Young,1993-11-18 Just as a mirror captures a large area within its small limit this journal reflects the otherwise far ranging and far reaching phenomena that are categorized as women and religion The Annual Review of Women in World

Religions has been conceived as a forum for the latest historical and anthropological research on women in all religions It is also a form for discussion of contemporary trends such as the influence of secularism fundamentalism or feminism on women and religion Accordingly it contributes to the on going project to add to our basic knowledge about women and helps evaluate the past as well as the present through insights generated by gender studies today Within the boundaries of academic scholarship the editors seek to include the research of those who are both inside and outside the traditions Moreover the book encourages women and men of all beliefs to participate in the on going dialogue which it represents and promotes This journal is polymethodic interdisciplinary and multitradeitional in its approach to the study of women and religion It not only allows the comparative dimension to appear in bolder relief but also helps to establish a dialogue between the two solitudes of humanistic and social scientific studies in the field Volume III contains the following essays Rabi ah as Mystic Muslim and Woman by Barbara Lois Helms Slighted Grandmothers The Need for Increased Study of Female Spirits and Spirituality in Native American Religions by Jordan Paper Women of Medieval South India in Hindu Temple Ritual Text and Practice by Leslie C Orr and Confucianism and Women in Modern Korea Continuity Change and Conflict by Edward Y J Chung

Hiers,2012-05-03 In this volume Richard Hiers challenges the popular assumption that the Bible has a low view of women and that biblical law either ignores women or requires them to be subject and subservient to men He does so by identifying and carefully examining hundreds of biblical texts and allowing them to speak for themselves Among the findings that biblical tradition generally represents women positively as strong and independent persons that no text represents wives as subject to their husbands and that no biblical law requires such subjection that biblical laws provide many protections for women s rights and interests in several instances rights equal to those enjoyed by men The book focuses particularly on the Old Testament and Old Testament law and argues that Old Testament laws and their underlying values provide important resources for Christian ethics and social policy today and historical moments of cultural exchange between Muslim and Western cultures through female dress the book tells a third story beyond the binary model of an assumed modest oppressed traditional Muslim woman vis vis consumer emancipated modern Western woman in mainstream Western discourse and literary representation     Reflecting Mirrors, East and West: Transcultural Comparisons of Advice Literature for Rulers (8th - 13th century) Enrico Boccaccini, 2021-11-15 In Reflecting Mirrors East and West Enrico Boccaccini sheds new light on Mirrors for Princes the pre modern genre of advice literature for rulers A popular genre in the societies that emerged from the Late Antique oecumene Mirrors for Princes are considered here for the first time as a transcultural phenomenon that challenges the dichotomy of the Orient and the Occident Traditionally the historiographic tradition has viewed European and Middle Eastern Mirrors as distinct and incommensurable Analyzing the contents and discourses in four Mirrors ostensibly separated by space time and language Enrico Boccaccini convincingly draws out the surprising continuities between these texts while also showing how they are embedded in their own historical literary and political context
