

In no other division of the Animal Kingdom is found so remarkable a variety of forms as prevails among the Insects. In the picture are brought together, from many parts of the world, a few examples to show at a glance a little of this variety. Insects live for life in the air, upon and in trees, in and on the earth, others for existence in the waters. Here are beetles brilliant as gems, butterflies and moths of sombre hue and gorgeous colouring, bugs as bright and as quaint in form; wasps, bees, cicada and stick-insect; may-flies on the water, and termites' hills on the further shore. Each has a story of great interest; and all these stories will be found in the pages beyond.
