Modernization Of China

Peter R. Moody

Modernization Of China:

The Modernization of China Rozman, 1982-08 In the Modernization of China an interdisciplinary team of scholars collaborate closely to provide the first systematic integrated analysis of China in transformation from an agrarian based to an urbanized and industrialized society Moving from the legacy of the Ming and Ch'ing dynasties to the reforms and revolutions of the 20th century the authors seek reasons for China's inability to achieve rapid steady growth during a 200 year long struggle to modernize They examine the changing shape of Chinese society the role of the state in local politics military affairs economics the development of the educational system changes in family population and settlement patterns science and technology world views and foreign relations And they make frequent comparisons between China's experience with growth and that of two other latecomers to modernization Japan and Russia The result is a book that brings much needed clarity and perspective to our understanding of China and the way a great civilization attempts to meet the challenge of modernity

A New World is Possible Yu Jiang, 2023-02-11 This book gives a panoramic review of China's 70 years of modernization reveals the historical process and logic of the formation of the modernization path with Chinese characteristics especially focuses on the key decision making process in the history of China's modernization theoretically compares the Chinese model and the western mainstream model and summarizes the characteristics and experience of China's development model At the same time it reveals the causes of the global crisis from a historical perspective and puts forward the future of China based on historical experience The book tries to answer the following hot debating questions What is the core of Chinese experience Is China model a new model of modernization Is China's model sustainable Is this model compatible with the mainstream model What is the relationship between China's revolution and modernization How will China's development affect the world This book will be found helpful by all scholars students and the public who are interested in China's development path

China Modernization Report Outlook (2001-2016) Chuanqi He, 2020-08-18 Modernization is a complex phenomenon in the world and is termed as a development goal in some countries and regions This book the first of its kind discusses how a country can become modernized It takes a new approach to addressing core issues in the era of globalization from a Chinese perspective It analyzes how to become a developed and modernized country why are some countries developed while others are not how many countries will rise and how many will fall will China become a new modernized country in the 21st century and so on The author presents a summary of 15 annual reports of China Modernization Report from 2001 to 2016 The themes covered include basic principles of modernization modernization science modernization theory and modernization evaluation level related modernization world international national regional and urban modernization field relative modernization economical social cultural and ecological modernization and sector specified modernization agricultural industrial and service modernization etc The book further discusses the principles and methods of world modernization as well as the trends in modernization in the world and the modernization strategy in China based on theoretical studies and research by a Chinese team for more than 16 years This research covered 131 countries and 96% of the world's population with a time span of 300 years from 1750 to 2050 Shanghai Yue-man Yeung,1996 As China's largest city best known for its pre eminent achievements in the early part of the twentieth century Shanghai grew modestly in comparison with southern China after the adoption of China's open policy in 1978 With the 1990 announcement of Pudong as an area for special development Shanghai has raced ahead seemingly on its way to an economic and cultural resurgence that is likely to accelerate development and modernization in the Yangzi Delta and China at large This volume focuses on the physical and socioeconomic transformation of Shanghai across a wide range of topics Drawing on the experience and expertise of researchers primarily in Hong Kong this study is a major contribution to the subject of economic development and social change in China It seeks to understand analyze and interpret how Shanghai has transformed itself in recent years

Modernizing China A. Doak Barnett,2019-03-05 Since the death of Mao China has entered a new period in its development Turning away from the all encompassing emphasis on revolutionary struggle and ideological transformation that characterized the last years of the Maoist era China's leaders under Deng Xiaoping have initiated dramatic new reform and development policies In original essays the contributors all senior specialists on contemporary China analyze the reasons for the new policies the nature and impact of the changes now occurring and the prospects for a continuation of these policies in the future Specifically they examine the Chinese polity as a consultative authoritarian system the farreaching changes in China's agriculture important shifts in foreign economic relations the gradual modernization policy pursued by its military leaders the relaxation of controls on cultural life and the possibility that current social policies may well increase equality rather than inequality in Chinese society The authors conclude that it is too early to judge the eventual long term outcome of current reforms which they believe grew out of the political crises and chronic economic problems that afflicted China in the late 1960s and early 1970s Although they see some opposition and built in limits to reform on balance they foresee strong support for continued reform and believe it will be difficult for future leaders to reverse course Economic
