Rainforest Tony Juniper, 2018-03-29 Rainforests are the lungs of our planet regulators of the earth's temperature and weather They are also home to 50 per cent of the world's animals and plants which for centuries have been the source of many of our key medicines And yet we've all heard of their systematic destruction the raising of trees to make way for plantations of oil palms or cattle the disenfranchisement of indigenous peoples and the corruption that leads to illegal logging and pollution But this is the full story you've never heard an in depth wide ranging first hand narrative that not only looks at the state of the world's tropical rainforests today and the implications arising from their continuing decline but also at what is being done and can be done in future to protect the forests and the 1.6 billion people that depend upon them It is inspirational too in its descriptions of the rainforest's remarkable birds and plants and its indigenous people Rainforest is a personal story drawing on the author's many years experience at the frontline of the fight to save the rainforests explaining the science and history of the campaigns and what it has felt like to be there amid the conflicts and dilemmas Islands of

Rainforest Edvard Hviding, Tim Bayliss-Smith, 2018-05-08 This title was first published in 2000 An original and thought provoking analysis of modern initiatives in the tropical rain forest While issues such as logging eco timber eco tourism have been widely analyzed from an outsider's perspective this book considers them from the local people's viewpoint in terms of a long history of the rainforest uses The authors demonstrate that the relationship of indigenous people to the tropical forest is not essentially timeless nor is it primarily spiritual or mystical It is in fact firmly connected to modern realities while still being rooted in historical beliefs and practices Standing at the intersection of anthropology historical geography and rainforest ecology and also at the interface of the local and the global this ethnographically grounded study dispels a number of commonly held assumptions It reveals how processes of impact are actually two way interactions as local communities in Melanesia incorporate industries like logging into rapidly evolving post colonial society and economy Rainforest Radio Georgia Ennis, 2025 Rainforest Radio follows Napo Kichwa media producers performers and consumers across a disrupted

Shireman, 2002-01-11 With clear direct language and dozens of real world examples the authors show how a company can become like nature a complex living system that doesn't merely balance competing interests but truly integrates them Isle of Fire Christian A. Kull, 2004-07-07 Long considered both best friend and worst enemy to humankind fire is at once creative and destructive On the endangered tropical island of Madagascar these two faces of fire have fueled a century long conflict between rural farmers and island leaders Based on detailed fieldwork in Malagasy villages and a thorough archival investigation Isle of Fire offers a detailed analysis of why Madagascar has always been aflame why it always will be aflame and ultimately as Christian Kull argues why it should remain aflame

Tropical Rain Forest: A Wider Perspective F.B. Goldsmith, 2012-12-06 The international perspective for this book is the unprecedented level of concern over deforestation recognized by the meeting of world leaders at the 1992 Earth Summit in Rio de Janeiro and culminating in the appointment of the Intergovernmental Panel on Forests IPF under the auspices of the UN Commission on Sustainable Development The wide range of issues covered by the authors in this volume reflects the breadth of the international debate from national policies and activist campaigning through economic and social objectives to the sustainable management of forest and soil resources Since the conservation campaigns of the 1980s the focus of international concern has widened from tropical rain forests to all forest formations in all regions with increased recognition of global values and common responsibilities However while forest cover in some temperate countries is increasing irrational deforestation at historically unprecedented levels of damage to biodiversity and to other environmental values remains most acute in tropical countries where the need to use the natural resources for sustainable development is greatest and the capability weakest While accepting the urgency of the situation and the need for greater coherence of action at a global level the 1997 report of the IPF to the UN Commission emphasized the powers and responsibilities of national governments and the importance of National Forest Programmes but with the fuller participation of local communities and with enhanced access to international assistance My Teacher Rides a Harley Gary Dulabaum, 2003 In this memoir about kids creativity and the power of songwriting Gary Dulabaum inspires and entertains Whether recounting his early days as a struggling reader and writer or outlining the songwriting process he uses in student workshops around the country Gary's belief in creativity as a learning tool is empowering This book includes the tools and processes teachers need to begin writing songs in their classrooms a CD of songs students can sing along with and classroom activities to enhance the educational value of the songs Throughout Gary shows concern for children and their ability to communicate A great way for teachers to expose their students to the writing process and encourage their personal creativity Book jacket The Rough Guide to Costa Rica Jean McNeil, 2001 Women's Voices from the Rainforest Janet Gabriel Townsend, 2005-08-05 International development policy is responsible for much of the destruction of Central and Latin American rainforests This explores how indigenous women are at last turning their voices to action demanding grassroots strategies as the solution examines on a global scale the progress of environmental marketing in the 1990s and considers how social issues are increasingly becoming critical factors in how corporations meet the ever growing demands and expectations of customers. Despite the fact that such issues are increasingly important in marketing activities around the world it is difficult for practitioners to keep up to date with complex and rapidly changing information and ideas. The purpose of this book is to provide practitioners and academics with best practice examples and actionable recommendations on how to implement and appraise green marketing activities. It will provide information and ideas for those involved in marketing on how to incorporate environmental and social considerations as well as providing new perspectives on marketing for environmental managers. To achieve a comprehensive viewpoint the book is split into three sections. The first sets out the strategic issues and rationale for green marketing, the second addresses tactical issues in more detail and the third provides detailed international case studies. Topics addressed by the global set of contributors include the growing area of products versus services, environmental product development, green marketing alliances, environmental communications, green consumers, eco tourism and environmental marketing in developing countries. Marketing is not only a sequel to the successful first volume but redefines global progress towards the successful marketing of greener products and services. Bibliografia sobre Sensores Remotos, Microwave Remote Sensing Tools in Environmental Science Costas A. Varotsos, Vladimir F. Krapivin, 2020-06-09. This book gives new insight to the study of the global environmental changes using the geoinformatics and microwave remote sensing tools together with the adaptive evolutionary technology of geoinformation monitoring. The main advantage of this book consists in the accumulation of the interdisciplinary scientific knowledge for the parameterization of the global biogeochemical cycles and other environmental processes in the context of globalization and sustainable development. In this regard the crucial global problems of the dynamics of the climate nature society system have been considered and the key problems of ensuring its sustainable development have been addressed. An analysis of the present trend in changing ecological systems has been discussed including different types of forest ecosystems and ocean aquatories. The emphasis has been given to the accomplishment of the global geoinformation monitoring which could provide a reliable control of the environmental processes development with reliable prognostic estimates of the consequences of human activities. A new approach to the numerical modelling of the climate nature society system has been presented and demonstrative results have been given about the modelling of the dynamics of this system's characteristics in cases of realization of some scenarios of the anthropogenic impacts to the biogeochemical cycles, the land ecosystems and oceans. Methods and algorithms for the big data manipulation and processing in the remote sensing environmental monitoring systems have been described. The Brazilian Amazon Rainforest Luiz C. Barbosa, 2000. Barbosa sociology. San Francisco State University provides a global world systemic analysis of the problem of deforestation of the Brazilian Amazon rainforest.
