Passions Blazing Triumph:

Passion's Blazing Triumph Melissa Hepburne, 1980-05-01 Fiery Passion Dawn Luedecke, 2018-09-11

Passion and honor collide in the wild and rugged American West where one woman's love of adventure is matched by her desire for one man. Victoria Harrison had no desire to marry to secure her position as heir to her family's lumber business. And she doesn't want to seek a man's help now. But with her prized Great Mountain Lumber Mill threatened by one of her father's old enemies, she needs an ally. She's found one in Wall Adair, the handsome new leader of the notorious gang of rivermen known as the Devil May Cares. It takes a lot of guts to run the biggest mill this side of the Rocky Mountains, and Wall admires Victoria's determination to do it on her own terms. With each day they spend together, he uncovers a vulnerability hidden deep behind her strong facade. Wall has a duty to uphold one that'll soon call him away from the freedom he loves and back to his family's ranch. Until then, he'll protect the boss lady with every ounce of his strength, knowing the devil himself can't keep him from losing his heart. Well-written, well-researched. Like the river, this plot runs faster and faster. Readers won't be able to put it down. New York Times bestselling author Jodi Thomas on White Water Passion. Reading the Romance Janice A. Radway, 2009-11-18. Originally published in 1984, Reading the Romance challenges popular and often demeaning myths about why romantic fiction, one of publishing's most lucrative categories, captivates millions of women readers. Among those who have disparaged romance reading are feminists, literary critics, and theorists of mass culture. They claim that romances enforce the woman reader's dependence on men and acceptance of the repressive ideology purveyed by popular culture. Radway questions such claims, arguing that critical attention must shift from the text itself, taken in isolation, to the complex social event of reading. She examines that event from the complicated business of publishing and distribution to the individual reader's engagement with the text. Radway's provocative approach combines reader response criticism with anthropology and feminist psychology. Asking readers themselves to explore their reading motives, habits, and rewards, she conducted interviews in a midwestern town with forty-two romance readers whom she met through Dorothy Evans, a chain bookstore employee who has earned a reputation as an expert on romantic fiction. Evans defends her customers' choice of entertainment reading; romances, she tells Radway, is no more harmful than watching sports on television. "We read books so we won't cry" is the poignant explanation one woman offers for her reading habit. Indeed, Radway found that while the women she studied devote themselves to nurturing their families, these wives and mothers receive insufficient devotion or nurturance in return. In romances, the women find not only escape from the demanding and often tiresome routines of their lives but also a hero who supplies the tenderness and admiring attention that they have learned not to expect. The heroines admired by Radway's group defy the expected stereotypes; they are strong, independent, and intelligent. That such characters often find themselves to be victims of male aggression and almost always resign themselves to accepting conventional roles in life has less to do, Radway argues, with the women readers' fantasies and choices than with their need to deal with a fear of masculine dominance These romance readers resent not only the limited choices in their own lives but the patronizing attitude that men especially express toward their reading tastes In fact women read romances both to protest and to escape temporarily the narrowly defined role prescribed for them by a patriarchal culture Paradoxically the books that they read make conventional roles for women seem desirable It is this complex relationship between culture text and woman reader that Radway urges feminists to address Romance readers she argues should be encouraged to deliver their protests in the arena of actual social relations rather than to act them out in the solitude of the imagination In a new introduction Janice Radway places the book within the context of current scholarship and offers both an explanation and critique of the study's limitations Eldens

Relationships contains a powerful vision that offers humanity a path to coupledness not as a privatized escape or preoccupation but a path to evolve into dedicated activists whose combined purpose is to utilize their resources to help and sustain the planet and which does not forsake but includes the pleasure of personal fulfillment between the bonded pair They can enjoy the fullness of divine human love in the depths of their own personal relationship supporting each other's authenticity but also enjoy it in the ways that those healing depths make them powerful and strong and lucid and vibrant enough to go out into the world and pour their gifts out for the transformation of the planet What is really at stake is this If we continue to have a vision of relationship as purely personal purely private and something that we cultivate only for our own pleasure we will keep feeding the tragic narcissism that is now ravaging the planet on every level The real thrust and purpose and divine importance of relationship is to give us the fuel to take on the world to give us the passion to embrace the causes of justice to give us the energy to keep on pouring ourselves out for the transformation of the planet With a foreword by An Uncommon Bond author Jeff Brown this inspiring book shows us the way to turn our love relationship into a prayer for world transformation And not just a passive prayer but a prayer in action impassioning the world with a bonfire of sacred and benevolent activism that cannot be stopped This prayer may well save us The Book Book Steven Gilbar,1985 Blazing Texas Nights Victoria Thompson,1992-03-01 A Hired Gunslinger Romance 4 From Romantic Times Career Achievement Award Winner and New York Times bestseller Victoria Thompson a sensual tale of historical romance in the American Wild West Ms Thompson imbues her characters with strength eloquence and dignity Romantic Times Strong willed Heiress Fiery Leah Harding has her hands full protecting her family's vast ranch from scheming land grabbers So when ruggedly handsome gunslinger Calhoun Stevens suddenly shows up with an unproven claim on her family she swears to test his determination to its limits and scare him off for good But as Leah looks into his blazing blue eyes and finds herself melting under kisses as hot as a Texas sun she suddenly doesn't mind if he stays by her side and in her arms forever A Composed Gunslinger To set his past to rights Calhoun Stevens has to convince the headstrong Miss Harding that he's an honest man He's resolved to save her land and do his best to forget her tempting shimmering fall of brown hair and inviting dark eyes But once he feels the enchanting spitfire's slender body close to his Cal is lost to a passion that means more to him than any ranch possibly could
