Letter-writing Manuals and Instruction from Antiquity to the Present Carol Poster, Linda C. Mitchell, 2007 Once nearly as ubiquitous as dictionaries and cookbooks are today letter writing manuals and their predecessors served to instruct individuals not only on the art of letter composition but also in effect on personal conduct Poster and Mitchell contend that the study of letter writing theory which bridges rhetorical theory and grammatical studies represents an emerging discipline in need of definition In this volume they gather the contributions of eleven experts to sketch the contours of epistolary theory and collect the historic and bibliographic materials from Isocrates to email that form the basis for its study

The Art and Science of Making the New Man in Early 20th-Century Russia Yvonne Howell, Nikolai Kremmentsov, 2021-12-02 The idea that morally mentally and physically superior new men might replace the currently existing mankind has periodically seized the imagination of intellectuals leaders and reformers throughout history This volume offers a multidisciplinary investigation into how the new man was made in Russia and the early Soviet Union in the first third of the 20th century The traditional narrative of the Soviet new man as a creature forged by propaganda is challenged by the strikingly new and varied case studies presented here The book focuses on the interplay between the rapidly developing experimental life sciences such as biology medicine and psychology and countless cultural products ranging from film and fiction dolls and museum exhibits to pedagogical projects sculptures and exemplary agricultural fairs With contributions from scholars based in the United States Canada the UK Germany and Russia the picture that emerges is emphatically more complex contradictory and suggestive of strong parallels with other new man visions in Europe and elsewhere In contrast to previous interpretations that focused largely on the apparent disconnect between utopian new man rhetoric and the harsh realities of everyday life in the Soviet Union this volume brings to light the surprising historical trajectories of new man visions their often obscure origins acclaimed and forgotten champions unexpected and complicated results and mutual interrelations In short the volume is a timely examination of a recurring theme in modern history when dramatic advancements in science and technology conjoin with anxieties about the future to fuel dreams of a new and improved mankind General Encyclopedias in Print S. D. Hayden,2024-07-11 For centuries Jesus parables have been and still are extensively interpreted by those who impose Christian dogma and tradition on a parable told decades before Christianity per se even existed There was no Christian tradition when Jesus was teaching his followers and he was teaching regular people not theologians No wonder then that after two millennia Jesus parables coated with a confusing overlay of Christian dogma still puzzle readers of the New Testament Opening the Parables is based on the premise that Jesus taught a singular spiritual truth which once the clutter of others words and interpretations is cleared away appears consistently in all his teachings even in his parables In the best possible way Jesus was a one subject teacher one subject using various teaching techniques both deductive and inductive a one sermon preacher one message told in various ways Everything he taught or preached was about love in the infinite here and now Kingdom of God All his parables proverbs aphorisms and direct statements teach one lesson in the highest realm we can imagine compassionate love is all that matters The School Executive ,1924 Frank Knight and the Chicago School in American Economics Ross B.
