Thompson, Anthony R. Cross, 2007-10-01 Recycling the Past or Researching History brings together an international group of Baptist scholars who explore various issues in Baptist historiography and myths Contributors examine and re-examine areas of Baptist life and thought about which either little is known or the received wisdom is in need of revision Historiographical studies include the date Oxford Baptists joined the Abingdon Association the death of the Fifth Monarchist John Pendarves eighteenth century Calvinistic Baptists and the political realm confessional identity and denominational institutions Baptist community ecclesiology the priesthood of all believers soteriology Baptist spirituality Strict and Reformed Baptists the role of women among British Baptists while various myths challenged include the nature of high Calvinism in eighteenth century England baptismal anti sacramentalism episcopacy and Baptists and change The common theme tying these studies together is that research into Baptist history should deal with the primary sources and not as has too often been the case rely uncritically on the scholarship of previous generations Maxwell Street Tim Cresswell, 2019-03-22 What is the nature of place and how does one undertake to write about it To answer these questions geographer and poet Tim Cresswell looks to Chicago's iconic Maxwell Street Market area Maxwell Street was for decades a place where people from all corners of the city mingled to buy and sell goods play and listen to the blues and encounter new foods and cultures Now redeveloped and renamed University Village it could hardly be more different In Maxwell Street Cresswell advocates approaching the study of place as an assemblage of things meanings and practices He models this innovative approach through a montage format that exposes the different types of texts primary secondary and photographic sources that have attempted to capture the essence of the area Cresswell studies his historical sources just as he explores the different elements of Maxwell Street exposing them layer by layer Brilliantly interweaving words and images Maxwell Street sheds light on a historic Chicago neighborhood and offers a new model for how to write about place that will interest anyone in the fields of geography urban studies or cultural history

Phenomenology of Broken Habits Line Ryberg Ingerslev, Karl Mertens, 2024-07-12 This volume explores the phenomenology of broken habits and their affective social and involuntary dimensions It shows how disruptive experiences impact self understanding and social embeddedness The chapters in this volume investigate the epistemic and existential relevance of breakdown of habits and the corresponding kinds of self understanding available to the agent The first part focuses on the double sidedness of habitual life On the one hand habits allow us to arrange and navigate in a familiar home world on the other hand habits can take hold of us in such a way that we lose our sense of autonomy The contributors argue that habitual agency is structurally carried by a dynamic that entails both freedom and necessity As habits enable us to inhabit and thus acquire a world they also affectively provide a texture and a background for our feeling at home in the world The chapters in Part 2 focus on the breakdowns of our habitual social and technological life forms and the phenomenology of their affective texture History and habitual learning are sedimented in our body memory and in our language and these sedimented layers are partly out of our direct control Part 3 focuses on the structural openness of habits in relating to one s past and one s traumatic experiences Part 4 reflects on the ways in which we might become aware of and thus transform or appropriate our culturally given habits Phenomenology of Broken Habits will appeal to researchers and advanced students working in phenomenology philosophy of mind and philosophy of psychology
