Michael Heizer Sculpture In Reverse:

Michael Heizer Michael Heizer, 2014      Michael Heizer, 1984      Michael Heizer Julia Brown, 1984      Sculpture in Reverse Michael Heizer, 1984      Michael Heizer: The Once and Future Monuments William L. Fox, 2019-09-24 The most comprehensive account available of Michael Heizer's art by a writer and curator who has critical experience with the artist and his work Michael Heizer is among the greatest and often least accessible American artists As one of the last living figures who launched the Land Art movement his legacy of works that are literally and metaphorically monumental has an incalculable influence on the world of sculpture and environmental art But his seclusion in the remote Nevada desert as well as his notorious obduracy have resulted in significant gaps in our critical understanding Michael Heizer The Once and Future Monuments spans the breadth of Heizer's career uniquely combining fieldwork personal narrative and biographical research to create the first major assessment in years of this titan of American art Author William L. Fox founding director of the Center for Art Environment at the Nevada Museum of Art has alternately been a sponsor advocate and critic of Heizer's work for decades Fox's understanding of the artist's history and connection to landscape his time spent with Heizer at the remote ranch where Heizer is finishing his magnum opus the mile long sculpture City and his access to some of Heizer's key associates give him a unique position from which to discuss the artist's work Fox has also made numerous site visits to Heizer's work including early pieces in the Nevada desert now largely lost to the elements to correct the often inconsistent accounts of their locations Last Fox imparts a crucial new understanding of Heizer's work by elaborating on the artist's bond with his father the famed archaeologist and cultural ecologist Robert Heizer who enlisted his son on important digs in Mexico and Peru providing the young man with an appreciation of site landscape and geology that would thoroughly inform his work Michael Heizer The Once and Future Monuments is a long overdue addition to the critical and biographical literature of this major figure in American art      The New Monuments and the End of Man Robert Slifkin, 2019-11-05 How leading American artists reflected on the fate of humanity in the nuclear era through monumental sculpture In the wake of the atomic bombings of Japan in 1945 artists in the United States began to question what it meant to create a work of art in a world where humanity could be rendered extinct by its own hand The New Monuments and the End of Man examines how some of the most important artists of postwar America revived the neglected tradition of the sculptural monument as a way to grapple with the cultural and existential anxieties surrounding the threat of nuclear annihilation Robert Slifkin looks at such iconic works as the industrially evocative welded steel sculptures of David Smith the austere structures of Donald Judd and the desolate yet picturesque earthworks of Robert Smithson Transforming how we understand this crucial moment in American art he traces the intersections of postwar sculptural practice with cybernetic theory science fiction cinema and literature and the political debates surrounding nuclear warfare Slifkin identifies previously unrecognized affinities of the sculpture of the 1940s and 1950s with the minimalism and land art of the 1960s and 1970s and acknowledges the important contributions of postwar artists who have been marginalized until now such as Raoul Hague Peter Grippe and Robert Mallary Strikingly illustrated throughout The New Monuments and the End of Man spans the decades from Hiroshima to the Fall of Saigon when the atomic bomb cast its shadow over American art Seeing Silence Mark C. Taylor,2022-02-18 Finding silence amidst restlessness is what makes creative life possible and death comprehensible But how do we find more importantly how do we understand silence while immersed in the chattering of the digital age Have we forgotten how to listen Are we less prepared than ever for the ultimate silence that awaits us all Mark C Taylor s new book is a philosophy of silence for our nervous buzzing present a timely work for a world where noise is a means of distraction domination and control Here Taylor asks the reader to pause long enough to hear what is not said and to attend to what remains unsayable But in his account our way to