Metropolitan Planning In Britain A Comparative Study:

Metropolitan Planning in Britain Peter Roberts, Kevin Thomas, Gwyndaf Williams, 1998-04-25 This book is the first comparative analysis and assessment of metropolitan areas and their strategic planning for almost two decades Planning Metropolitan Australia Stephen Hamnett, Robert Freestone, 2017-10-24 Australia has long been a highly sub urbanized nation but the major distinctive feature of its contemporary settlement pattern is that the great majority of Australians live in a small number of large metropolitan areas focused on the state capital cities The development and application of effective urban policy at a regional scale is a significant global challenge given the complexities of urban space and governance Building on the editors previous collection The Australian Metropolis A Planning History 2000 this new book examines the recent history of metropolitan planning in Australia since the beginning of the twenty first century After a historical prelude the book is structured around a series of six case studies of metropolitan Melbourne Sydney Adelaide Perth the fast growing metropolitan region of South East Queensland centred on Brisbane and the national capital of Canberra These essays are contributed by some of Australia s leading urbanists Set against a dynamic background of economic change restructured land uses a more diverse population and growing spatial and social inequality the book identifies a broad planning consensus around the notion of making Australian cities more contained compact and resilient But it also observes a continuing gulf between the simplified aims of metropolitan strategies and our growing understanding of the complex functioning of the varied communities in which most people live This book reflects on the raft of planning challenges presented at the metropolitan scale looks at what the future of Australian cities might be and speculates about the prospects of more effective metropolitan planning arrangements Strategic Planning for Regional Development in the UK Harry T. Dimitriou, Robin Thompson, 2007-08-07 With contributions from leading academics and practitioners Strategic Planning for Regional Development in the UK is the most up to date treatment of a fast changing subject The book discusses The evolution of regional planning in the UK and the strategic thinking involved The spatial implications of regional economic development policies The methods and techniques needed for the implementation of strategic planning for regional development How strategic planning for regional development is currently put into practice in three UK regions with different priorities Strategic Planning for Regional Development in the UK is essential reading for students and academics working within strategic and regional planning and provides policy makers and practitioners with a comprehensive and thought provoking introduction to this critically important emerging field Unfolding Cluster Evolution Fiorenza Belussi, Jose Luis Hervás-Oliver, 2016-08-05 Various theories have been put forward as to why business and industry develops in clusters and despite good work being carried out on path dependence and dynamics this is still very much an emerging topic in the social sciences To date no overarching theoretical framework has been developed to show how clusters evolve Unfolding Cluster Evolution aims to address this gap by presenting theoretical and empirical research on the geography of innovation This contributed volume seeks to shed light on the understanding of clusters and its dynamic evolution The book provides evidence to suggest that traditional perspectives from evolutionary economic geography need to be wedded to management thinking in order to reach this point Bringing together thinking from a range of disciplines and countries across Europe this book explores a wide range of topics from the capability approach to network dynamics to multinational corporations to firm entry and exit and social capital This book will be of interest to policy makers and students of urban studies economic geography and planning and development

Governing Smart Specialisation Dimitrios Kyriakou, Manuel Palazuelos Martínez, Inmaculada Perriáñez-Forte, Alessandro Rainoldi, 2016-10-04 In recent years smart specialisation has been a key building block of regional economic and development policy across the European Union Providing targeted support for innovation and research it has helped identify those areas of greatest strategic potential developing mechanisms to involve the fullest range of stakeholders before setting strategic priorities and using the policy to maximize the knowledge based potential of a region or territory Governing Smart Specialisation contributes to the emerging debate about the role of the entrepreneurial discovery process EDP which is at the heart of smart specialisation strategies for regional economic transformation Particular focus is placed on what methods procedures and institutional conditions are necessary in order to generate information that helps buttress policy decisions It draws on existing literature that analyses the relevance of EDP within smart specialisation for regional policy Chapters are complemented with case studies about regions with different geographical and socioeconomic characteristics in Europe from Norwegian regions to the Greek region of East Macedonia and Thrace As one of the first books to directly address the EDP this is essential reading for students interested in regional economics public policy urban studies and technology innovation as well as for policy makers in regional and national administrations

