Preschool Connections:

Enduring Connections Janice A Haywood, 2007-06-01 Enduring Connections gives churches and ministers significant guidelines for establishing a quality childhood ministry with preschoolers and grade schoolers Enduring Connections is especially helpful to ministers and directors of childhood ministry that are called from the laity to staff positions By focusing on building a childhood ministry that intentionally connects children to God and the community of faith through paths that are driven by relationship rather than programs Janice Haywood has produced a resource that will help churches of any size design their own unique ministry for children A TCP Leadership Series title Reading-Writing Connections Rui A.

Alves, Teresa Limpo, R. Malatesha Joshi, 2020-06-02 This book shows that reading writing is a two way street that is burgeoning with research activity It provides a comprehensive and updated view on reading writing connections by drawing on extant research and findings It puts forward a new conception of literacy one that establishes reading and writing connections as the primeval ground for building literacy science It shows how an integrative view of literacy can have deep and lasting effects on conceptualizing literacy development in several orthographies and on improving literacy instruction and remediation worldwide The book examines in detail such issues as modeling approaches to reading writing relations literacy development reading and spelling across orthographies and integrative approaches to literacy instruction and remediation Creating Connections in Teaching and Learning Lindy Abawi, Joan Conway, Robyn

Henderson, 2011-12-01 This book explores the wide range of contexts in which research into creating connections in learning and teaching may take place Creating connections can encompass making links crossing divides forming relationships building frameworks and generating new knowledge The cognitive cultural social emotional and or physical aspects of understanding meaning making motivating acting researching and evaluating are explored as constituent forms of creativity in relation to such connections From this exploration the authors identify varied connective contexts and means which include the learner the educator the organisation and the relevant community The crossing of divides forming learner educator relationships bringing together diverse groups of learners establishing networks and partnerships among educators and establishing links between organisations and communities are all considered as connections which can be created by and within the learning and teaching dynamic By examining the factors which help to facilitate and or restrict the possibilities for creating connections in educational contexts implications for and outcomes of learning and or teaching arise from the connections created The final chapter of this book will explicate the realisations that have emerged for educators and researchers working to create connections These offer suggestions for future directions and enunciate what and how connections might contribute to both educational institutions and the broader society Connecting the Dots- The Cognitively Correct Way to Speak with Preschoolers Carla A.
