Passionate Politics Essays 1968 1986:

Passionate Politics Charlotte Bunch, 1988-04-01 Essays discuss feminism reform lesbianism education the media and the status of women around the world Feminist Theory Reader Carole Ruth McCann, Seung-Kyung Kim, 2003 Feminist Theory Reader is an anthology of classic and contemporary works of feminist theory organized around the goal of providing both local and global perspectives Academic Reading - Second Edition Janet Giltrow, 2002-03-21 This reader has been designed to accompany Giltrow's Academic Writing one of the key principles of which is that there is a close connection between the processes of reading and of writing academic prose Each reading is preceded by introductory commentary questions and suggestions for discussion and the book also includes a brief general introduction As with Giltrow's Academic Writing her Academic Reading is a challenging text At its core are examples of actual academic writing of the sort that students must learn to deal with daily and to write themselves As newcomers to the scholarly community students can find that community's ways of reading and writing mysterious unpredictable and intimidating Academic Reading demystifies the scholarly genres shedding light on their discursive conventions Throughout Academic Reading respects the student writer it engages the reader's interest without ever condescending and it avoids entirely the arbitrary and the dogmatic The second edition is expanded to include twenty one selections nineteen of which come from scholarly publications and more than half of which are new to this edition Women in Agriculture Worldwide Amber Fletcher, Wendee Kubik, 2016-07-01 Over the past two decades existing documentation of women in the agricultural sector has surveyed topics such as agricultural restructuring and land reform international trade agreements and food trade land ownership and rural development and rural feminisms Many studies have focused on either the high income countries of the global North or the low income countries of the global South This separation suggests that the North has little to learn from the South or that there is little shared commonality across the global dividing line Fletcher and Kubik cross this political economic and ideological division by drawing together authors from 5 continents They discuss the situation for women in agriculture in 13 countries worldwide with two chapters that cover international contexts The authors blur the boundaries between academic and organizational authors and their contributors include university based researchers gender experts development consultants and staff of agricultural research centers and international organizations i.e. Oxfam the United Nations World Food Program The common thread connecting these diverse authors is an emphasis on practical and concrete solutions to address the challenges such as lack of access to resources and infrastructure lack of household decision making power and gender biases in policymaking and leadership still faced by women in agriculture around the world Ongoing issues in climate change will exacerbate many of these issues and several chapters also address environment and sustainability This book is of great interest to readers in the areas of gender studies agriculture policy studies environmental studies development and international studies

Feminist Revolution in Literacy Junko Onosaka, 2013-10-14 This book examines the history of women's bookstores in the

US from the 1970s to the 1990s It establishes that women s bookstores played an important role in feminism by enabling the dissemination of women s voices and thereby helping to sustain and enrich the women s movement They improved women s literacy their abilities to read write publish and distribute women s voices and visions and helped women to instigate a feminist revolution in literacy

Queering Marriage Katrina Kimport,2013-11-21 Over four thousand gay and lesbian couples married in the city of San Francisco in 2004 The first large scale occurrence of legal same sex marriage these unions galvanized a movement and reignited the debate about whether same sex marriage as some hope challenges heterosexual privilege or as others fear preserves that privilege by assimilating queer couples In Queering Marriage Katrina Kimport uses in depth interviews with participants in the San Francisco weddings to argue that same sex marriage cannot be understood as simply entrenching or contesting heterosexual privilege Instead she contends these new legally sanctioned relationships can both reinforce as well as disrupt the association of marriage and heterosexuality During her deeply personal conversations with same sex spouses Kimport learned that the majority of respondents did characterize their marriages as an opportunity to contest heterosexual privilege Yet in a seeming contradiction nearly as many also cited their desire for access to the normative benefits of matrimony including social recognition and legal rights Kimport s research revealed that the pattern of ascribing meaning to marriage varied by parenthood status and in turn by gender Lesbian parents were more likely to embrace normative meanings for their unions those who are not parents were more likely to define their relationships as attempts to contest dominant understandings of marriage By posing the question can queers queer marriage Kimport provides a nuanced accessible and theoretically grounded framework for understanding the powerful effect of heterosexual expectations on both sexual and social categories

Partial Visions Angelika Bammer,2012-12-06 Positing that a radical utopianism is one of the most vital impulses of feminist politics Partial Visions traces the articulation of this impulse in the work of Euro American French and German women writers of the 1970s It argues that this feminist utopianism both continued and reconceptualized a critical dimension of Left politics yet concludes that feminist utopianism is not just visionary but myopic time and culture bound as well

When Women Ask the Questions Marilyn Jacoby Boxer, 2001-09-28 In When Women Ask the Questions Marilyn Boxer traces the successes and failures of women's studies examines the field's enduring impact on the world of higher education and concludes that the rise of women's studies has challenged the university in the same way that feminism has challenged society at large Drawing on her experiences as a historian feminist academic administrator and former chair of a women's studies program Boxer observes that by working for justice and for changes necessary to make the attainment of justice a practical possibility women's studies ensures that women are heard in the processes and places where knowledge is created taught and preserved The intellectual transformation behind the emergence of women's studies Boxer concludes is one of historic proportions Like other great moments in human experience it has given rise to a flowering of art literature and science and to the challenging of previously accepted authorities of text and tradition

International Refugee Law H?ne Lambert, 2017-07-05 The essays selected and reproduced in this volume explore how international refugee law is dynamic and constantly evolving From an instrument designed to protect mostly those civilians fleeing the worse excesses of World War II the 1951 Refugee Convention has developed into a set of principles customary rules and values that are now firmly embedded in the human rights framework and are applicable to a far broader range of refugees In addition international refugee law has been affected by international humanitarian law and international criminal law and vice versa Thus there is a reinforcing dynamic in the development of these complementary areas of law At the same time in recent decades states have shown a renewed interest in managing migration thereby raising issues of how to reconcile such interests with refugee protection principles In addition the emergence of concepts of participation and responsibility to protect promise to have an impact on international refugee law
