Parties, Politics, and Democracy in the New Southern Europe P. Nikiforos Diamandouros, Richard Gunther, 2001-06-11 In the acclaimed Politics of Democratic Consolidation Nikiforos Diamandouros Richard Gunther and their co authors showed how democratization unfolded in Greece Italy Portugal and Spain culminating in consolidated democratic regimes This volume continues that analysis posing the basic question What kind of democratic politics emerged in those countries It presents systematic analyses of the basic institutions of government and of the dynamics of electoral competition in the four countries set in comparative context alongside several other democracies as well as detailed studies of the evolution of the major parties their electorates their ideologies and their performances in government over the past twenty years The authors reach two major conclusions First the new democracies salient features are moderation centripetalism and the democratization of erstwhile antisystem parties on the Right and Left Second no single Southern European model has emerged the systems differ from one another about as much as do the other established democracies of Europe Contributors P Nikiforos Diamandouros University of Athens Richard Gunther Ohio State University Thomas C Bruneau Naval Postgraduate School Monterey Arend Lijphart University of California at San Diego Leonardo Morlino University of Florence Risa A Brooks Stanford University Jos R Montero Autonomous University of Madrid Giacomo Sani University of Pavia Paolo Segatti University of Trieste Gianfranco Pasquino University of Bologna Takis S Pappas College Year Athens Hans Jrgen Puhle Goethe University Frankfurt am Main Anna Bosco University of Trieste The Dynamics of Democratization Geoffrey Pridham, 2001-01-01 A systematic comparison of three cases of democratization and regime transformation in Europe since 1945 this book highlights diversities of historical context The 1999-2000 Elections in Russia Vicki L. the framing of a new opportunity structure during the 1990s which facilitated the first serious but ultimately frustrated attempt to broker a settlement In the light of different theoretical and comparative approaches the reasons for the dramatic return of terrorism and the possibilities of a more successful conflict de escalation in the near future are discussed

The Politics and Memory of Democratic Transition Diego Muro, Gregorio Alonso, 2010-11-23 Most accounts on the Spanish transition to democracy of the late 1970s are based on a false dilemma Its simplest formulation could be was it the pressure from below i e the organized working classes students and neighbors associations that triggered political change or was the elite settlement reached by the regime soft liners and the moderate sectors of the democratic opposition that established it This new and innovative volume appraises the movement towards a more democratic Spain from a variety of important perspectives the collection of essays sheds light on the wide range of crucial processes institutions and actors involved in the political transformation that operated in the Spanish instance of the Third Wave of democratization By making comparisons to other democratic transitions synthesizing the ideas of several leading Spanish History scholars as well as incorporating new voices involved in creating the directions of research to come The Politics and Memory of Democratic Transition offers a thorough and vital look at this key period in contemporary Spanish history taking stock of critical lessons to be gleaned from the Spanish Transition and pointing the way toward its future as a democratic nation

Democratic Consolidation in Eastern Europe: Volume 2: International and Transnational Factors Jan Zielonka, Alex Pravda, 2001-06-14 This is the second volume in a two volume series of books on democratic consolidation in Eastern Europe The first volume focused on the issue of institutional engineering This second volume analyses the external parameters of democratic consolidation in thirteen Eastern European countries how different international actors and various economic cultural and security types of transnational pressures have shaped democratic politics in the region The aim is to contrast a set of democracy theories with empirical evidence accumulated in Eastern Europe over the last ten years The volume tries to avoid complex debates about definitions methods and the uses and misuses of comparative research Instead it seeks to establish what has really happened in the region and which of the existing theories are helpful in explaining these developments The volume is divided into two parts The first part presents a conceptual and comparative frame of analysis the second consists of detailed studies of individual countries undergoing democratic consolidation Case study chapters deal with the following countries Estonia and Latvia Hungary Poland the Czech Republic Slovakia Romania Bulgaria and Macedonia the states of former Yugoslavia Belarus and Ukraine and finally Russia The concluding chapter identifies a set of variables responsible for the enormous impact of external factors on democratic consolidation in Eastern Europe It conceptualises the interplay of internal and external factors impinging upon democracy and shows the interplay of different positive and negative types of external pressures It also evaluates the conscious Western effort to craft or engineer democracy in Eastern Europe
