Reinhabiting Reality Towards A Recovery Of Culture:

Reinhabiting Reality Freya Mathews, 2005-02-03 Argues that the environmental crisis is symptomatic of much deeper crises in modern civilization

Reinhabiting Reality Freya Mathews, 2012-02-01 In this sequel to For Love of Matter A Contemporary Panpsychism also published by SUNY Press Freya Mathews argues that replacing the materialist premise of modern civilization with a panpsychist one transforms the entire fabric of culture in profound ways She claims that the environmental crisis is a symptom of deeper issues facing modern civilization arising from the loss of the very meaning of culture To come to grips with this crisis requires a change in the metaphysical premise of modernity deeper than any as yet envisaged even by the radical ecology movement This is a change with profound implications for the full range of existential questions and not merely for questions regarding our relationship with nature

The Eye of the Crocodile Val Plumwood, 2012-11-01 Val Plumwood was an eminent environmental philosopher and activist who was prominent in the development of radical ecophilosophy from the early 1970s until her death in 2008 Her book Feminism and the Mastery of Nature 1992 has become a classic In 1985 she was attacked by a crocodile while kayaking alone in the Kakadu national park in the Northern Territory She was death rolled three times before being released from the crocodile's jaws She crawled for hours through swamp with appalling injuries before being rescued The experience made her well placed to write about cultural responses to death and predation The first section of The Eye of the Crocodile consists of chapters intended for a book on crocodiles that remained unfinished at the time of Val's death The remaining chapters are previously published papers brought together to form an overview of Val's ideas on death predation and nature

Climate Change and Environmental Ethics Ved P. Nanda, 2012-09-30 There is a broad consensus that climate change presents the international community with a formidable challenge Yet progress on all fronts prevention mitigation and adaptation has been slow Ved P Nanda finds an explanation for this disparity in the sharp divide between the developed and developing countries Developing countries demand that major industrialized nations provide the necessary resources and technology to address climate change while many developed countries seek firm commitments and timetables on action from the developing countries The result is a stalemate Climate Change and Environmental Ethics contains first rate research and thinking from scholars from multiple disciplines ethics ecology philosophy economics political science history and international law What distinguishes this volume from recent work on climate change are two of its special features One is the multi disciplinary backgrounds of the scholars their stellar experiences and the wisdom with which they express not simply their philosophy and theory but also their suggestions for concrete specific action in practical terms The second is the special niche this volume fills in its overarching theme of the need for a renewed environmental ethic that can bring together these disparate but interconnected views This volume explores alternative ways of conceiving our relation to the natural world A spirit of international cooperation and collaboration is needed to meet the challenge The reader is compelled to think anew about our understanding of the scientific and technical issues as well as our values and ethical responsibilities regarding climate change

Roots, Routes and a New Awakening Ananta Kumar Giri, 2021-03-01 This book seeks to find creative and transformative relationship among roots and routes and create a new dynamics of awakening so that we can overcome the problems of closed and xenophobic roots and rootless cosmopolitanism The book draws upon multiple philosophical and spiritual traditions of the world such as Siva Tantra Buddhist phenomenology and Peircean Semiotics and discusses the works of Ibn Arabi Thoreau Tolstoy Gandhi and Raimon Panikkar among others The book is transdisciplinary building on creative thinking from philosophy anthropology political studies and literature It is a unique contribution for forging a new relationship between roots and routes in our contemporary fragile and complex world

The Denial of Nature Arne Johan Vetlesen, 2015-02-11 A study of the increasingly precarious relationship between humans and nature this book seeks to go beyond work already contributed to the environmental movement It does so by highlighting the importance of experiencing rather than merely theorizing nature while realizing that such experience is becoming increasingly rare thus reinforcing the estrangement from nature that is a source of its ongoing human caused destruction In his original approach to environmental philosophy the author argues for the reinstatement of nature's value outside of its exploitative usefulness for human ends Such a perspective emphasizes the extent to which the environmental problem is a concrete reality requiring urgent action based on a multi sensuous appreciation of humans dependence on nonhuman lifeforms Designed as an accompaniment to undergraduate and postgraduate research The Denial of Nature draws on empirically informed literature from the social sciences to examine what life is really like for humans and nature in the era of global capitalism The book contends that capitalist society exploits nature both in the form of human capital and natural capital more relentlessly than any other and offers an environmental philosophy which actively opposes current developments Through discussions of the work of Teresa Brennan Theodor Adorno Martin Heidegger and Hans Jonas and through a radical critique of the nature deficit in Jürgen Habermas theory of capitalist modernity The Denial of Nature relies on insights from Critical Realism to bring together several seldom linked philosophies and suggest a new approach to the heavily discussed question of environmental ethics Arne Johan Vetlesen is Professor of Philosophy at the University of Oslo Norway and the author of twenty books among them Perception Empathy and Judgment An Inquiry into the Preconditions of Moral Performance 1994 Closeness An Ethics with Heidegger 1997 Evil and Human Agency 2005 and A Philosophy of Pain 2010

In Search of Grace Peter Reason, 2017-10-27 To recover from ecological disaster we humans must transform the sense of who we are in relation to the Earth In Search of Grace is the story of an ecological pilgrimage undertaken by the author in his small yacht Coral from the south of England and round the west coast of Ireland to the far north of Scotland It explores themes of pilgrimage the overall pattern of separation from the everyday venturing forth and returning home It tells of meeting wildlife visiting sacred places confronting danger expanding and deepening the experience of time of silence and of fragility
