Passing Guest A Biography Of Henry Kingsley:

The Passing Guest John Stanton Davis Mellick,1983

Frontier Fictions Rebecca Weaver-Hightower,2018-11-28

This book compares the nineteenth century settler literatures of Australia Canada South Africa and the United States in order to examine how they enable readers to manage guilt accompanying European settlement Reading canonical texts such as Last of the Mohicans and Backwoods of Canada against underanalyzed texts such as Adventures in Canada and George Linton or the First Years of a British Colony it demonstrates how tropes like the settler hero and his indigenous servant the animal hunt the indigenous attack and the lost child cross national boundaries Settlers similarly responded to the stressors of taking another's land through the stories they told about themselves which functioned to defend against uncomfortable feelings of guilt and ambivalence by creating new versions of reality This book traces parallels in 20th and 21st century texts to ultimately argue that contemporary settlers continue to fight similar psychological and cultural battles since settlement is never complete

The Passing Guest J. S. D. Mellick,1983-01-01 Portrays the experiences of Henry Kingsley the author of The Recollections of Geoffry Hamlyn discusses his literary career and describes his travels in Australia

Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson,L.W. Conolly,2004-11-30 Post Colonial Literatures in English

together with English Literature and American Literature form one of the three major groupings of literature in English and as such are widely studied around the world Their significance derives from the richness and variety of experience which they reflect In three volumes this Encyclopedia documents the history and development of this body of work and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide

Rule of Darkness Patrick Brantlinger,2013-01-14 A major contribution to the cultural and literary history of the Victorian age Rule of Darkness maps the complex relationship between Victorian literary forms genres and theories and imperialist racist ideology Critics and cultural historians have usually regarded the Empire as being of marginal importance to early and mid Victorian writers Patrick Brantlinger asserts that the Empire was central to British culture as a source of ideological and artistic energy both supported by and lending support to widespread belief in racial superiority the need to transform savagery into civilization and the urgency of promoting emigration Rule of Darkness brings together material from public records memoirs popular culture and canonical literature Brantlinger explores the influence of the novels of Captain Frederick Marryat pioneer of British adolescent adventure fiction and shows the importance of William Makepeace Thackeray's experience of India to his novels He treats a number of Victorian best sellers previously ignored by literary historians including the Anglo Indian writer Philip Meadows Taylor's Confessions of a Thug and Seeta Brantlinger situates explorers narratives and travelogues by such famous author adventurers as David Livingstone and Sir Richard Burton in relation to other forms of Victorian and Edwardian prose Through readings of works by Arthur Conan Doyle Joseph

Conrad H Rider Haggard Rudyard Kipling John Hobson and many others he considers representations of Africa India and other non British parts of the world in both fiction and nonfiction The most comprehensive study yet of literature and imperialism in the early and mid Victorian years Rule of Darkness offers in addition a revisionary interpretation of imperialism as a significant factor in later British cultural history from the 1880s to World War I It is essential reading for anyone concerned with Victorian culture and society and more generally with the relationship between Victorian writers and imperialism and between racist ideology and patterns of domination in modern history The Country of Lost Children Peter Pierce,1999-06-07 This book traces the figure of the lost child in Australia s history and imagination Dictionary of Nineteenth-century Journalism in Great Britain and Ireland Laurel Brake,Marysa Demoor,2009 A large scale reference work covering the journalism industry in 19th Century Britain Creditable Warriors, 1830-1876 John McVeagh,1990 Discussing the period from the impact of Reform to the rise of Disraelian imperialism this volume assesses writers relations to British expansionism and the alternative of a growing Europeanism It considers re evaluation of Romantic responses to foreign travel the search abroad for civic images to oppose to industrialism and more Nineteenth Century Literature Criticism Jessica Menzo,Edna M. Hedblad,Russel Whitaker,2002-02 Presents literary criticism on the works of nineteenth century writers of all genres nations and cultures Critical essays are selected from leading sources including published journals magazines books reviews diaries broadsheets pamphlets and scholarly papers Criticism includes early views from the author s lifetime as well as later views including extensive collections of contemporary analysis Exploring Place in the Australian Landscape David S. Jones,2022-08-30 This book offers an original framework on how to investigate understand and translate sense of place at a regional scale The book explores contemporary sense of place theory and practice drawing upon the Western District of Victoria in Australia being the Country of the White Cockatoo It offers a unique multi temporal and thematical analytical approach towards comprehending and mapping the values that underpin and determine strengths of human relationships and nuances to this landscape Included is a deep ethno ecological and cross cultural translation that takes the reader through both the Western understanding of sense of place as well as the Australian Aboriginal understanding of Country Both are different intellectual constructions of thoughts values and ideologies but which share numerous commonalities due to their archetypal meanings feelings and values transmitted to humans
