Remaking The Body Explorations In Embodiment:

Remaking the Body Wendy Seymour, 2012-11-12 In Remaking the Body Wendy Seymour interviews men and women who have suffered profound bodily paralysis and explores how they deal with their appearance relationships sexuality incontinence and sport She finds that even major impairment hasn't annihilated these people's experience of an embodied self She shows that the process of self reconstruction is interwoven with social expectations and argues that the experience of disability highlights the continuous work involved in embodiment for everyone Remaking the Body is a major contribution to the field of the sociology of the body and essential reading for rehabilitation professionals and students

Remaking the Body Wendy Seymour, 1995

Remaking Humanity Adam Beyt, 2024-08-22 Drawing upon Edward Schillebeeckx's theology and Judith Butler's philosophy Adam Beyt uses the framework of nonviolent hope to construct a Catholic political theology responding to dehumanizing violence Dehumanizing violence names words institutions or acts violating the inherent dignity of being made in the image and likeness of God Theology can participate in dehumanizing violence by claiming an uninterrogated universality that marginalizes bodies due to their perceived differences such as gender race sexuality or ability The book's constructive project integrates Schillebeeckx's and Butler's thought with queer theory and phenomenology to model embodiment as an enfleshing dynamism between bodies and signification The text then posits Catholic discipleship as incarnating hope by defending the humanum the new humanity announced through God's Reign Combining reflections from Schillebeeckx and Butler this hope centers discipleship as nonviolent world building Concluding with a sustained reflection with the writings of Franz Fanon and Walter Benjamin the final chapter sketches a Catholic solidaristic response to contemporary struggles against the necropolitics of colonizing and state violence through assemblies of hope
