magnetic resonance NMR is an analytical tool used by chemists and physicists to study the structure and dynamics of molecules. In recent years no other technique has grown to such importance as NMR spectroscopy. It is used in all branches of science where precise structural determination is required and where the nature of interactions and reactions in solution is being studied. Annual Reports on NMR Spectroscopy has established itself as a means for the specialist and nonspecialist alike to become familiar with new applications of NMR spectroscopy in all branches of chemistry. Volume 48 carried on the tradition with contributions on dynamics of polymers from one and two dimensional solid state NMR spectroscopy, NMR spectroscopy of large proteins, accurate diagnosis and prognosis of human cancers by protein MRS and a three stage classification strategy, NMR determination of porous media property distributions and NMR studies of micelles.

Solution Behavior of Surfactants K.L. Mittal, E.J. Fendler, 2012-12-06 This and its companion Volume 2 comprise the proceedings of the International Symposium on Solution Behavior of Surfactants: Theoretical and Applied Aspects organized under the auspices of the 11th Northeast Regional Meeting of the American Chemical Society held in Potsdam, N.Y. June 30-July 3, 1980. This Symposium represented the third event in the series of symposia dealing with the topic of surfactants in solution. The first Symposium was held in Albany, N.Y. in 1976 under the title Micellization, Solubilization and Microemulsions, the proceedings of which have been documented in a two volume set. The second was held under the title Solution Chemistry of Surfactants in 1978 in Knoxville, TN and the proceedings of this event have also been properly chronicled. Apropos the fourth biennial Symposium in this series is entitled International Symposium on Surfactants in Solution. K.L. Mittal and B. Lindman, Cochairmen, and is scheduled to be held from June 27 to July 2, 1982 in Lund, Sweden. Since these biennial events have been very successful and important in bringing researchers with varied interests together and in stimulating interdisciplinary communication, so the plans are to continue these on a regular basis with a change in venue for each meeting.

Surface Phenomena in Enhanced Oil Recovery Shah, 2013-03-14 It is with great pleasure and satisfaction that I present to the international scientific community this collection of papers presented at the symposium on Surface Phenomena in Enhanced Oil Recovery held at Stockholm, Sweden during August 20-25, 1979. It has been an exciting and exhausting experience to edit the papers included in this volume. The proceedings cover six major areas of research related to chemical flooding processes for enhanced oil recovery: namely 1. Fundamental aspects of the oil displacement process, 2. Microstructure of surfactant systems, 3. Emulsion rheology and oil displacement mechanisms, 4. Wettability and oil displacement mechanisms, 5. Adsorption on clays and chemical loss mechanisms, and 6. Polymer rheology and surfactant-polymer interactions. This book also includes two invited review papers: namely Research on Enhanced Oil Recovery: Past, Present and Future, and Formation and Properties of Micelles and Microemulsions by Professor J.J. Taber and Professor H.F. Eicke respectively. This symposium volume reflects the current state of art and our understanding of various surface phenomena in enhanced oil recovery processes. The participation by researchers from various countries in this symposium reflects the global interest in this area of research and the international effort to develop the science and technology of enhanced oil recovery processes      First International Congress on Adhesion Science and Technology---invited papers van Ooij, Jr. Anderson, 2023-03-08 This Festschrift documents the Proceedings of the First International Congress on Adhesion Science and Technology held in honor of Dr Kash Mittal on the occasion of his 50 birthday in Amsterdam The Netherlands October 16 20 1995 It contains the full accounts of the plenary and invited lectures which are divided into the following seven parts      Magnetic Resonance in Colloid and Interface Science J. Fraissard, H.A. Resing, 2012-12-06 In 1976 on the occasion of the Centennial of the American Chemical Society H A RESING and C G WADE organized an international symposium on magnetic resonance in colloid and interface science which brought together a large number of scientists from the United States and from abroad The aim of this symposium was to include all experimental inorganic organic and biochemical systems in which molecules are bound to interfaces and to show the contribution of various techniques based on magnetic resonance to the knowledge of these systems This ambitious program resulted into a very interesting gathering that initiated a more interdisciplinary approach to the problem of interfaces Because of the success of this symposium it was suggested that a similar meeting should be organized in Europe within the next three years Professor J FRAISSARD accepted this task but considering the rapid developments in the theory and in the applications of the magnetic resonance spectroscopies the organizing committee decided to arrange the meeting to be held in MENTON France in two parts the first being a School and the second the Symposium proper The former was intended to review and to teach theoretical aspects as well as to discuss the experimental results derived from these advanced methods the Symposium was to be for the discussion of the latest results at the highest level
