Faulkner's Imperialism Taylor Hagood, 2008-11-15 In Faulkner's Imperialism Taylor Hagood explores two staples of Faulkner's world myth and place Using an interdisciplinary approach to examine the economic sociological and political factors in Faulkner's writing he applies postcolonial theory cultural materialism and the work of the New Southernists to analyze the ways myth and place come together to encode narratives of imperialism and anti imperialism in the worlds in which Faulkner lived and the one that he created The resulting discussion highlights the deeply embedded imperial impulses underpinning not just Yoknapatawpha and Mississippi but the Midwest the Caribbean France and a host of often overlooked corners of the Faulknerian map Faulkner defines space in his fiction by creating places through culturally compelling narratives Although these narrative spaces often have imperial roots Hagood reveals how the oppressed can subvert these mythic places by turning the myths against their oppressors The Greco Roman myths long recognized as part of Faulkner's fictional world for example define racially hybrid spaces ostensibly designed to articulate white patriarchal narratives of imperial control but which actually carry within their very dreams of Arcady an anti imperial narrative In Faulkner's Mississippi Delta which he modeled after the Nile Delta plantation owners evoke the imperial power of ancient Egypt to confirm their own cultural ascendancy even while African Americans use biblical narratives of the Israelites enslaved in Egypt to speak against the power that controls them Faulkner also used places he personally experienced such as New Orleans a city that he recognized as containing multiple layers of imperial design to dramatize the constant struggle between the oppressor and the oppressed Rather than reading the roles of myth and place according to conventional myth criticism or typical place models used by other Faulkner scholars Hagood examines the intertextuality within Faulkner's writing as well as the relationship of his writing to others work in an attempt to understand how the texts fit together and speak to one another One of the few books that examine Faulkner's work as a whole Faulkner's Imperialism moves beyond South versus North paradigms to encompass all the spaces within Faulkner's created cosmos considering their interrelationships in a precise holistic way Law of the Gun Martin H. Greenberg,2010-11-01 One Man One Gun One Law It's an American icon the Western shootist living by skill courage and a willingness to spit in death's eye Now the greatest names in Western literature turn this mythical character upside down inside out and every way but loose In The Trouble with Dude award winning author Johnny Boggs saddles a once famous lawman with some high paying New York dudes in search of Western thrills who get more than they bargained for in Uncle Jeff and the Gunfighter Western master storyteller Elmer Kelton chronicles a quarrel between a hardscrabble Texas rancher and a killer for hire with results that stun a town William W Johnstone and J A Johnstone offer Inferno A Last Gunfighter Story featuring series hero Frank Morgan From a pistol packing woman to a freed slave heading into a Nebraska winter and an education in gun fighting The Law Of The Gun is about journeys vendettas stand offs and legends that end or sometimes just begin with the roar of a gun Legendary Hawai'i and the Politics of Place Cristina Bacchilega,2011-06-03 Hawaiian legends figure greatly in the image of tropical paradise that has come to represent Hawai'i in popular imagination But what are we buying into when we read these stories as texts in English language translations Cristina Bacchilega poses this question in her examination of the way these stories have been adapted to produce a legendary Hawai'i primarily for non Hawaiian readers or other audiences With an understanding of tradition that foregrounds history and change Bacchilega examines how following the 1898 annexation of Hawai'i by the United States the publication of Hawaiian legends in English delegitimized indigenous narratives and traditions and at the same time constructed them as representative of Hawaiian culture Hawaiian mo'olelo were translated in popular and scholarly English language publications to market a new cultural product a space constructed primarily for Euro Americans as something simultaneously exotic and primitive and beautiful and welcoming To analyze this representation of Hawaiian traditions place and genre Bacchilega focuses on translation across languages cultures and media on photography as the technology that contributed to the visual formation of a westernized image of Hawai'i and on tourism as determining postannexation economic and ideological machinery In a book with interdisciplinary appeal Bacchilega demonstrates both how the myth of legendary Hawai'i emerged and how this vision can be unmade and reimagined Unsettling Space Joanne Tompkins,2006-11-08 This study investigates contestations over spatiality in one culturally composite nation Australia where contemporary theatre stages competing cultural and political agendas through space and place Covering a wide range of plays it will have wide appeal for issues of space spatiality and territory in all forms of theatre in all nations Streaming The Sandman Tara Prescott-Johnson,2025-10-13 After 30 years the beloved award winning comic book series The Sandman

