Marshall McLuhan The Man And His Message:

Marshall McLuhan George Sanderson, Frank MacDonald, 1989 This is the story of the godfather of the Internet

Understanding Media: The Extensions of Man Marshall McLuhan, 1964      Marshall McLuhan's Mosaic Elena Lamberti, 2012-01-01 One hundred years after Marshall McLuhan's birth Elena Lamberti explores a fundamental yet neglected aspect of his work the solid humanistic roots of his original mosaic form of writing In this investigation of how his famous communication theories were influenced by literature and the arts Lamberti proposes a new approach to McLuhan's thought Lamberti delves into McLuhan's humanism in light of his work on media and culture exploring how he began to perceive literature not just as a subject but a function inseparable from communal existence Lamberti pays particular attention to the central role played by Modernism in the making of his theories including the writings of Ford Madox Ford James Joyce Ezra Pound and Wyndham Lewis Reconnecting McLuhan with his literary past Marshall McLuhan's Mosaic is a demonstration of one of his greatest ideas that literature not only matters but can help us understand the hidden patterns that rule our environment      The Beatles and McLuhan Thomas MacFarlane, 2013 In the 1960s The Beatles would address like no other musical act a radical shift in the cultural mindset of the late twentieth century Through tools of electric technology this shift encompassed the decline of visual modes of perception and the emergence of a way of knowing based increasingly on sound In this respect the musical works of The Beatles would come to resonate with and ultimately reflect Marshall McLuhan's ideas on the transition into a culture of all at once ness a simultaneous world in which immersion in vibrant global community increasingly trumps the fixed viewpoint of the individual By engaging with recording technologies in a way that no popular act had before The Beatles opened up for exploration the acoustical space precipitated by this shift In The Beatles and McLuhan Understanding the Electric Age scholar and musician Thomas MacFarlane examines how the incorporation of electric technology in The Beatles' art would enhance their musical impact MacFarlane surveys the relationship between McLuhan's ideas on the nature and effects of electric technology and The Beatles' own engagement of that technology offers analyses of key works from The Beatles' studio years with particular attention paid to the presence of cultural metaphors embedded in the medium of multi track recording and collates these data to offer stunning conclusions about The Beatles' creative process in the recording studio and its cultural implications This work also features the first published transcriptions ever of the complete filmed conversation between John Lennon and Marshall McLuhan on their respective ideas as well as an interview between MacFarlane and McLuhan's son and executor Michael McLuhan on his father's and the Beatles' legacy The Beatles and McLuhan will interest scholars and students of music and music history recording technology media studies communications and popular culture      Marshall McLuhan: Renaissance for a wired world Gary Genosko, 2005 This collection contains key critical essays and assessments of the writings of Canadian communications thinker Marshall McLuhan selected from the voluminous output of the past forty years McLuhan's famous aphorisms and uncanny ability to sense megatrends are once again in circulation across and beyond the disciplines Since his untimely death in 1980 McLuhan's ideas have been rediscovered and redeployed with urgency in the age of information and cybernation Together the three volumes organise and present some forty years of indispensable critical works for readers and researchers of the McLuhan legacy The set includes critical introductions to each section by the editor Forthcoming titles in this series include Walter Benjamin 0 415 32533 1 December 2004 3 vols Theodor Adorno 0 415 30464 4 April 2005 4 vols and Jean Francois Lyotard 0 415 33819 0 2005 3 vols

Poetry and Culture in Britain, Canada and the United States Jonathan Locke Hart, 2025-03-18 This book is about poetry and the poetic in the cultures and literatures of Britain Canada and the United States Close reading is the primary method The figures discussed in the book were born from 1911 to the post war years after 1945 The volume proceeds from Marshall McLuhan as a poet through Douglas LePan Ted Hughes Leonard Cohen Margaret Atwood Thomas King and Forrest Gander to Hannah Lowe Russell Leong Marilyn Chin Fred Wah interpoetics poetry and culture in Chinese diasporic poetry Louis Riel Pauline Johnson Naomi McIlwraith Indigenous and M tis poetry Gaspar Prez de Villagr Anne Bradstreet Phillis Wheatley Langston Hughes Joan Kane Russell Leong Marilyn Chin and Forrest Gander the multiple makings of poetry of North America Here is a poetry of the North Atlantic world a transatlantic poetics then and now The book reads poetry and the poetic in terms of media aesthetics drama criticism music interpoetics diaspora culture diversity and African Asian and Indigenous poets

