Remembrance Past And Present:

Fashion, Upcycling, and Memory Sanem Odabaşı, 2024-02-06 Fashion Upcycling and Memory questions practices and explores its profound connection to memory and sustainability Through a practice based researcher lens the research examines the intricate interplay between upcycling and memory unveiling assemblages of concepts objects and values that inspire action This book takes readers on a journey through the multidimensional relationship between individuals and clothing It delves into the disposal of garments and the transformative aspirations embedded within the fashion industry Employing the unique research methodology known as A r t ography which merges artistic practice rigorous research and educational development this book unearths the dynamic interplay between upcycling and memory The author unravels the intricate web of connections within upcycling through diverse practices methods and insightful interviews By critically questioning established norms and scrutinizing the actions of fashion designers the book makes significant contributions to existing literature Additionally it offers practical recommendations for sustainable fashion education making it an indispensable resource for individuals involved in the textile and fashion field Enhanced with visual aids such as images and illustrations this book ensures an engaging reading experience that immerses readers in the research based discourse Prophetic Remembrance Erica Still, 2014-12-17 Using the term prophetic remembrance to articulate the expression of a constituent faith in the performative capacity of language Erica Still shows how black subjectivity is born of and interprets cultural trauma She brings together African American neo slave narratives and Black South African postapartheid narratives to reveal the processes by which black subjectivity accounts for its traumatic origins names the therapeutic work of the present and inscribes the possibility of the future The author draws on trauma studies black theology and literary criticism as she considers how writers such as Toni Morrison Charles Johnson John Edgar Wideman David Bradley Sindiwe Magona K Sello Duiker and Zakes Mda explore the possibilities for rehearsing a traumatic past without being overcome by it Although both African American and South African literary studies have addressed questions of memory narrative and trauma little comparative work has been done Prophetic Remembrance offers this comparative focus in reading these literatures together to address the question of what it means to remember and to recover from racial oppression The Time of Our Lives

David Couzens Hoy, 2012-01-13 A study of the emergence in post Kantian continental philosophy of a focus on the lived experience of temporality The project of all philosophy may be to gain reconciliation with time even if not every philosopher has dealt with time expressly A confrontation with the passing of time and with human finitude runs through the history of philosophy as an ultimate concern In this genealogy of the concept of temporality David Hoy examines the emergence in a post Kantian continental philosophy of a focus on the lived experience of the time of our lives rather than on the time of the universe The purpose is to see how phenomenological and poststructuralist philosophers have tried to locate the source of temporality how they have analyzed time s passing and how they have depicted our relation to time once it has been in a

Proustian sense regained Hoy engages with competing theoretical tactics for reconciling us to our fleeting temporality drawing on work by Kant Heidegger Hegel Husserl Merleau Ponty Nietzsche Gadamer Sartre Bourdieu Foucault Bergson Deleuze i ek and Derrida Hoy considers four existential strategies for coping with the apparent flow of temporality including Proust s passive and Walter Benjamin s active reconciliation through memory i ek s critique of poststructuralist politics Foucault s confrontation with the temporality of power and Deleuze s account of Aion and Chronos He concludes by exploring whether a dual temporalization could be what constitutes the singular time of our lives The Routledge Companion to

