Carroll, 1989 Imagine a heart which has been ripped from a man's body wrapped with thorns pierced with a knife and then placed on the man's chest or a group of people who believe that wearing a small rectangle of wool next to their skin ensures that they will go to heaven as long as it is brown wool and worn continuously Although psychoanalysts have long investigated similar ideas and beliefs they have ignored popular Catholicism even though behaviour such as this occurs over and over again in the history of Catholic cults and devotions Marxism and Human Nature Sean Sayers, The Complete Works of W.R. The Feeling Intellect Steven Groarke, 2022-06-24 In The Feeling Intellect Steven Groarke explores the overlap between psychoanalysis and philosophy in order to provide the first critical evaluation of the Independent tradition in British and American psychoanalysis. The book focuses on the formation of Independent object relations theory as an original mid to late twentieth century development in post-Freudian psychoanalysis, focusing on contributions by Fairbairn, Winnicott, Loewald, and others to add to our understanding of what the author terms the dependence relationship, the earliest relationship between mother and infant. The theory of acts and relations provides the basic framework for more detailed discussions of the psychoanalysis of time, including Loewald's idea of the inner future and the role of re-descriptive memory as a type of reclamation. This book is aimed at a readership intent on exploring the philosophical aspects of contemporary psychoanalysis in more detail. It will be of great value to psychoanalysts, psychotherapists, and students studying psychology.

Restitution and the Politics of Repair Magdalena Zolkos, 2020-09-21 Analyses the social imaginary of undoing repair and return underpinning the international norm of restitution making. Approaches restitution not just as a legal norm of property return but as a social imaginary and a cultural psychoanalytic scene of undoing repair and return. Brings together philosophic, political, socio-legal, and cultural psychoanalytic approaches to the study of restitution. Outlines a heterogeneous and multifaceted idea of restitution emergent in modernity and looks at the peripheries of the modern restitutive tradition in the search for alternatives and counter traditions. This book takes a unique approach grounded in political and cultural discourse to develop a political theory of restitution. Challenging assumptions about restitution in the Western legal and political tradition where it has become nearly synonymous with reacquisition and where legal studies focus on material objects and claims to their ownership, Zolkos argues that the development of restitutive norms has been auxiliary to the emergence of modern state sovereignty and excavates the restitutive tradition's mythical religious substrate. Bringing together texts from within and without the Western canon of political theory and philosophy, including the writings of Grotius, Durkheim, Freud, and Klein, as well as Mary Shelley's Frankenstein, the book undertakes a dual task: reading literary texts as a political theorising of restitution and reading political or sociological texts as literary narratives with distinctive restitutive tropes of repair, undoing, and return.

Gould, 2018-05-01 This book shows the ways in which the boundaries of the basic group relations training conference model of experiential learning have been extended to provide creative conceptual and applied links to both management and group and organizational education training and consultancy practice Finding a Way to the Child Margaret Rustin, 2022-12-30 Margaret Rustin's writing is characterised not only by its subject matter which is diverse but by her imaginative sensitivity to the emotional lives of children and young people the depth of her understanding and her original insights into the complexities of child and adolescent psychotherapy Here a selection of her work edited by Kate Stratton and Simon Cregeen is brought together in a collection which focuses mainly on clinical issues and concerns the dynamics of the interaction between patient and therapist in the consulting room the task of assessment the particular needs of children and young people whose early development has been distorted by trauma loss or neglect and the framework and skills required for effective psychoanalytic work with parents Illustrated by vivid narratives detailing the strains and possibilities of the therapeutic encounter this book is a record of clinical work and thinking over 50 years of psychoanalytic practice It will prove essential reading for psychoanalysts and child analysts child psychotherapists all those training as mental health professionals in work with children and parents and anyone with an interest in deepening their understanding of the emotional lives of children and young people Novel Education Deborah P. Britzman, 2006 What is a novel education like The surprising reply supposes that fiction affects the crisis of understanding work within the human professions of teaching and psychoanalysis The studies of learning and not learning presented begin with the delicate surprise made from representing affective experiences and conflicts within self other relations Freud's question of presenting psychoanalysis to others and the accidental pedagogy made continues to animate our debates on the uses of affected learning Novel Education analyzes the perils and pleasures of inviting narrating and interpreting emotional experience in learning and not learning Drawing upon contemporary psychoanalytic debates on the relation between understanding and therapeutic action these studies open discussion on the unusual world of psychoanalytic methods and link free association and the transference to the aesthetic conflicts made from thinking about sexuality and the difficulties of inhibition in learning listening and the teacher's memory of remembering learning to teach Novel Education highlights a discussion of the teacher's depression and the difficulty of formulating subjective knowledge from practices philosophies and theories in the human professions It raises the question of how fields of thought and practice affect themselves How may we describe the human idiom made in pedagogical and psychoanalytic relationships And why join learning to not learning This thought provoking book is essential reading on a broad range of fields for undergraduate and graduate students as well as faculty members

On Freud's Mourning and Melancholia Thierry Bokanowski, 2018-05-08 Both melancholia and mourning are triggered by the same thing that is by loss The distinction often made is that mourning occurs after the death of a loved one while in melancholia the object of love does not qualify as irretrievably lost
