or maintaining the Sabbath were widely and variably distributed The ultimate distinctions between Judaism and Christianity were imposed from above by border makers heresiologists anxious to construct a discrete identity for Christianity By defining some beliefs and practices as Christian and others as Jewish or heretical they moved ideas behaviors and people to one side or another of an artificial border and Boyarin significantly contends invented the very notion of religion The Literature of the Sages, 2022-07-11 This volume presents the major works of classical rabbinic Judaism as inter related aggregates analyzed through three central themes Part 1 Intertextuality investigates the multi directional relationships among and between rabbinic texts and nonrabbinic Jewish sources Part 2 East and West explores the impact on rabbinic texts of the cultures of the Hellenistic Roman and Christian West and the Sasanian East Part 3 Halakha and Aggada interrogates the relationship of law and narrative in rabbinic sources This bold volume uncovers alliances and ruptures textual cultural and generic obscured by document based approaches to rabbinic literature This important book presents a series of new introductions to rabbinic literature Ishay Rosen Zvi Tel Aviv University BMCR 2024 10 05 The Orthodox Church in the Arab World, 700-1700 Samuel Noble, Alexander Treiger, 2014-03-15 All of the texts chosen for this volume are interesting in their own right but the collection of these sources into a single volume with helpful introductions and bibliographies makes this book an invaluable resource for the study of Arabic Christianity and indeed the history of Christianity more broadly Hugoye Journal of Syriac Studies Arabic was among the first languages in which the Gospel was preached The Book of Acts mentions Arabs as being present at the first Pentecost in Jerusalem where they heard the Christian message in their native tongue Christian literature in Arabic is at least 1 300 years old the oldest surviving texts dating from the 8th century Pre modern Arab Christian literature embraces such diverse genres as Arabic translations of the Bible and the Church Fathers biblical commentaries lives of the saints theological and polemical treatises devotional poetry philosophy medicine and history Yet in the Western historiography of Christianity the Arab Christian Middle East is treated only peripherally if at all The first of its kind this anthology makes accessible in English representative selections from major Arab Christian works written between the eighth and eighteenth centuries The translations are idiomatic while preserving the character of the original The popular assumption is that in the wake of the Islamic conquests Christianity abandoned the Middle East to flourish elsewhere leaving its original heartland devoid of an indigenous Christian presence Until now several of these important texts have remained unpublished or unavailable in English Translated by leading scholars these texts represent the major genres of Orthodox literature in Arabic Noble and Treiger provide an introduction that helps form a comprehensive history of Christians within the Muslim world The collection marks an important contribution to the history of medieval Christianity and the history of the medieval Near East

The Idea of Biblical Interpretation James L. Kugel, Judith H. Newman, Judith Hood Newman, 2004 In this Festschrift James Kugel's creative scholarship in biblical interpretation provides the inspiration for a wide ranging collection of essays that treat the history of Jewish and Christian scriptural interpretation from antiquity to the present
