History of the Literary Cultures of East-Central Europe Marcel Cornis-Pope, John Neubauer, 2006-09-13 Continuing the work undertaken in Vol 1 of the History of the Literary Cultures of East Central Europe Vol 2 considers various topographic sites multicultural cities border areas cross cultural corridors multiethnic regions that cut across national boundaries rendering them permeable to the flow of hybrid cultural messages By focusing on the literary cultures of specific geographical locations this volume intends to put into practice a new type of comparative study Traditional comparative literary studies establish transnational comparisons and contrasts but thereby reconfirm however inadvertently the very national borders they play down This volume inverts the expansive momentum of comparative studies towards ever broader regional European and world literary histories While the theater of this volume is still the literary culture of East Central Europe the contributors focus on pinpointed local traditions and geographic nodal points Their histories of Riga Plovdiv Timi oara or Budapest of Transylvania or the Danube corridor to take a few examples reveal how each of these sites was during the last two hundred years a home for a variety of foreign or ethnic literary traditions next to the one now dominant within the national borders By foregrounding such non national or hybrid traditions this volume pleads for a diversification and pluralization of local and national histories A genuine comparatist revival of literary history should involve the recognition that treading on native grounds means actually treading on grounds cultivated by diverse people Inseparable Faris Cassell, 2023-09-12 See the Holocaust through the Eyes of Children Stefan and Marion Hess s happy childhood was shattered in 1943 Torn from their home in Amsterdam the six year old twins and their parents were deported to a place their mother

called this dying hell the infamous concentration camp at Bergen Belsen Inseparable is the vivid account of one family's struggle to survive the Holocaust In the camp the children ran from SS soldiers making it a game to see who could get closest to the guard towers before being warned they would be shot Stefan and Marion witnessed their father beaten beyond recognition dodged strafing warplanes and somehow survived in a place where the children were looking for bread between the corpses Above all this is the unforgettable story of a young mother and father who were willing to sacrifice everything for their children From the Hesses prosperous pre war life in Germany to their desperate ride in a bulletstrafed boxcar through the rubble of the collapsing Third Reich Faris Cassell weaves Stefan and Marion's personal memories and historical details into a gripping narration of their family's heroic fight for their lives As the number of Holocaust survivors dwindles the Hess twins account of their childhood ordeal forces the reader to grapple with pure evil And more important it is an opportunity to offer the most meaningful of tributes to victims and survivors of the Third Reich remembrance New York Magazine, 1992-09-14 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea
