THE DIGESTIVE SYSTEM

Mouth: The digestive process begins in the mouth. Food is partly broken down by the process of chewing and by the chemical action of salivary amylase (these enzymes are produced by the salivary glands and break down starches into smaller molecules).

On the way to the stomach:

Esophagus: After being chewed and swallowed, the food enters the esophagus. The esophagus is a long tube that runs from the mouth to the stomach. It uses rhythmic, wave-like muscle movements (called peristalsis) to force food from the throat into the stomach. This muscle movement gives us the ability to eat or drink even when we're upside-down.

Stomach: The stomach is a large, sack-like organ that churns the food and bathes it in a very strong acid (gastric acid). Food in the stomach that is partly digested and mixed with stomach acids is called chyme.

Small intestine: Absorption happens in the small intestine. Bile (produced in the liver and stored in the gall bladder), pancreatic enzymes, and other digestive enzymes produced by the inner wall of the small intestine help in the breakdown of food.

Large intestine: Undigested food passes in the large intestine. In the large intestine, some of the water and electrolytes (chemicals like sodium) are removed from the food.

The end of the process: Solid waste is then stored in the rectum until it is excreted via the anus.
