Swope, 2021-05-24 MetroWest is known for its rolling farmland winding rivers and quaint white churches facing green town commons But looks can be deceiving Tales from these small towns captured headlines and shocked readers across the state with lurid details of betrayal cruelty greed and murder Nina Danforth spurred on by love and jealousy made a midnight call to the home of Andrew Emery in Framingham seeking revenge The murder of spinster Mabel Page in Weston sent a man to the electric chair and forty years before Lizzie Borden the grisly axe murder of a husband and wife sent shock waves through the terrified town of Natick Authors James L Parr and Kevin A Swope reveal the stories behind these crimes and the motives of the desperate criminals who perpetrated them

The Politics of Race in New York Phyllis F. Field, 2018-07-05 Black suffrage was a crucial and volatile issue in the North during the Civil War era In The Politics of Race in New York Phyllis F

Field studies the development of racial policies in the Empire State Asserting that it is not possible to understand the move toward black suffrage by examining national trends and the actions of individual politicians she takes a close look at the social context of reform Field assesses popular reaction to the idea of black suffrage by systematically analyzing the results of a series of referenda on the issue held in New York State between 1846 and 1869 Tracing the relation between changes in public opinion and the positions taken by political parties Field concludes that party leaders tried both to express the views of their constituents and to mold those views so as to strengthen and unify their own political organizations Inevitably this intrusion of political considerations in the issue of race had long term consequences for the process of social change in the United States The Politics of Race in New York shows clearly how in 1870 black suffrage could be achieved even though the battle for black equality had yet to begin Outlook ,1929
