

THE PHILOSOPHY OF MATHEMATICS EDUCATION: AN OVERVIEW¹

Paul Ernest

ABSTRACT

This chapter offers an overview of the philosophy of mathematics education. This sub-field is characterised in both narrow and broad terms, concerning the aims of mathematics education and all philosophical aspects of research in mathematics education, respectively. The sub-field is also explored in terms of its questions and practices, which can be called a bottom-up perspective, as well as in terms of the applications of branches of philosophy to mathematics education, which might be called a top-down perspective. From the bottom-up one can characterize the area in terms of questions, and I have asked: What are the aims and purposes of teaching and learning mathematics? What is mathematics? How does mathematics relate to society? What is learning mathematics? What is mathematics teaching? What is the status of mathematics education as knowledge field? In characterizing the sub-field from a 'top down' perspective I look briefly at the contributions of ontology and metaphysics, aesthetics, epistemology and learning theory, social philosophy, ethics, and the research methodology of mathematics education. This reveals both how rich and deep the contributions of philosophy are to the theoretical foundations of our field of study. But even these different approaches leave many questions unanswered. For example: what are the responsibilities of mathematics and what is the responsibility of our own subfield, the philosophy of mathematics education? I conclude that the role of the philosophy of mathematics education is to analyse, question, challenge, and critique the claims of mathematics education practice, policy and research.

INTRODUCTION: WHAT IS THE PHILOSOPHY OF MATHEMATICS EDUCATION?

In the past quarter century the philosophy of mathematics education has emerged as a loosely defined area of research, primarily concerned with the philosophical aspects of mathematics education. This chapter aims to briefly map out some of its terrain, and attempt a synoptic vision of the breadth and depth of this area. This will prepare the ground for the more detailed and specific enquiries in the chapters that follow. This task is made all the more urgent as the question of what constitutes the philosophy of mathematics education is not without ambiguity and multiple answers. For example, is the philosophy of mathematics education a particular, specific approach to mathematics teaching and learning or to mathematics education research? The definite article might be taken to imply a claim for the definitiveness of the account, namely, that a unique philosophy, rationale or direction is proposed. This is not what is intended here, and 'the' is meant to indicate a definite area of enquiry, a specific domain, not a single fixed ideological perspective. Thus, the philosophy of mathematics education is not a dominant interpretation but rather a particular, if not completely defined, area of study and investigation, a sub-specialism within mathematics education.
