Reinventing Ourselves Interdisciplinary Education Collaborative Learning And:

Reinventing Ourselves Barbara Leigh Smith, John McCann, 2001-01-15 Reinventing Ourselves examines the experiences and lessons from over 20 different institutions pioneering new approaches for more effective teaching and learning. Many of the colleges included in this volume began as both educational and social experiments representing new ways of thinking about educational goals, curricular organization, institutional governance, and faculty roles and rewards. With new calls for both rethinking our approaches to teaching and learning and for reviewing the traditional boundaries within institutions and between disciplines, Reinventing Ourselves offers a rich store of ideas from which to draw. The Oxford Handbook of Interdisciplinarity Robert Frodeman, 2010-06-24 This title provides a synoptic overview of the current state of interdisciplinary research, education, administration, and management and includes problem-solving knowledge that spans the disciplines and interdisciplinary fields and crosses the space between the academic community and society at large.

Interdisciplinary Research Allen F. Repko, Rick Szostak, 2020-01-21 Interdisciplinary Research: Process and Theory offers a comprehensive systematic presentation of the interdisciplinary decision-making process by drawing on student and professional work from the natural sciences, social sciences, humanities, and applied fields. Designed for active learning and problem-based approaches, the Fourth Edition includes expanded discussion of epistemology, creativity within the interdisciplinary research process, confirmation bias, and social media; the philosophy of integration and student work patterns; mapping and the importance of performing independent research while working through this book. An Instructor website for the book includes a test bank, PowerPoint slides, and tables and figures from the book. Mentoring in Formal and Informal Contexts Kathy Peno, Elaine M. Silva, Mangiante, Rita A. Kenahan, 2016-03-01 Mentoring in Formal and Informal Contexts is a collection of invited works on mentoring in the many contexts in which it exists. Working with AHEA, the editors identified authors that have demonstrated experience and/or have published in this area. The book is arranged thematically: health care, education, the workplace, etc., and further sub-themed as appropriate. Mentoring in Formal and Informal Contexts is important because it fills a unique niche in the field of adult education, extends the scope of AHEA to a larger audience, and offers a current volume for scholars and practitioners based on both research and practice-based research. The audience: This collection is appropriate for a wide variety of professors, researchers, practitioners, and students in the field of adult education.

Resources in Education, 2001-04 Learning from Young Children Suzanne L. Burton, 2011-08-16 In early childhood, the most important period of learning and human development, young children often achieve developmental milestones in a short time. Learning from Young Children: Research in Early Childhood Music presents research on the importance of fostering musical growth during this period. These studies discuss applying brain research to young children's musical growth, music in the home and child care contexts, musical characteristics of the young child, language acquisition as a lens on music learning, music as a foundation for communication, parental conceptions of the role of music in early childhood, music as a pathway for building community using music to elicit vocalizations in children with special needs With research designs ranging from statistical mixed methods survey content analysis and case study to philosophical inquiry this book will help practitioners base their practice in research and offers a wide range of information for scholars and researchers studying early childhood music learning and development

Transforming Teacher Education for Social Justice Eva Zygmunt, Patricia Clark, 2016 Transforming Teacher Education for Social Justice offers teacher educators a new way to think about the development of culturally responsive educators The authors identify the core components needed to restructure and reorient programs of teacher education to adequately prepare new teachers for the racially culturally and linguistically diverse communities they will serve upon graduation They propose a new model of teacher preparation that capitalizes on the strengths of programs evidencing important outcomes Chapters address the notion of situated learning embedded in communities the need for extensive clinical experience in authentic teaching situations strategies for interweaving theory content pedagogy and classroom practice the importance of student engagement and motivation and the implementation of critical service learning Key policy implications of this model are also discussed within the current landscape of teacher education reform

Book Features A specific approach for realizing the promise of culturally responsive teaching A flexible model for a community engaged teacher preparation Compelling data on student learning outcomes based on university school community collaboration as evidence of eliminating the achievement gap The most striking piece of this book is the descriptions and stories of how the community serves as mentors to the university faculty and students The authors take readers with them through the many authentic activities led by the community mentors We are left both with the desire to spend time with these remarkable community members ourselves and the desire to develop similar community based programs
