Negotiating Identities:

Negotiating Identities Riva Kastoryano, 2021-08-10 Immigration is even more hotly debated in Europe than in the United States In this pivotal work of action and discourse analysis Riva Kastoryano draws on extensive fieldwork including interviews with politicians immigrant leaders and militants to analyze interactions between states and immigrants in France and Germany Making frequent comparisons to the United States she delineates the role of states in constructing group identities and measures the impact of immigrant organization and mobilization on national identity Kastoryano argues that states contribute directly and indirectly to the elaboration of immigrants identity in part by articulating the grounds on which their groups are granted legitimacy Conversely immigrant organizations demanding recognition often redefine national identity by reinforcing or modifying traditional sentiments They use culture national references in Germany and religion in France to negotiate new political identities in ways that alter state composition and lead the state to negotiate its identity as well Despite their different histories Kastoryano finds that Germany France and the United States are converging in their policies toward immigration control and integration All three have adopted similar tactics and made similar institutional adjustments in their efforts to reconcile differences while tending national integrity The author builds her observations into a model of negotiations of identities useful to a broad cross section of social scientists and policy specialists She extends her analysis to consider how the European Union and transnational networks affect identities still negotiated at the national level The result is a forward thinking book that illuminates immigration from a new angle

Negotiating Identities Anders Runesson, Cecilia Wassén, Karin Hedner Zetterholm, Magnus Zetterholm, 2022-10-03 Covering the period from 200 BCE to 600 CE this book describes important aspects of identity formation processes within early Judaism and Christianity and shows how negotiations involving issues of ethnicity stereotyping purity commensality and institution building contributed to the forming of group identities Over time some of these Jewish group identities evolved into non Jewish Christian identities others into a rabbinic Jewish identity while yet others remained somewhere in between The contributors to this volume trace these developments in archaeological remains as well as in texts from the Qumran movement the New Testament and the reception of Paul's writings rabbinic literature and apocryphal and pseudepigraphical writings such as the Book of Dreams and the Pseudo Clementine Homilies The long timespan covered in the volume together with the combined expertise of scholars from various fields make this book a unique contribution to research on group identity Jewish and Christian identity formation the Partings of the ways between Judaism and Christianity and interactions between Jews and Christians
