Ilson, 1986-01-01 Designed to help lexicographers compile better dictionaries of English this book provides information about the language that is not available in any other single source It is the first serious attempt to describe in detail the lexical and grammatical differences between American and British English and offers a trailblazing solution to the vexing problem of how to treat General American and British RP pronunciation in the same dictionary with the help of a Simplified Transcription for which any typewriter keyboard can be adapted and a pioneering description of the principles concerning the treatment of fixed grammatical and lexical collocations in future general purpose dictionaries of English

John U. Monroe Toni-Lee Capossela, 2012-12-17 In 1967 John U. Monroe dean of the college at Harvard left his twenty year administrative career at that prestigious university for a teaching position at Miles College an unaccredited historically black college on the outskirts of Birmingham Alabama This unconventional move was a natural continuation of Monroe's life-long commitment to equal opportunity in education. A champion of the underprivileged, Monroe embodied both the virtues of the Greatest Generation and the idealism of the civil rights era. His teaching career spanned more than four decades and, as biographer Toni Lee Capossela demonstrates, his influence reached well beyond his lifetime. In addition to being a talented administrator, Monroe was a World War II veteran, a crusading journalist, a civil rights proponent, and a spokesman for the fledgling Peace Corps. His dedication to social justice outlasted the fervor of the 1960s and fueled bold initiatives in higher education. While at Harvard, he developed a financial aid formula that became the national template for needs-based scholarships and earned him the title "The Father of Modern Financial Aid." During his decade at Miles College, he spearheaded a satellite freshman program in the economically depressed Greene County, then went on to help design a literacy program, a senior research requirement, and a writing across the curriculum program at Tougaloo College. When hearing and memory loss drove him from the classroom, he moved his base of operations to Tougaloo's Writing Center, working with students in a collaborative relationship that suited his personality and teaching style. Only in 1996, after struggling with the symptoms of Alzheimer's for several years, did he retire with great reluctance.

John U. Monroe, Uncommon Educator, is a tribute to this passionate teacher and an affirmation of how one person can inspire many to initiate positive and lasting change.