Transforming McLuhan Paul Grosswiler, 2010 Transforming McLuhan explores the radical humanist line of descent in interpreting Canadian media and culture theorist Marshall McLuhan's work rejecting the dominant view of McLuhan as a conservative uncritical herald of technological determinism and capitalism This McLuhan is the oppositional critic of modernity resisting uncontrolled technological change who seeks new media forms with a human face Contributors from diverse international and academic perspectives include Douglas Kellner Nick Stevenson Gary Genosko Richard Cavell Lance Strate Glenn Willmott Patrick Brantlinger Donna Flayhan and Bob Hanke Marshall McLuhan was the first to theorize and to develop a concept of media indicating their importance to all areas of society and culture Today media are far more pervasive than in the 1950s and 1960s when he wrote Yet his work has still not received its due attention Transforming McLuhan will begin to correct this oversight Mark Poster University of California Irvine Author of What's the Matter with the Internet and Information Please Transforming McLuhan re-reads the McLuhan phenomenon in light of today's media saturated 24/7 news and smartphone world Here we meet again with the visionary Tiresias in the Underworld whose dark sayings once lit the late afternoon of the twentieth century These critical readings create a time out to question him again and to open space time interstices for alternate thoughts and alternate actions Michael Heim Mount St Mary's College Los Angeles Author of The Metaphysics of Virtual Reality and Virtual Realism Transforming McLuhan offers a rich and textured reconsideration of Marshall McLuhan's ideas demonstrating how McLuhan's work is a better match for current multi-dimensional and ambivalent understandings of media and culture than it was for the narrower conceptions that guided those who dismissed McLuhan in his own time. These provocative and well written essays persuasively engage in what I have called morphing McLuhan with other key theoretical frameworks. As a result, Transforming McLuhan illustrates that cultural theorists have much to learn from McLuhanism but that McLuhan's perspective also has much room for enrichment from critical media studies.

The Death Of Discourse, Ronald K L Collins, David M Skover, 2019-09-12

In this innovative book the authors persuasively argue that the First Amendment to the Constitution has risen in the late twentieth century like an ill guided individual with knife in hand to murder a longstanding tradition of fine and meaningful discourse in the United States. We are bombarded with the cacophony of advertisement, the luridity of pornography and the pointlessness of prime time poor substitutes for intelligent consideration of ideas. In this innovative book the authors persuasively argue that the First Amendment to the Constitution has risen in the late twentieth century like an ill guided individual with knife in hand to murder a long standing tradition of fine and meaningful discourse in the United States. What has died is the essential kind of political discourse which promotes democracy, informs citizens, enlivens debate and carries reason, method and purpose. Instead we are bombarded with the cacophony of advertisement, the luridity of pornography and the pointlessness of prime time. With satirical spirit and wit yet to a very serious purpose, the narrative of this lively study calls upon many of the very tricks it criticizes. The text is augmented by amusing tales, poetry, tv zaps, eyebites and boxes of aphorisms resonating between high and low culture, between Plato and Geraldo and Madonna and Mahler, to make its points. The discussion reveals how discourse in contemporary America has lost its integrity and its soul.

Revolutions in Communication, Bill Kovarik, 2025-09-18

This new and expanded edition of Revolutions in Communication, the 3rd edition, explores printing, imaging, electronic and digital media history within a framework of technological change and social impacts. Using key figures in history to benchmark the chronology of technical innovation, Kovarik's scholarship narrates the story of revolutions in printing, electronic communication and digital information while drawing parallels between the past and present. This edition builds on the success of the previous two editions as a leading media history textbook. The 3rd edition includes digital media technology impacts and expectations that have changed since 2015. Updated and additional information that has become recently available, including declassified histories of super computers, the US news media's record on civil rights, Gutenberg's printing experiments in the 1440s, the role of the 1796 invention of lithography and improving the printing and culture of music. A sharper international focus and effort to avoid the impression that Europe is more or less at the center of mass media history.