Urban Competitiveness Peter Kresl, Daniele Ietri, 2014-08-27 During the past 25 years the burden of managing economic policy for competitiveness has devolved to cities and to urban regions National governments have increasingly been focused on staving off fiscal collapse Mayors and local administrations have become very creative and active in looking after the state of their local economy and have developed extensive agencies for inter city cooperation and action This book explores this evolving role of cities and urban regions Intelligent and rational policy must be based on an accurate understanding of the situation at hand and of the economic theory that can be utilized in the assessment of the most effective means that can be deployed This book examines the theoretical contributions of economists and geographers and through the analyses of the performance of various cities will give the reader an understanding of the logic behind rational policy formation Evaluation of a city's relative competitiveness is a controversial matter and this book provides a full treatment of the various approaches Finally it examines the experiences with competitiveness of several cities in North America and in Europe Urban Competitiveness Theory and Practice confirms that many cities in trying times do have a mechanism for enhancing their competitiveness and can work to create the sort of economic life the city's residents want

Merseypride John Belchem, 2006-05-01 Once the second city of empire now descended by seemingly irreversible economic and demographic decline into European Union Objective One status Liverpool defies historical categorization Located at the intersection of competing cultural economic and geo political formations it stands outside the main narrative frameworks of modern British history the exception to general norms What was it that established Liverpool as different or apart In exploring this proverbial exceptionalism these essays by a leading scholar of the history of Liverpool and of the Irish show how a sense of apartness has always been crucial to Liverpool s identity While repudiated by some as an external imposition an unmerited stigma originating from the slave trade days or the Irish famine influx Liverpool s otherness has been upheld and inflated in self referential myth a Merseypride that has shown considerable ingenuity in adjusting to the city s changing fortunes The first stage towards an urban biography of Liverpool these essays in cultural history reconstruct the city s past through changes in image identity and representation Among the topics considered are Liverpool s problematic projection of itself through history and heritage the belated emergence of scouse an accent exceedingly rare as cultural badge and signifier the origins and dominance of Toryism in popular political culture the deepest and most enduring political deviance among Victorian workers at odds with present day perceptions of Merseyside militancy and an investigation of the crucial sites the Irish pub and the Catholic parish where the Liverpool Irish identity was constructed contested and continued seemingly immune to the normal processes of ethnic fade The final section offers comparative methodological and theoretical perspectives embracing North America Australia and other European second cities

Making 21st Century Knowledge Complexes Julie Miao, Paul Benneworth, Nicholas A. Phelps, 2015-05-15 The world has changed profoundly since the publication of the influential book Technopoles of the World As policy makers and practitioners attempt to harness science technology and innovation to create dynamic and vibrant cities many wonder how relevant Manuel Castells and Peter Hall s messages are today Twenty years later this book returns to their concepts and practices to update their message for the 21st century Making 21st Century Knowledge Complexes Technopoles of the World Revisited argues that the contemporary technopole concept encompasses three new dimensions Firstly building synergy between partners is vital for the success of complexes Secondly the correct governance arrangements are critical to balance competing interests inevitable in any science city project Thirdly new evaluation mechanisms are indispensable in allowing policy makers to steer their long term benefits Through twelve case study chapters and a detailed comparative analysis this book provides academics policy makers and practitioners with critical insights in understanding managing and promoting today s high technology urban complexes

Higher Education and the Creative Economy Roberta Comunian, Abigail Gilmore, 2016-03-10 Since the DCMS Creative Industries Mapping Document highlighted the key role played by creative activities in the UK economy and society the creative industries agenda has expanded across Europe and internationally They have the support of local authorities regional development agencies research councils arts and cultural agencies and other sector organisations Within this framework higher education institutions have also engaged in the creative agenda but have struggled to define their role in this growing sphere of activities Higher Education and the Creative Economy critically engages with the complex interconnections between higher education geography cultural policy and the creative economy This book is organised into four sections which articulate the range of dynamics that can emerge between higher education and the creative economy partnership and collaboration across Higher Education institutions and the creative and cultural industries the development of creative human capital connections between arts schools and local art scenes and links with broader policy directions and work Chapter 9 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 3 0 license

The Empirical and Institutional Dimensions of Smart Specialisation Philip McCann, Frank van Oort, John Goddard, 2016-11-25 Smart specialisation is the new policy approach to the development of regional innovation systems across Europe and it involves fostering innovative and entrepreneurial initiatives which are well tailored to the local context The different technologies skills profiles business activities institutions and sectors which reflect a region's economic strengths and potential are to be fostered and encouraged to diversify in ways which also exploit the region's linkages with broader global value chains Yet the ideas contained in the smart specialisation agenda have until now been primarily conceptual in nature The Empirical and Institutional Dimensions of Smart Specialisation draws together some of the leading regional economists and scientists in Europe to analyse how smart specialisation is working in practice This book investigates different dimensions of the agenda as it is developing across parts of Europe from both quantitative and qualitative perspectives The quantitative analysis examines the nature of the diversification processes undertaken by regions and the interplay between the chosen local regional development priorities and the wider global value chain impacts of these choices Meanwhile the qualitative analysis examines the institutional opportunities and challenges facing policy makers and the key elements most likely to provide the underpinnings of a workable set of policy settings The book is aimed both at academic researchers interested in the interface between economic geography and regional innovation systems as well as at policy makers making public policy decisions related to regional development at the local city regional or national levels

Regional Worlds: Advancing the Geography of Regions Martin Jones, Anssi Paasi, 2017-10-02 A key concern in the debate and empirical research on the geography of regions is the evolution of the conceptualizations and practical uses of the idea of region This idea prioritises both the intellectual and the practical development of regional studies This book drives the discussion further It stresses the complex forms of agency advocacy involved in the production and reproduction of regional spaces and space of regionalism as well as the importance of geohistory and context The book moves beyond the territorial relational divide that has characterized debates on regions and regional borders since the 1990s The contributors answer key questions from different conceptual and concrete contextual angles and to motivate readers to reflect on the perpetual significance of regional concepts and how they are mobilized by various actors to maintain or transform the contested spatialities of societal power relations This book was based on a special issue of Regional Studies Beyond Territory Harald Bathelt, Maryann Feldman, Dieter F. Kogler, 2012-03-29 The main purpose of the book is to discuss new trends in the dynamic geography of innovation and argue that in an era of increasing globalization two trends seem quite dominant rigid territorial models of innovation and localized configurations of innovative activities The book brings together scholars who are working on these topics Rather than focusing on established concepts and theories the book aims to question narrow explanations rigid territorializations and simplistic policy frameworks it provides evidence that innovation while not exclusively dependent on regional contexts can be influenced by place specific attributes The book will bring together new empirical and conceptual work by an interdisciplinary group of leading scholars from areas such as economic geography innovation studies and political science Based on recent discussions surrounding innovation systems of different types it aims to synthesize state of the art know how and provide new perspectives on the role of innovation and knowledge creation in the global political economy

