Michaelis Baii Opera:

The Irenical Theology of Théophile Brachet de La Milletière (1588-1665) R.J.M. van de Schoor,2022-06-20 In this study the content and background of La Milletière's irenism are analysed and compared to the irenism of Hugo Grotius who strove for unity in this same period The reactions which La Milletière's books and pamphlets provoked are related to the rival groups within each confession Jansenists versus Jesuits the scholars of Saumur versus orthodox theologians like Rivet and Du Moulin and the ministers of Charenton Richelieu's conciliatory religious policy was experienced by the oppressed French Calvinists as a major threat to the integrity of their doctrine When one of their co religionists La Milletière began to propagate a reunification of Protestants and Roman Catholics they did not fail to recognize these irenic proposals as Richelieu's On the other hand the Roman Catholics mistrusted this peacemaker as well This book therefore offers a contribution to the history of irenism as well as an analysis of the religious situation in France in the first half of the seventeenth century Early Latin Theology Bernard J. The Covenant of Works J. V. Fesko,2020-09-14 The doctrine of the covenant of works arose to prominence in the late sixteenth century and quickly became a regular feature in Reformed thought Theologians believed that when God first created man he made a covenant with him all Adam had to do was obey God's command to not eat from the tree of knowledge and obey God's command to be fruitful multiply and subdue the earth The reward for Adam's obedience was profound eternal life for him and his offspring The consequences of his disobedience were dire God would visit death upon Adam and his descendants In the covenant of works Adam was not merely an individual but served as a public person the federal head of the human race The Covenant of Works explores the origins of the doctrine of God's covenant with Adam and traces it back to the inter testamental period through the patristic and middle ages and to the Reformation The doctrine has an ancient pedigree and was not solely advocated by Reformed theologians The book traces the doctrine's development in the seventeenth century and its reception in the eighteenth nineteenth and twentieth centuries Fesko explores the reasons why the doctrine came to be rejected by some even in the Reformed tradition arguing that interpretive methods influenced by Enlightenment thought caused theologians to question the doctrine's scriptural legitimacy The Auction Catalogue of William Ames K. Bulman, Frederick J. Parrella, 2006-06-15 The second Vatican Council was convened by Pope John XXIII between 1962 and 1965 It marked a fundamental shift toward the modern Church and its far reaching innovations replaced or radically changed many of the practices rules and attitudes that had dominated Catholic life and culture since the Council of Trent in the sixteenth century In this book a distinguished team of historians and theologians offers an impartial investigation of the relationship between Vatican II and Trent by examining such issues as Eucharistic theology liturgical change clerical reform the laity the role of women marriage confession devotion to Mary and interfaith understanding As the first book to present such a comprehensive study of the connection between the two great Councils this is an invaluable resource for students theologians and church historians as well as for bishops clergy and religious educators Augustiniana, 2007 Conjunctions of Mind, Soul and Body from Plato to the Enlightenment Danijela Kambaskovic, 2014-09-25 This book examines the nexus between the corporeal emotional spiritual and intellectual aspects of human life as represented in the writing of the Middle Ages and the Renaissance Authors from different fields examine not only the question of the body and soul or body and mind but also how this question fits into a broader framework in the medieval and early modern period Concepts such as gender and society morality sexuality theological precepts and medical knowledge are a part of this broader framework This discussion of ideas draws from over two thousand years of Western thought from Plato in the fifth century BC and the fourth century Byzantine dialogues on the soul to the philosophical and medical writings of the early 1700s There are four sections to this book each section is based on where the authors have found a conjunction between the body and mind soul The work begins with a section on text and self perception which focuses on creative output from the period The second conjunction is human emotions which are described in their social contexts The third is sex where the human body and mind are traditionally believed to meet The fourth section Material Souls engages with bodies and other material aspects of existence perceived studied or utilised as material signs of emotional and spiritual activity
