Interdisciplinary Lively Application Projects Modules Paul J. Campbell,2002 Masterclass in Mathematics Education Paul Andrews,Tim Rowland, This title provides accessible links between theory and practice and encourages readers to reflect on their own understanding of their teaching context Each chapter written by an internationally respected authority explores the key concepts within the selected area of the field drawing directly on published research to encourage readers to reflect on the content ideas and ongoing debates Studying Virtual Math Teams (pre-publication Version) Gerry Stahl, 2016-01-28 This book presents a coherent research agenda that has been pursued by the author and his research group. The book opens with descriptions of the project and its methodology as well as situating this research in the past and present context of the CSCL research field. The core research team then presents five concrete analyses of group interactions in different phases of the Virtual Math Teams research project. These chapters are followed by several studies by international collaborators discussing the group discourse, the software affordances, and alternative representations of the interaction, all using data from the VMT project. The concluding chapters address implications for the theory of group cognition and for the methodology of the learning sciences Get it Together Bob Jeffery, 1975
