Education and Polity in Nepal Dharam Vir, 1988 The educational process appears to be a dialectical process being the centre of generation of new knowledge ideas and innovations and therefore it has a tendency to reflect upon political processes Intellectuals produced within its corridors generally raise the voice of dissent not only against the establishment but sometimes against the existing social structure itself Thus the relationship between education and polity is not unidimensional but a two way traffic Unveil the patterns of interaction between the polity and education the interplay between education and social stratification and the interaction between the education and the process of modernization Nepal the magnificent snow clad and ancient Himalayan kingdom is the focus of the work Review On the whole the book provides a very good analytical and empirical insight into the development of higher education in Nepal in the light of the socio political factors This book can be useful for a good reading for all those who are interested in the area of higher education Dr Sneha Joshi Review Projector Vol VIII Nos 10 12 The Statesman's Yearbook 2001 B. Azfar Moin,Alan Strathern,2022-05-10 Sacred kingship has been the core political form in small scale societies and in vast empires for much of world history This collaborative and interdisciplinary book recasts the relationship between religion and politics by exploring this institution in long term and global comparative perspective Editors A Azfar Moin and Alan Strathern present a theoretical framework for understanding sacred kingship which leading scholars reflect on and respond to in a series of essays They distinguish between two separate but complementary religious tendencies immanentism and transcendentalism which mold kings into divinized or righteous rulers respectively Whereas immanence demands priestly and cosmic rites from kings to sustain the flourishing of life transcendence turns the focus to salvation and subordinates rulers to higher ethical objectives Secular modernity does not end the struggle between immanence and transcendence flourishing and righteousness but only displaces it from kings onto nations and individuals After an essay by Marshall Sahlins that ranges from the Pacific to the Arctic the book contains chapters on religion and kingship in settings as far flung as ancient Egypt classical Greece medieval Islam Mughal India modern European drama and ISIS Sacred Kingship in World History sheds new light on how religion has constructed rulership with implications spanning global history religious studies political theory and anthropology Resistance and the State David Gellner,2007-04 There has been growing concern about failed states and since the massacre of the Royal family in Nepal in 2001 increasing media attention has focused on the decline of the state and the rise of the Maoist rebels This book explores the complex relationship between a modernizing developmentalist state and the people it professes to represent Peace Processes and Peace Accords Samir Kumar Das,2005-11-05 The second volume in the South Asian Peace Studies series Peace Processes and Peace Accords looks at the political question of peace from three perspectives the process of peace the contentious issues involved in the peace process and the ideologies that come in conflict in this process Arguing that peace is not a one time event to be achieved and rejoiced over but a matter to be sustained against various odds the contributors show that the sustainability of peace depends on a foundation of rights justice and democracy Peace accords they maintain are only a moment in the process the very act of signing an accord could mark either a continuation of the same conflict or simply its metamorphosis Therefore as this volume shows negotiation should be redefined as joint problem solving on a long term sustained basis rather than one off hard bargaining
