Nurtured By Knowledge Learning To Do Participatory Actionresearch:

Nurtured by Knowledge Susan Elizabeth Smith, Dennis George Willms, Nancy Arbuthnot Johnson, 1997 This book describes the struggle to build on a twenty five year approach to democratic social change and personal growth known as participatory action research PAR It based on the principle that people have a universal right to participate the production of knowledge that directly affects their lives The heart of the book is a series of compelling case studies of PAR and attempts to achieve it in such diverse places as Canada India Africa and Latin America The final chapter analyzes lessons from these case studies and explores the principles and evolving processes of the PAR methodology in striving to satisfy the need for liberation and recovery of community Back cover

Doing Ethnography Charlene Elizabeth Miall, Dorothy Pawluch, William Shaffir, 2005 Doing Ethnography is an essential text for courses in ethnography research methods qualitative emphasis applied sociology and related subjects across Canada This unique volume first considers the merits of qualitative research profiles interviewing strategies and discusses the relationships to respondents and how to write about social life The second portion of Doing Ethnography contains three sections constructing perspectives constructing identities as well as doing and relating Case studies and original research are featured throughout The editors Dorothy Pawluch William Shaffir and Charlene Miall emphasize the importance of studying social interaction In truth any question about society big or small is ultimately about people interacting with each other Whether the issue is changing gender relationships corporate deeds and misdeeds class structures or the school performance of children from cultural minorities it all comes down to one thing people doing things together

From Subjects to Subjectivities Deborah L. Tolman, Mary Brydon-Miller, 2001 From Subject to Subjectivities profiles the recent debates about the role of qualitative and participatory methods in psychology a discipline which has traditionally seen itself as a form of positivistic science Contributors explain how fundamentally different views of the nature of reality and of scientific theory have shaped these debates and how psychology is being transformed through the use of these methods At the heart of the book are 10 exemplars of interpretive and participatory action research which describe the rationale for and process of using these methods in actual cases They also articulate some of the challenges psychologists may face in adopting them offering insights into how these complications can be successfully negotiated Relevant beyond psychology the models provided can be used within the context of a wide array of social science disciplines from sociology and anthropology to women s studies and public health The contributors represent a veritable who s who of qualitative scholars including Lyn Mikel Brown Larry Davidson Michelle Fine Louise Kidder M Brinton Lykes Jeanne Marecek Abigail Stewart and Niobe Way No previous book has examined qualitative and participatory methods specifically within the context of psychology From Subjects to Subjectivities provides a unique and badly needed resource for those interested in learning about the practice of these methods in the field