hearing silence is to see it Taylor explores variations of silence by considering the work of leading modern and postmodern visual artists from Barnett Newman and Ad Reinhardt to James Turrell and Anish Kapoor Drawing also on the insights of philosophers theologians writers and composers he weaves a rich narrative modeled on the Stations of the Cross We come from and return to silence in between silence is the gap hesitation interval that allows thoughts to form and words to emerge he writes His chapter titles suggest our positions toward silence or rather our pre positions Without Before From Beyond Against Within Around Between Toward With In Recasting Hegel s phenomenology of spirit and Kierkegaard s stages on life s way Taylor translates the traditional Via Dolorosa into a Nietzschean Via Jubilosa that affirms silence in the midst of noise light in the midst of darkness An Archaeology of the Contemporary Era Alfredo Gonzalez-Ruibal,2018-12-12 An Archaeology of the Contemporary Era approaches the contemporary age between the late nineteenth and twenty first centuries as an archaeological period defined by specific material processes It reflects on the theory and practice of the archaeology of the contemporary past from epistemological political ethical and aesthetic viewpoints and characterises the present based on archaeological traces from the spatial temporal and material excesses that define it The materiality of our era the book argues and particularly its ruins and rubbish reveals something profound original and disturbing about humanity This is the first attempt at describing the contemporary era from an archaeological point of view Global in scope the book brings together case studies from every continent and considers sources from peripheral and rarely considered traditions meanwhile engaging in an interdisciplinary dialogue with philosophy anthropology history and geography An Archaeology of the Contemporary Era will be essential reading for students and practitioners of the archaeology of the contemporary past historical archaeology and archaeological theory It will also be of interest to anybody concerned with globalisation modernity and the Anthropocene The Oxford Handbook of Material Culture Studies Dan Hicks,Mary C. Beaudry,2010-09-02 Written by an international team of experts the Handbook makes accessible a full range of theoretical and applied approaches to the study of material culture and the place of materiality in social theory presenting current thinking about material culture from the fields of archaeology anthropology geography and science and technology studies     Image Mark C. Taylor, Thomas A. Carlson, Mary-Jane Rubenstein, 2021-09-20 The three essays in Image written by leading philosophers of religion explore the modern power of the visual at the intersection of the human and the technological. Modern life is steeped in images; image making and attempts to control the world through vision. Mastery of images has been advanced by technologies that expand and reshape vision and enable us to create, store, transmit and display images. The three essays in Image written by leading philosophers of religion Mark C. Taylor, Mary-Jane Rubenstein and Thomas A. Carlson explore the power of the visual at the intersection of the human and the technological. Building on Heidegger's notion that modern humanity aims to master the world by picturing or representing the real, they investigate the contemporary culture of the image in its philosophical, religious, economic, political, imperial and military dimensions, challenging the abstraction, anonymity and dangerous disconnection of contemporary images. Taylor traces a history of capitalism focusing on its lack of humility, particularly in the face of mortality, and he considers art as a possible way to reconnect us to the earth. Through a genealogy of iconic views from space, Rubenstein exposes the delusions of conquest associated with extraterrestrial travel. Starting with the pressing issues of surveillance, capitalism and facial recognition technology, Carlson extends Heidegger's analysis through a meditation on the telematic elimination of the individual brought about by totalizing technologies. Together, these essays call for a consideration of how we can act responsibly toward the past in a way that preserves the earth for future generations. Attending to the fragility of material things and to our own mortality, they propose new practices of imagination grounded in love and humility.

