century children's literature from around the world. Each chapter is written by an expert contributor and the volume ranges over a disparate variety of topics. These include poetry, series books, pacifist fiction, gender issues, religion, and literature, eco-criticism, minority experiences, humor, and the Holocaust, fantasy, and science fiction, and computer culture. In exploring these issues in relation to children's literature, the contributors reveal the shifting nature of our values and the world in which we live. Global in nature, the chapters look at children's literature from such places as Germany, Holland, the United Kingdom, Australia, and the United States.

How Picturebooks Work Maria Nikolajeva, Carole Scott, 2013-02-01

How Picturebooks Work is an innovative and engaging look at the interplay between text and image in picturebooks. The authors explore picturebooks as a specific medium or genre in literature and culture, one that prepares children for other media of communication, and they argue that picturebooks may be the most influential media of all in the socialization and representation of children. Spanning an international range of children's books, this book examines such favorites as Curious George and Frog and Toad Are Friends, along with the works of authors and illustrators including Maurice Sendak and Tove Jansson, among others. With 116 illustrations, How Picturebooks Work offers the student of children's literature a new methodology, new theories, and a new set of critical tools for examining the picturebook form.

Models for Writing Chris Buckton, 2000

The Models for Writing books provide a complete programme to teach the writing process through shared, guided, and extended work. Based on the National Literacy Strategy requirements, the books feature sentence-level focus, lively activities, and an easy-to-use solution for differentiation.

Exploring Children's Literature Nikki Gamble, 2013-06-30

This book introduces the role of children's literature in promoting reading for pleasure and creating lifelong readers. Focusing on a range of fiction relevant to the National Curriculum, it covers genres such as poetry, non-fiction, traditional stories, and picture books. Concepts and terminology are explained through a wide range of examples. This revised edition includes investigative activities and practical exercises for personal or classroom use. Examples from world literature and work in translation highlight the range of diverse material available for teaching inspiration. Coverage of social, cultural, and political reading practices to increase understanding of factors that influence children's reading experience. Coverage of disability and equality issues to help inform teaching strategies that overcome barriers to learning. This book is essential for students on PGCE, BEd, and BA Education courses, and for teachers undertaking CPD in English literacy or children's literature. It provides useful support material for language coordinators and literacy consultants and can be used to support distance learning as an aid to self-study or as a course text.