Innovation Governance in an Open Economy Annika Rickne, Staffan Laestadius, Henry Etzkowitz, 2012-05-04 In an increasingly globalised world paradoxically regional innovation clusters have moved to the forefront of attention as a strategy for economic and social development Transcending international success cases like Silicon Valley and Route 128 as sources of lessons successful high tech clusters in niche areas have had a significant impact on peripheral regions Are these successful innovation clusters born or made If they are subject to planning and direction what is the shape that it takes top down bottom up or lateral Smart Specialisation Dominique Foray, 2014-08-13 This is the first book on a new policy approach that has been widely adopted in Europe and beyond It analyses the concept of smart specialisation and discuss the need for smart specialisation strategies explains why the approach is new and different from more standard policy processes and explores what are the conditions for successful implementation Smart Specialisation Opportunities and Challenges for Regional Innovation Policy describes the origin of the concept explains when a smart specialisation policy is necessary provides a detailed analysis of the design principles of the policy and discuss the pertinence of this approach according to regional development levels Finally the book discuss the practical implementation phase of the process based on the first feedback acquired from certain regions engaged in the preparation of their smart specialisation strategy The book is original in that it provides the first full analysis of smart specialisation strategies both at theoretical and practical levels It has been written at the critical period of the implementation of smart specialisation strategies in every region in Europe The fact that the EU has adopted smart specialisation as a mandatory principle for every region and member states will make this book well received by and very useful for i policy makers in regional and national administrations in Europe ii policy makers in other parts of the world who are in charge of regional policy and have heard about the concept iii consultants analysts and experts who are active on the markets for smart specialisation diagnosis and expertise iv scholars researchers and graduate students working in the field of regional studies technology policy and geography of innovation EU Cohesion Policy John Bachtler, Peter Berkowitz, Sally Hardy, Tatjana Muravska, 2016-10-26 The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.tandfebooks.com/doi/view/10.4324/9781315401867> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 3.0 license This book brings together academics members of European institutions and regional and national level policymakers in order to assess the performance and direction of EU Cohesion policy against the background of the most significant reforms to the policy in a generation Responding to past criticisms of the effectiveness of the policy the policy changes introduced in 2013 have aligned European Structural and Investment Funds with the Europe 2020 strategy and introduced measures to improve strategic coherence performance and integrated development EU Cohesion Policy Reassessing performance and direction argues that policy can only be successfully developed and implemented if there is input from both academics and practitioners The chapters in the book address four important issues the effectiveness and impact of Cohesion policy at European national and regional levels the contribution of Cohesion policy to the Europe 2020 strategy of smart sustainable and inclusive growth the importance of quality of government and administrative capacity for the effective management of the Funds and the inter relationships between institutions territory and place based policies The volume will be an invaluable resource to students academics and policymakers across economics regional studies European studies and international relations Creating Knowledge Locations in Cities Willem van Winden, Luis de Carvalho, Erwin van Tuijl, Jeroen van Haaren, Leo van den Berg, 2013-06-19 Based on a clear and comprehensive literature review this book contains an analysis of five knowledge locations in Europe and one in South Korea The case studies in the book cover several European countries Ireland Finland Germany Spain The Netherlands The cases are well grounded in the different contexts that these national settings provide which allows comparisons between them The Futures of the City Region Michael Neuman, Angela Hull, 2013-09-13 Does the city region constitute a new departure in urbanisation If so what are the key elements of that departure The realities of the urban in the 21st century are increasingly complex and polychromatic The rise of global networks enabled by supranational administrations both governmental and corporate strongly influences and structures the management of urban life How we conceive the city region has intellectual and practical consequences First in helping us grasp rapidly changing realities and second in facilitating the flow of resources ideas and learning to enhance the quality of life of citizens Two themes interweave through this collection within this broad palette First are the socio spatial constructs and their relationship to the empirical evidence of change in the physical and functional aspects of urban form Second is what they mean for the spatial scales of governance This latter theme explores territorially based understandings of intervention and the changing set of political concerns in selected case studies In efforts to address these issues and improve upon knowledge this collection brings together international scholars building new data driven cross disciplinary theories to create new images of the city region that may prove to supplement if not supplant old ones The book illustrates the dialectical interplay of theory and fact time and space and spatial and institutional which expands on our intellectual grasp of the theoretical debates on city regions through practical knowing citing examples from Europe the United States Australasia and beyond This book was originally published as a Special Issue of Regional Studies Migration in the 21st Century Thomas N. Maloney, Kim

Korinek, 2010-10-04 International migration is a central theme of social science research This book promotes cross disciplinary discussion examining the challenges and opportunities created by global migration at the start of the 21st century Spaces and Places in Central and Eastern Europe Gyula Horváth, 2014-08-21 Across Europe there is a rapidly changing context for undertaking regional development In the 20th century development of the former planned economies Bulgaria Czech Republic Hungary Poland Romania and Slovakia was defined by these countries differences rather than their common ideological roots These disparities altered over time and were marked by changing social structures However the ranking of regions has remained the same as core areas have strengthened their positions while the structural obstacles to the modernisation of peripheral areas have remained due to a lack of coherent regional policy This book examines the specific regional development paths of Central and Eastern European countries and evaluates the effects of the determining factors of this process Through analysis of the system of objectives instruments and institutions used in different eras and case studies of Hungary East Germany and Germany development models are established and compared with Western European patterns The book summarises the experiences of Central and Eastern European regional cooperation and examines the basic nature of the cohesion problems of the Carpathian Basin trans national macro region It confirms by comparative historical analyses that the transformation was indeed unique This book will make a welcome addition to the literature for students and academics interested in the broader picture of Central and Eastern European politics future integration within the European Union and the history of regional development processes Leadership and Change in

Sustainable Regional Development Markku Sotarauta, Ina Horlings, Joyce Liddle, 2012-09-10 This book shows first of all that leadership plays a crucial role in reinventing regions and branching out from an old path to something new in order to create more balanced and sustainable regional development Second it maintains that leadership is not a solo but a multi agent and level activity and that it needs to be discussed and studied as such Third as the book argues leadership is shaped differently in various institutional and cultural contexts and on different scales This book explores the ways leadership plays our in regional development context contributing to economically socially and ecologically balanced sustainable future
