Reinventing The Research University:

Reinventing the Research University Weber L. (ed), Duderstadt J. J. (ed), 2004 The fourth Glion Colloquium held in June 2003 brought together leaders of major higher education institutions or organizations along with guests from industry to compare perspectives on the future of the research university in America and Europe In part 1 papers by Frank Rhodes Robert Zemsky and James Duderstadt Luc Weber and Pavel Zgaga as well as Howard Newby set the stage In part 2 Roger Downer James Duderstadt and Frans van Vught discuss the changing nature of education and scholarship Part 3 continues with papers by Robert Zemsky Andre Oosterlink Nils Hasselmo Marcel Crochet and Wayne Johnson on the changing interaction between the research university and broader society In part 4 Luc Weber Marye Anne Fox Frank Rhodes and Marcel Crochet discuss the challenges of financing and governing the contemporary research university Reinventing the Research University C. Kumar N. Patel, 1995 The Facilitating University Adrianus Hendrikus Wilhelmus van der Zanden, 2009 Bologna in European Research-intensive Universities Jan Elen, An Verburgh, 2008 Colleges of Agriculture at the Land Grant Universities Committee on the Future of the Colleges of Agriculture in the Land Grant University System, Board on Agriculture, National Research Council, 1996-09-02 Since their inception in 1862 the U S land grant colleges have evolved to become the training ground for the nation s and the world s agriculturists In this book the committee examines the future of the colleges of agriculture in light of changing national priorities for the agricultural food and natural resource system The effects of federal funding constraints also are examined as are opportunities for growth presented by developments in science The committee s preceding volume Colleges of Agriculture at the Land Grant Universities A Profile is a compilation of the data that helped formulate the specific questions to be addressed Colleges of Agriculture at the Land Grant Universities Public Service and Public Policy is the deliberative report rating conclusions and recommendations for institutional innovation and public policy It addresses these and other questions What education mission should colleges of agriculture adopt and what strategies should they use in light of significant changes in the agricultural complex Research in agriculture is expected to respond to consumer demands environmental concerns world population growth and increasing pressure on agricultural lands Is the century old structure of land grant university based research up to the task What is the role of extension in light of today s smaller farming communities and larger farming conglomerates This volume is the culmination of a landmark evaluation of land grant colleges of agriculture an American institution This document will be of value to policymakers administrators and others involved in agricultural science and education Psychosocial Pathways Towards Reinventing the South African University Sabrina Liccardo, 2020-11-02 This book proposes a conceptual empirical framework for exploring forms of continuity and change along psychosocial pathways in South African universities It illustrates how the psychosocial pathways are grounded in the symbolic narratives and knowledges of young scientists engineers and architects all interlocutors in the research from which this book is based Alala

Mamoratwa Welile Odirile Kaiya Amirah Takalani Nosakhele Naila Ambani Khanyisile Itumeleng Ethwasa and Kgnaya provide collective standpoints in the multiplicities within and between the lived lives and told stories of young Black South African women in Science Technology Engineering and Mathematics STEM fields In doing so this compelling work advances possibilities for demythologising scientific endeavour as a white male achievement and shifting knowledge communities across gendered racialised class and national divides This book presents an innovative narrative methodology utilising the myth of the Minotaur to examine the state of the university at the heart of the hierarchical labyrinth in post apartheid South Africa Throughout the work the author wrestles with and self reflexively highlights her own positionality as a white middle class South African woman to examine how this affects the production of this research in ways which serve to preserve the colonial knowledge system With the rise of the Rhodes Must Fall and Fees Must Fall student movement in South Africa demanding for the fall of institutionalised racial hierarchies the author uses the cover image of narrative formations in the spirit of exploration to think with and through undulating networked forms that could possibly forge new psychosocial pathways towards decolonising and reinventing South African universities This work offers a unique conceptual and methodological resource for students and scholars of psychosocial and narrative theory as well as those who are concerned about the politics of higher education both in South Africa and in other contexts around the world

Rising to the Challenge National Research Council, Policy and Global Affairs, Board on Science, Technology, and Economic Policy, Committee on Comparative National Innovation Policies: Best Practice for the 21st Century, 2012-08-06 America's position as the source of much of the world's global innovation has been the foundation of its economic vitality and military power in the post-war. No longer is U.S. pre-eminence assured as a place to turn laboratory discoveries into new commercial products, companies, industries, and high-paying jobs. As the pillars of the U.S. innovation system erode through wavering financial and policy support, the rest of the world is racing to improve its capacity to generate new technologies and products, attract and grow existing industries, and build positions in the high-technology industries of tomorrow. Rising to the Challenge: U.S. Innovation Policy for Global Economy emphasizes the importance of sustaining global leadership in the commercialization of innovation, which is vital to America's security, its role as a world power, and the welfare of its people. The second decade of the 21st century is witnessing the rise of a global competition that is based on innovative advantage. To this end, both advanced as well as emerging nations are developing and pursuing policies and programs that are in many cases less constrained by ideological limitations on the role of government and the concept of free market economics. The rapid transformation of the global innovation landscape presents tremendous challenges as well as important opportunities for the United States. This report argues that far more vigorous attention be paid to capturing the outputs of innovation, the commercial products, the industries, and particularly high-quality jobs to restore full employment. America's economic and national security future depends on our succeeding in this endeavor.

The Search for New Governance of Higher Education in Asia K. Mok, 2010-08-16 The present volume sets out in the wider context of globalization to critically examine how selected countries/societies in Asia have responded to the growing pressures of globalization for improving university performance in the global marketplace. In order to enhance the global competitiveness of their higher education systems, many governments in Asia have started comprehensive reforms and adopted new governance measures to enhance their universities. Incorporation and corporatization have been identified as important strategies to restructure and re-engineer university governance around the world. Contributors in this volume critically examine how the quest for world-class university status as a global movement has affected the way their universities are governed. Despite the popularity of management reforms and restructuring exercises in line with neoliberalism and managerialism worldwide, whether and how these reforms have actually transformed the heart of the public sector is still subject to debate. This book offers critical reflections on the governance change taking place in the Asian university systems and examines how far the restructuring of higher education governance through incorporation, privatization, and corporatization has really transformed the values and practices of those who work in the higher education sector.