Visibility and Control, Jeff Heydon, 2021-06-10

Visibility and Control: Cameras and Certainty in Governing addresses the ways in which camera produced images are used to support governmental authority. The text begins by examining some of the basic levels at which the body interacts with media and then expands the scope of the analysis to consider the use of CCTV in urban environments and how that affects the experience of space This shows how the determination of the subject and the observer is affected by interaction with and exposure to images produced by cameras The relationship between the body and media between media and the determination of space and how media is used to determine the nature of deviance in contemporary Western culture are evaluated as a means of establishing and maintaining authority through images Scholars of media theory surveillance studies and the social sciences will find this book particularly interesting This Life of Sounds Renee Levine Packer,2010-07-23 This book is an invaluable chronicle of an exuberant time of artistic exploration and experimentation populated by now legendary figures such as John Cage Morton Feldman Cornelius Cardew Terry Riley Julius Eastman David Tudor and many others who were part of this under known chapter of late 20th century music history Levine Packer brings it to life once again The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Cinema Janine Marchessault,Will Straw,2019-03-20 The chapters in The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Cinema present a rich diverse overview of Canadian cinema Responding to the latest developments in Canadian film studies this volume takes into account the variety of artistic voices media technologies and places which have marked cinema in Canada throughout its history Drawing on a range of established and emerging scholars from a range of disciplines this volume will be useful to teachers scholars and to a general readership interested in cinema in Canada Moving beyond the director focused approach of much previous scholarship this book is concerned with communities institutions and audiences for Canadian cinema at both national and international levels The choice of subjects covered ranges from popular genre cinema to the most experimental of artistic interventions Canadian cinema is seen in its interaction with other forms of art making and media production in Canada and at the international level Particular attention has been paid to the work of Indigenous filmmakers members of diasporic communities and feminist and LGBTQ artists The result is a book attentive to the complex social and institutional contexts in which Canadian cinema is made and consumed

Sense of Place and Sense of Planet Ursula K Heise, 2008-10-16 Examines the connections between environmentalism ecocriticism and theories of globalization and cosmopolitanism on the one hand and risk theory especially Ulrich Beck's theory of the risk society on the other Publisher's website The Place of Music Andrew Leyshon, David Matless, George Revill, 1998-03-21 Music is omnipresent in human society but its language can no longer be regarded as transcendent or universal Like other art forms music is produced and consumed within complex economic cultural and political frameworks in different places and at different historical moments Taking an explicitly spatial approach this unique interdisciplinary text explores the role played by music in the formation and articulation of geographical imaginations local regional national and global Contributors show how music's facility to be recorded stored and broadcast to be performed and received in private and public and to rouse intense emotional responses for individuals and groups make it a key force in the definition of a place Covering rich and varied terrain from Victorian England to 1960s Los Angeles to the offices of Sony and Time Warner and the landscapes of the American Depression the volume addresses such topics as the evolution of musical genres the globalization of music production and marketing alternative and hybridized music scenes as sites of localized resistance the nature of soundscapes and issues of migration and national identity The Enlightenment Cyborg Allison

Muri, 2007-01-01 For many cultural theorists the concept of the cyborg an organism controlled by mechanic processes is firmly rooted in the post modern post industrial post Enlightenment post nature post gender or post human culture of the late twentieth century Allison Muri argues however that there is a long and rich tradition of art and philosophy that explores the equivalence of human and machine and that the cybernetic organism as both a literary figure and an anatomical model has in fact existed since the Enlightenment In The Enlightenment Cyborg Muri presents cultural evidence in literary philosophical scientific and medical texts for the existence of mechanically steered or cyber humans in the works seventeenth and eighteenth century thinkers Muri illustrates how Enlightenment exploration of the notion of the man machine was inextricably tied to ideas of reproduction government individual autonomy and the soul demonstrating an early connection between scientific theory and social and political thought She argues that late twentieth century social and political movements such as socialism feminism and even conservatism are thus not unique in their use of the cyborg as a politicized trope The Enlightenment Cyborg establishes a dialogue between eighteenth century studies and cyborg art and theory and makes a significant and original contribution to both of these fields of inquiry McLuhan in Space Richard Cavell,2002-01-01 Demonstrates how McLuhan extended insights derived from advances in physics and artistic experimentation into a theory of acoustic space which he then used to challenge the assumptions of visual space that had been produced through print culture Fifty Key Figures in Management Morgen Witzel,2003-09-02 A collection of biographies of fifty people who have helped make management what it is today