Twentieth-century American Art Erika Doss, 2002 Offers an overview of twentieth-century American art exploring the relationships between American art museums and audiences in the era.     Earthworks Suzaan Boettger, 2002 A comprehensive history of the Earthworks movement provides an in-depth analysis of the forms that initiated Land Art, profiling top contributors and achievements within a context of the social and political climate of the 1960s and noting the form's relationship to ecological movements. Fine Arts     The Void, The Grid & The Sign William L. Fox, 2016-10-01 This is a story that few know, but those who do are its disciples. The story of the highest and driest of all American deserts, the Great Basin, has no finer voice than that of William Fox. Fox's book is divided into the three sections of the title. In The Void, he leads us through the Great Basin landscape, investigating our visual response to it: a pattern of mountains and valleys on a scale of such magnitude and emptiness and undifferentiated by shape, form and color that the visual and cognitive expectations of the human mind are confounded and impaired. The Grid leads us on a journey through the evolution of cartography in the nineteenth century and the explorations of John Charles Fremont to the net of maps, section markers, railroads, telegraph lines and highways that humans have thrown across the void throughout history. The Sign wends us through the metaphors and language we continue to place around and over the void, revealing the Great Basin as a palimpsest where, for example, the neon boulevards of Las Vegas interplay with ancient petroglyphs. In this one-of-a-kind travel book that allows us to travel within our own neurophysiological processes as well as out into the arresting void of the Great Basin Fox has created a dazzling new standard at the frontier of writing about the American West His stunning and broad insight draws from the fields of natural history cognitive psychology art history western history archaeology and anthropology and will be of value to scholars and readers in all these subjects      SpatioTemporalities on the Line Sebastian Dorsch,Jutta Vinzent,2017-11-20 Lines are omnipresent in our everyday experience and language They reflect and influence the spatial and temporal structures of our world view Taking Tim Ingold s cultural history of the line as a starting point this book understands lines as expressions that allow insights into cultural theoretical phenomena and thus go beyond their mere form The essays will investigate this premise from various disciplines architecture art cartography film literature and philosophy      Robert Rauschenberg's »Erased de Kooning Drawing« (1953) Gregor Stemmrch,2023-01-01 Erased de Kooning Drawing ist ein Kunstwerk das auf radikale Weise die Definition von Kunst und das Verst ndnis von Autorschaft herausfordert Drei amerikanische K nstler waren 1953 an seiner Erschaffung beteiligt Robert Rauschenberg radierte eine Zeichnung Willem de Koonings aus der mit einem gewissen Widerwillen sein Einverst ndnis gegeben hatte Jasper Johns versah es anl sslich seiner ersten Pr sentation mit einem Label das ma geblich zu seiner Wahrnehmung als eigenst ndigem Werk beitrug Das zu etwas Neuem transformierte Blatt wurde in den 1950er Jahren als Neo Dada aufgefasst in den 1960ern als Beginn der Konzeptkunst und in den 1980er Jahren als Aufbruch in die Postmoderne Zahlreiche K nstler innen bezogen sich auf das Werk und Rauschenberg selbst griff es immer wieder auf Es erwies sich als Testfall f r Bestimmungen von Modernismus Literalismus und Postmodernismus Gregor Stemmrchs kenntnisreiche kunsttheoretische Betrachtung arbeitet die anhaltende Relevanz des Werks f r die Theorie des Bildes des Index der Spur des Allegorischen und der Frage nach Appropriation heraus      Contemporary Artists Joann Cerrito,1996 A thorough overview on more than 830 modern artists

Inverse Utopia Albert Pope,2024-06-17 Inverse Utopia looks at urbanism from the perspective of modernism and postmodernism as well as at how commercialization has transformed the modern city In his earlier book Ladders 1997 the author described the emergence of the cul de sac as a typical manifestation of this trend In this new book Inverse Utopia Pope argues for the development of architectural and urban forms that respond to contemporary ecological and social challenges The title refers to a statement by the philosopher G nther Anders whereas utopians are unable to make the things they imagine others are unable to imagine the things they make This book is a stand alone volume but may be read as a sequel to Ladders Collection of essays and profiles of design projects The urban design project of modernism and postmodernism Connections between architectural morphology and the consumer economy      A History of Installation Art and the Development of New Art Forms Faye Ran,2009 Art mirrors life life returns the favor How could nineteenth and twentieth century technologies foster both the change in the world view generally called postmodernism and the development of new art forms Scholar and curator Faye Ran shows how interactions of art and technology led to cultural changes and the evolution of Installation art as a genre unto itself a fascinating hybrid of expanded sculpture in terms of context site and environment and expanded theatre in terms of performer performance and public

Earthworks And Beyond John Beardsley, 2006-06 This volume now includes the most recent and most interesting efforts by artists often in collaboration with architects and city planners to transform ravaged landscapes and desolate cityscapes into pleasure giving parks and artworks After an introduction tracing the historical roots of art in the landscape the opening chapter deals with such innovative artists as Robert Smithson Nancy Holt and Christo who in the 1960s began to free their art from the confines of tradition by constructing monumental sculptures in the environment The following chapters discuss their predecessors peers and successors including Constantin Brancusi James Turrell and many others The final three chapters explore the increasing involvement of artists in land reclamation and urban design featuring projects by Mel Chin Maya Lin Martin Puryear and others