Career Studies Hugh Gunz,Mila Lazarova,Wolfgang Mayrhofer,2019-11-12 The Routledge Companion to Career Studies is an in depth reference for researchers students and practitioners looking for a comprehensive overview of the state of the art of career studies Split into five parts the volume looks at major areas of research within career studies and reflects on the latest developments in the areas of theory empirical studies and methodology The book s five parts cover 1 major theoretical and methodological debates and approaches to studying careers 2 careers as dynamic ongoing processes covering such issues as time shaping careers career outcomes and patterns and the forces shaping careers 3 the local national and global context of careers 4 implementing career research to design practical interventions in areas such as education counseling and national policy and 5 a commentary on the current state of career scholarship and its future development as represented in this volume by founding scholars in the field This book will be a sourcebook for scholars studying careers research students intending to take up the study of careers and anyone scholars and practitioners with an interest not only in understanding careers the factors shaping them and where they lead but also in how this understanding might be used in practice Paris 1961 Jim House,Neil MacMaster,2006-09-28 For decades knowledge of the 1961 massacre of Algerian demonstrators by the Paris police was suppressed This study investigates the roots of this violence within the colonial system and how the event was covered up until it resurfaced after the 1980s to become one of the most controversial issues in contemporary French politics Communities of Memory William James Booth,2018-07-05 Memory has fueled merciless violent strife and it has been at the core of reconciliation and reconstruction It has been used to justify great crimes and yet it is central to the pursuit of justice In these and more everyday ways we live surrounded by memory individual and social in our habits our names the places where we live street names libraries archives and our citizenship institutions and laws Still we wonder what to make of memory and its gifts though sometimes we are hardly even certain that they are gifts Of the many chambers in this vast palace I mean to ask particularly after the place of memory in politics in the identity of political communities and in their practices of doing justice from the Preface W James Booth seeks to understand the place of memory in the identity ethics and practices of justice of political communities Identity is he believes a particular kind of continuity across time one central to the possibility of agency and responsibility and memory plays a central role in grounding that continuity Memory identity takes two forms a habitlike form the deep presence of the past that is part of a life led in common and a more fragile vulnerable form in which memory struggles to preserve identity through time notably in bearing witness a form of memory work deeply bound up with the identity of political communities Booth argues that memory holds a defining place in determining how justice is administered Memory is tied to the very possibility of an ethical community one responsible for its own past able to make commitments for the future and driven to seek justice Underneath and motivating the politics of memory understood as contests over the writing of history over memorials museums and canons he writes there lies an intertwining of memory identity and justice Communities of Memory both argues for and maps out that intertwining

The God of Jesus Christ Walter Kasper, 2012-03-01 Kasper's book on God the Trinity is a bold exploration of knotty theological problems

The Eschatological Person Andrew T. J. Kaethler, 2022-07-12 Both Alexander Schmemmann and Joseph Ratzinger insist that the human person remains shrouded in mystery without God's self disclosure in the person of Jesus Christ Like us Jesus lived in a particular time and location and therefore time and temporality must be part of the ontological question of what it means to be a human person Yet Jesus the one who has time for us ascended to the Father and the bride of Christ awaits his return and therefore time and temporality are conditioned by the eschatological With this in mind the ontological question of personhood and temporality is a question that concerns eschatology how does eschatology shape personhood Bringing together Schmemmann and Ratzinger in a theological dialogue for the first time this book explores their respective approaches and answers to the aforementioned question While the two theologians share much in common it is only Ratzinger's relational ontological approach that by being consistently relational from top to bottom consistently preserves the meaningfulness of temporal existence

Living with the Dead Laura King, 2025-01-13 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence It is free to read on the Oxford Academic platform and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations The dead are everywhere in family life From a great grandmother's recipe made time and again to a dog eared black and white photo of a family on a beach and from a carefully curated family bible to a much told story of a family fleeing their home many decades ago families are made by their pasts This book examines the relationship between the living and the dead within family life charting the way families create afterlives for their ancestors It asks who and what gets to be remembered and why Considering different points of connection with the dead in each chapter through graves homes things photos writing research and stories this book demonstrates how death and the dead remain a crucial presence within family life Through an innovative methodology of collaborative critical family history Living with the Dead features interviews personal archives and the results of a collaboration with fifteen family historians including the author's own family What results is a unique way of exploring family pasts of charting not only how families have remembered their dead and passed on their histories over time but the mechanisms of how histories are constructed and shared Living with the Dead reveals how crucial the dead and stories of them are within families and provides new ways for historians to unpick the way history is intimately made

Nelson,1986-12-15 This book reassesses the academic field of political theory and brings into sharp relief its problems and opportunities Here for the first time diverse theorists coordinate their arguments through a common focus This focus is the writing of John G Gunnell Gunnell attacks a set of myths said to plague almost every recent theory about politics the myth of the given the myth of science myths of theory the myth of tradition and the myth of the political He argues that these all alienate political theory from substantive inquiry and actual practice Contributors include Richard E Flathman Russell L Hanson George Kateb Paul F Kress J Donald Moon John S Nelson J G A Pocock Herbert G Reid Ira L Strauber Nathan Tarcov and Sheldon S Wolin They respond on behalf of projects in the new history of political theory epic theory phenomenology traditional theory and political deconstruction These discussions also address the theories of Hans Georg Gadamer J rgen Habermas Karl Marx Leo Strauss Alain Touraine and Ludwig Wittgenstein At the conclusion of the volume Gunnell reconsiders his arguments in light of the respondent s remarks His challenges thus provide a series of confrontations both exciting and provocative among major theorists The result is a lively debate about what political theory is how it relates to political history and practice and how it involves epistemology The authors probe a broad range of questions about practices of politics and traditions of discourse and they identify priorities for the future of the field
