Jr., Heesok Chang, Samantha Zacher, 2013-12-13 A Companion to British Literature Victorian and Twentieth Century Literature 1837 2000 Contemporary Chinese Novels in Translation since 1978 Yun Wu, 2024-10-14 This book aims to complement the traditional focus of translation studies which has primarily centered on translating English into other languages It presents a comprehensive analysis of the reverse translation trajectory exploring the movement of Chinese literature into the core English literary domain The book aims to explore the ideological and sociological dynamics that underlie the translation of contemporary Chinese novels This is achieved through an examination of the translation selection process translation paratexts and the roles of translation agents Case studies are employed to illustrate specific linguistic literary and cultural challenges within translation It dissects the cultural and literary implications of translating genres such as women's writing science fiction and Internet literature The argument presented is that the translation of peripheral literature is indispensable in shaping global literature Beyond its literary implications the book identifies the political significance inherent in such reverse translation endeavors It suggests that the translation of Chinese literature holds notable political interest for the Chinese government which aims to reshape China's image and bolster the nation's soft power through literary translation This work will be an essential read to students and scholars of translation studies comparative literature and Chinese studies Russian Experimental Fiction Edith W. Clowes, 2014-07-14 In the three decades following Stalin's death major underground Russian writers have subverted Soviet ideology by using parody to draw attention to its basis in utopian thought Referring to utopian writing as diverse as Defoe's Robinson Crusoe Dostoevsky's Notes from Underground and Orwell's Animal Farm they have tested notions of truth reality and representation They have gone beyond their precursors by experimenting with the tensions between ludic and didactic art Edith Clowes explores these meta utopian narratives which address a wide range of attitudes toward utopia to expose the challenge that literary play poses to dogmatism and to elucidate the sense of renewal it can bring to social imagination Using both structural analysis and reception theory she introduces readers outside Russia to a fascinating body of literature that includes Aleksandr Zinoviev's The Yawning Heights Abram Terts's Liubimov Vladimir Voinovich's Moscow 2042 and Liudmila Petrushevskaya's The New Robinsons Not advocating its own utopian alternative to current social realities meta utopian fiction investigates the function of a deep human impulse to imagine project and enforce alternative social orders Clowes examines the technical innovations meta utopian writers have made in style image and narrative structure that inform fresh modes of social imagination Her analysis leads to an inquiry into the intended and real audiences of this fiction and into the ways its authors try to move them toward more sophisticated social discourse Originally published in 1993 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich

Book Presence in a Digital Age Kiene Brillenburg Wurth, Kári Driscoll, Jessica Pressman, 2018-06-28 Contrary to the apocalyptic pronouncements of paper media's imminent demise in the digital age there has been a veritable surge of creative reimaginings of books as bearers of the literary. From typographic experiments Mark Z Danielewski's House of Leaves Steven Hall's The Raw Shark Texts to accordion books Anne Carson's Nox from cut ups Jonathan Safran Foer's Tree of Codes to collages Graham Rawle's Woman's World from erasures Mary Ruefle's A Little White Shadow to mixups Simon Morris's The Interpretations of Dreams print literature has gone through anything but a slow inevitable death. In fact it has re-invented itself materially. Starting from this idea of media plurality Book Presence in a Digital Age explores the resilience of print literatures, book art and zines in the late age of print from a contemporary perspective while incorporating longer term views on media archeology and media change. Even as it focuses on the materiality of books and literary writing in the present Book Presence also takes into consideration earlier 20th century moments of media transition developing the concepts of presence and materiality as analytical tools to perform literary criticism in a digital age. Bringing together leading scholars, artists and publishers Book Presence in a Digital Age offers a variety of perspectives on the past, present and future of the book as medium, the complex relationship of materiality to virtuality and of the analog to the digital. Encyclopedia of Social Movement Media John D. H. Downing, 2010-10-28 This one volume encyclopedia features around 250 essays on the varied experiences of social movement media over the planet in the 20th and 21st centuries. Examining the tip of a gigantic iceberg this reference resource examines a sample of the dizzying variety of formats and experiences that comprise social movement media. The guiding principles have been to ensure that experiences from the global South are given voice that women are properly represented among contributors that the wide spectrum of communication formats is included that further reading is provided where relevant and that some examples are provided of repressive social movement media not exclusively progressive ones. Thematic essays address selected issues such as human rights media indigenous peoples media and environmentalist media and on key concepts widely used in the field such as alternative media citizens media and community media. The encyclopedia engages with all communication media broadcasting print cinema the Internet popular song street theatre graffiti and dance. The entries are designed to be relatively brief with clear accessible and current information. Students, researchers, media activists and others interested in this field will find this to be a valuable resource. Key Themes: Cinema, Television and Video, Concept and Topic Overviews, Cultural Contestations, Feminist Media, Gay and Lesbian Media, Human Rights Media, Independence Movement Media, Indigenous Peoples Media, Information Policy, Activism, Internet, Labor Media, News, Performance Art Media, Popular Song, Press, Radio, Social Movement Media, Regions. The Cambridge History of American Literature: Volume 5, Poetry and Criticism, 1900-1950 Sacvan Bercovitch, Cyrus R. Books, Bricks and Bytes Stephen R. Graubard, Paul LeClerc, 2017-07-05 Libraries are experiencing a technological revolution that goes well beyond anything that has existed since the invention of printing Not surprisingly the digital library with all that it portends for the future of the book and the periodical but also with all that it implies for the kinds of information that will be collected and disseminated will necessarily preoccupy those responsible for libraries in the new century Everything from copyright access and cost to the nature of the reading public itself is now up for re examination Books Bricks and Bytes brings together an extraordinary array of authors at the cutting edge of these concerns not only within the United States but experts drawn from Germany France Russia the United Kingdom Brazil and India James H Billington discusses the Library of Congress in the information age Ann S Okerson outlines two models for securing scholarly information Donald S Lamm discusses the shaky partnership of publishers and librarians in this new environment Klaus Dieter Lehmann provides a framework for maintaining the intellectual heritage of the past in a digitized future Each contributor shows in concrete detail and vivid illustration that the library as a world of holdings is increasingly valued as an incomparable place to access information In his preface to the book Stephen Graubard reminds us that whether or not one believes in the reality of the information revolution that is said to be overtaking the world it is obvious that the libraries being built today do not resemble those marble sanctuaries constructed in the Victorian age or in the early twentieth century This is a work that shows how libraries have been transformed from refuges from the external world to places that reflect the social and intellectual values of specific societies The idea that the library is a public trust and public resource is at the center of this unusually fine collection at the cutting edge of professional and public life