Some travelers visited the classic destinations of earlier times such as the great waterworks complex and some reacted generally to the tone and temper of the city Together these accounts fall into patterns that often convey a mythic reading of the city as a place of uncommon order and symmetry for example or a place of great torpor and dullness or a city extraordinary for the way in which elements of wilderness interpenetrate the metropolitan core Travel and Representation Garth Lean,Russell Staiff,Emma Waterton,2017-07-01 Travel and Representation is a timely volume of essays that explores and re examines the various convergences between literature art photography television cinema and travel The essays do so in a way that appreciates the entanglement of representations and travel at a juncture in theoretical work that recognizes the limits of representation things that lie outside of representation and the continuing power of representation The emphasis is on the myriad ways travelers scholars employ representation in their writing analyses as they re think the intersections between travelers fields of representation imagination emotions and corporeal experiences in the past the present and the future Myth and Creative Writing Adrian May,2013-11-19 Myth and Creative Writing is a unique and practical guide to the arts of creative writing It Gives a historical perspective on the storyteller s art Takes a wide view of myth to include legends folklore biblical myth classical myth belief myths balladry and song Considers all aspects of the creative process from conception to completion Provides tips on seeking inspiration from classical and mythic sources Shows how myths can be linked to contemporary concerns Enables beginning writers to tap into the deeper resonances of myth Guides students to further critical and creative resources A secret that all writers know is that they are part of a long tradition of storytelling whether they call it mythic intertextual interactive or original And in the pantheon of storytelling myths those stories that tell us in often magical terms how the world and the creatures in it came to be are the bedrock a source of unending inspiration One can dress the study of literature in the finest critical clothing or intellectualise it until the cows come home but at its heart it is nothing more and nothing less than the study of the human instinct to tell stories to order the world into patterns we can more readily understand Exploring the mythic nature of writing by considering where the connections between instinct and art are made and where the writer is also seen as a mythic adventurer is a way of finding close links to what it is we demand from literature which is again something to do with the essences of human nature Further in the course of examining the nature of myth Adrian May provides a very practical guide to the aspiring writer whether in a formal course or working alone on how to write stories myths of their own from how to begin how to develop and how to close Imagining the American West through Film and Tourism Warwick Frost, Jennifer Laing, 2015-06-05 The West is one of the strongest and most enduring place images in the world and its myth is firmly rooted in popular culture whether novels film television music clothing and even video games The West combines myth and history rugged natural scenery and wide open spaces popular culture and promises of transformation These imagined places draw in tourists attracted by a cultural heritage that is part fictional and mediated In turn tourism operators and destination marketing organisations refashion what they present to fit these imagined images This book explores this imagining of a mythic West through three key themes travel film and frontiers to offer new insight into how the imagination of the West and popular culture has influenced the construction of tourism In doing so it examines the series of paradoxes that underlie the basic appeal of the West evocative frontier a boundary zone between civilisation and wilderness and between order and lawlessness It draws on a range of films and literature as well as varying places from festivals to national parks to showcase different aspects of the nexus between travel film and frontiers in this fascinating region Interdisciplinary in character it includes perspectives from cultural studies American studies tourism and film studies Written by leading academics this title will be valuable reading for students researchers and academics in the fields of cultural studies tourism film studies and media studies and all those interested in film tourism International Perspectives on Cultural Parks, 1989 Origins, Ancestry and Alliance James J.
