

Technology's Impact: Benefits and Consequences - Essay Sample Essay

Introduction

Technology has had both positive and negative impacts. Over the years, there has been a great advancement in technology with the invention of mobile phones, computers, cars, and robots. Social media has also been a great addition that has changed communication turning the world into a global village. This advancement in technology has had numerous advantages in various sectors such as business, healthcare, the environment, and security. However, there have also been unintended consequences of technology, such as environmental degradation. With both positive and negative impacts, there is a need to pose the question, are advancements in technology worth it? Some of the disadvantages of technology include widespread terrorism, cyberbullying, and invasion of privacy (Bilton). Although technology has several disadvantages, the benefits it has brought, such as improved healthcare, globalization, enhanced security, and improved standards of living, have had a more significant impact, thus the need to foster further advancement.

Advantages of Technology in Business

Technology has revolutionized the world of business by offering countless advantages. There has been increased ease of communication due to numerous platforms that are faster and more reliable. In the past, businesses would send letters or a person to deliver a message. Slowly, technology has advanced with the use of mobile phones to make calls, emails, teleconferencing through video calls, which have improved businesses. Technology has also led to globalization, which has greatly benefitted businesses. Today, companies have branches worldwide, such as Walmart, which has led to increased profit margins. Companies like Amazon have taken advantage of the global outreach through online platforms to market, sell, and deliver products to customers. Consumers can browse through a catalog of products, even food, and have it delivered at the comfort of their homes. Delivery orders have never been as crucial as now when Covid-19 has forced people to remain indoors. The Guardian reported that companies such as Amazon and Uber Eats were forced to increase their workforce following a surge in the number of orders (Noor and Renwick). As a result of advancements in technology, businesses have grown and reaped high profits due to globalization and increased efficiency.

Benefits of Technology in Healthcare

Technology has led to improved healthcare. There have been new inventions in terms of machinery, vaccines, and diseases that have improved the health of people across the world. At present, the world has been brought to a halt following the spread of Covid-19. The world is thus reliant on technology with ongoing research to develop a cure or a vaccine. According to the United Nations, the infant mortality rate has dropped by 47 percent since 1990 (UN Millennium Development Goals). Health information technology has also been a great addition that has led to computerized patient records. Medical professionals can, therefore, gain access to the record of patients to make a better diagnosis and offer appropriate medications. This change has led to an improvement in patient safety due to decreased medication errors and increased accountability in the healthcare profession.
