

DAWN AFTER DARK

The background of the entire image is a cityscape at sunset. The sky is a deep orange and red, with wispy clouds. In the center, a large, stylized white logo is superimposed. It consists of a triangle with a sun rising from the bottom center, with flames or rays extending upwards and outwards. The sun itself is a bright white circle with a face-like pattern of dots. The city below is a dense urban area with various buildings, including a prominent skyscraper in the center. The overall tone is dramatic and apocalyptic.

French Political Travel Writing in the Interwar Years Martyn Cornick,Martin Hurcombe,Angela Kershaw,2017-02-10 This book studies travel writing produced by French authors between the two World Wars following visits to authoritarian regimes in Europe and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics USSR It sheds new light on the phenomenon of French political travel in this period by considering the well documented appeal of Soviet communism for French intellectuals alongside their interest in other radical regimes which have been much less studied fascist Italy the Iberian dictatorships and Nazi Germany Through analyses of the travel writing produced as a result of such visits the book gauges the appeal of these forms of authoritarianism for inter war French intellectuals from a broad political spectrum It examines not only those whose political sympathies with the extreme right or extreme left were already publicly known but also non aligned intellectuals who were interested in political models that offered an apparently radical alternative to the French Third Republic This study shows how travel writing provided a space for reflection on the lessons France might learn from the radical political experiments of the inter war years It argues that such writing can usefully be read as a form of utopian thinking distinguishing this from colloquial understandings of utopia as an ideal location Utopianism is understood neither as a fantasy ungrounded in the real nor as a dangerously totalitarian ideal but in line with Karl Mannheim Paul Ricœur and Ruth Levitas as a form of non congruence with the real that it seeks to transcend The utopianism of French political travel writing is seen to lie not in the attempt to portray the destination visited as utopia but rather in the pursuit of a dialogue with radical political alterity
