Woman from Shanghai Xianhui Yang, 2010-08-24 In Woman from Shanghai Xianhui Yang one of China's most celebrated and controversial writers gives us a work of fact based fiction that reveals firsthand and for the first time in English what life was like in one of Mao's most notorious labor camps Between 1957 and 1960 nearly three thousand Chinese citizens were labeled Rightists by the Communist Party and banished to Jianshangou in China's northwestern desert region of Gansu to undergo reeducation through hard labor These exiles men and women were subjected to horrific conditions and by 1961 the camp was closed because of the stench of death of the roughly three thousand inmates only about five hundred survived In 1997 Xianhui Yang traveled to Gansu and spent the next five years interviewing more than one hundred survivors of the camp In Woman from Shanghai he presents thirteen of their stories which have been crafted into fiction in order to evade Chinese censorship but which lose none of their fierce power These are tales of ordinary people facing extraordinary tribulations time and again securing their humanity against those who were intent on taking it away Xianhui Yang gives us a remarkable synthesis of journalism and fiction a timely important and uncommonly moving book Instinct for Survival Pat C. Hoy II, 2012-04 The essays in Instinct for Survival explore fundamental ideas about the ties of community the trials and tribulations of family life the sacrificial nature of public service the yearnings of the spirit and the tangled joys of teaching From his childhood in Arkansas to his career as both Army officer and professor of literature Pat Hoy uses his rich experiences as departure points in his quest for meaning In Mosaics of Southern Masculinity Hoy recalls his absent father and develops a multilayered inquiry into male identity that includes memories of his own sons and reflections on the ways other southern writers have grappled with father son relationships The Spirit Was Willing and So Was the Flesh stems from Hoy's attempts to come to terms with the feminine aspects of his own personality and with the apparent dichotomy between the spiritual and the physical Hoy toys with his own personal poetics and philosophy of writing in Conversing with Images where he articulates the unspoken power of images A fascination with life's mysteries informs these essays which together create a transcendent and marvelous mosaic of life Survival in the South Pacific Robert Richardson, 2024-09-30 This account of oft forgotten aspects of the war that is also a powerful survival story is highly recommended for the casual reader of military history as well as the serious scholar of the Pacific war Journal of America's Military Past In September 1943 as America began advancing from its foothold on Guadalcanal a young American airman was lost in heavy weather over the South Pacific on what was expected to be a routine flight In examining that loss and the events leading up to a rescue attempt on an island in the South Pacific and bringing together societies utterly alien to each other Survival in the South Pacific brings together the big themes of the Pacific War Lieutenant Leonard Richardson and his comrades had been swept from their homes across America trained at speed for war and dispatched to one of the remotest places on the globe American war plans in place when Pearl Harbor was attacked poorly reflected the capabilities of its military and the limits imposed by America's far flung and indefensible territories The Germany First policy had resulted in a deeply uncertain future for forces in the South Pacific and Australia the United States was unprepared for the global war that came to it in late 1941 even as the pipeline of men and materiel began to fill Young Allied and Japanese aviators sailors and soldiers were not the only ones thrown into the swirling maelstrom of war that had engulfed the Pacific the indigenous islanders were also immersed in a new reality In bringing together individual stories of men at war this book gives a new perspective on the Pacific War Bent . . . Not . . . Broken J. C. King, 2018-04-17 The author confronts the memory of his toxic family and horrific childhood in Bent Not Broken He thought his life would get better after entering foster care but it wasn't much better than where he had been living Mr Gibson chain smoked cigarettes and Miss Agnes always smoked nasty cigars Whenever he had to walk into the smoky room he coughed profusely Every two days some kid delivered beer to them which they drank morning to night While he'd eventually be introduced to a new mama and other family members and move to Mayville Louisiana life would continue to deal him pain But while he'd receive scars and wounds the obstacles propelled him to new levels of courage and in his memoir he shares how an inner voice guided him whether he was in the classroom serving in Vietnam battling an addiction to alcohol or working as a civilian Join the author as he confronts the demons of his past and looks back at overcoming the odds to enjoy a happy family life and multiple successful careers Four Middle English Romances Harriet Hudson,2006-11-01 Sir Isumbras Octavian Sir Eglamour of Artois and Sir Tryamour are important works in a major literary development of the fourteenth century the flourishing of Middle English popular romance These four narratives were among the most popular all survive in multiple manuscripts and continued to circulate in prints through the sixteenth century All were composed in the northeast Midlands in the fifty years between 1325 and 1375 and they appear together in several manuscripts The tale the romances tell of exiled queens orphaned children and penitent fathers was one of the most prevalent medieval stories Sometimes called the Constance Eustace legend after two well known pious versions its influence can be seen in numerous romances Against All Odds Alex Kershaw,2023-04-25 The instant New York Times bestseller The untold story of four of the most decorated soldiers of World War II all Medal of Honor recipients from the beaches of French Morocco to Hitler s own mountaintop fortress by the national bestselling author of The First Wave Pitch perfect The Wall Street Journal Riveting World War II magazine Alex Kershaw is the master of putting the reader in the heat of the action Martin Dugard As the Allies raced to defeat Hitler four men all in the same unit earned medal after medal for battlefield heroism Maurice Footsie Britt a former professional football player became the very first American to receive every award for valor in a single war Michael Daly was a West Point dropout who risked his neck over and over to keep his men alive Keith Ware would one day become the first and only draftee in history to attain the rank of general before serving in Vietnam In WWII Ware owed his life to the finest soldier he ever commanded a baby faced Texan named Audie Murphy In the campaign to liberate Europe each would gain the ultimate accolade the Congressional Medal of Honor Tapping into personal interviews and a wealth of primary source material Alex Kershaw has delivered his most gripping account yet of American courage spanning more than six hundred days of increasingly merciless combat from the deserts of North Africa to the dark heart of Nazi Germany Once the guns fell silent these four exceptional warriors would discover just how heavy the Medal of Honor could be and how great the expectations associated with it Having survived against all odds who among them would finally find peace General Orders ...
