Mediapolitik How The Mass Media Have Transformed World Politics:

Mediapolitik Lee Edwards, 2001 Drawing upon his lifelong study of politics and journalism political historian Lee Edwards offers the first scholarly examination of a powerful new phenomenon in world politics the mass media Edwards argues in his far ranging and innovative work that the media have become as important a factor in determining the course of international affairs and the future of nations as economic prosperity military strength natural resources and national will The author calls this vital new component of world politics mediapolitik He uses case studies from around the world to show how the mass media have influenced and even determined the outcome of major political acts such as the collapse of communism in Eastern and Central Europe the Tiananmen Square massacre in China the ousting of Chilean dictator Augusto Pinochet and the political resurrection of South Africa s Nelson Mandela The author argues that these case studies show that the mass media can either enrich or enslave the human spirit depending upon their moral foundation If the media follow a liberal democratic model as in the United States and Western Europe they contribute to a free and just society If they follow an authoritarian model as in South Africa before Mandela or a totalitarian model as in Saddam Hussein s Iraq or Fidel Castro s Cuba they perpetuate the regime in power and deny the fruits of freedom and democracy to the people Edwards addresses the question of how responsibly the American media the most influential media in the world handle their enormous power Using the results obtained from his survey of 100 leading journalists as well as close analysis of major news stories of the last decade the author confirms the rampant cynicism of the American media and its deleterious effect on American politics and government The solution he suggests is that American journalists must practice moral responsibility and strengthen the liberal democratic model of mediapolitik around the world

ABOUT THE AUTHOR Lee Edwards is senior fellow at the Heritage Foundation and adjunct associate professor of politics at The Catholic University of America He is senior editor of The World magazine and author or editor of numerous books including The Collapse of Communism The Conservative Revolution The Power of Ideas The Heritage Foundation at 25 Years and Goldwater The Man Who Made a Revolution

PRAISE FOR THE BOOK Mediapolitik is a broad gauged survey of what the mass media is and how it works around the world There is scarcely an issue or debate within media and media watching circles that Mr Edwards does not touch on and analyze with care and precision Reading Mediapolitik is the equivalent of at least a semester s worth of J School and more fun Washington Times Mediapolitik is superb a much needed comprehensive study of a crucial topic It is full of insight in its analysis and wisdom in its conclusions Peter W Rodman former Deputy Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs A revealing study of the mass media s impact on world politics You may not agree with all of his conclusions but Mediapolitik is well worth reading Hal Bruno former political director ABC News Edwards is a sterling advocate for more responsibility in journalism His cogent insights are always worthy of study and debate Stephen Hess The Brookings Institution author of The Little Book of Campaign Etiquette The author s case studies are valuable No one to my knowledge has presented such witnessed in the preceding century Throughout history there has been a close interaction between politics communication and armed conflict and a main line of investigation of this book is to track changes that are presumed to have occurred in the way and manner in which armed conflicts are waged Using cogent examples drawn variously from conflicts of the Arab Spring the Islamic State and Russian adventurism in South Ossetia Crimea and Eastern Ukraine the authors demonstrate the application of Information Warfare the practice of Hybrid Warfare and offensive use of diplomacy communications economics and international law to obtain political and military advantages against the status quo states of the international community The authors combine a theoretical framework with concrete empirical examples in order to create a better understanding and comprehension of the current events and processes that shape the character of contemporary armed conflicts and how they are informed and perceived in a highly mediatised and politicised world

News Media and EU-China Relations L. Zhang, 2011-04-11 An exploration of the role of the news media in the development of EU China relations after the end of the Cold War this book provides empirical evidence to support what Nye and Anholt have argued that branding a country's image is soft power The author examines the nature of European Union and China coverage in Chinese and European news media respectively and explores how the economics politics and journalistic practice interplay in shaping the coverage Based on this analysis the author delves into the relationship between the news media and their foreign policy toward each other in terms of both the general direction of policy making and the policy in a specific issue area Including not only content analysis of media coverage but also has first hand interview materials with the officials involved in the decision making process and the journalists involved in reporting the EU and China the book sheds light on the way in which the media construct the post Cold War world and therefore play a role in transforming international relations
