New Frontier The Response Of Farmers To Land Degradation A West African Study:

The New Frontier Kojo Amanor, 1994 The rehabilitation of those regions of the Tropics where monocropping has destroyed both local self sufficiency and biologically rich and stable environments is fundamental to the success of any strategy for sustainable development Dr Amanor draws on his study to suggest policies based on regeneration of the local economy diversification of agricultural products and markets community participation in drawing up environmental agendas and utilization of local farmers knowledge Indigenous Land Management in West Africa Kathleen M. Baker, 2000 The success of rural development schemes in Africa particularly those involving land is heavily dependent on understanding the local ecology Any farmer knows this yet rarely has development project design catered adequately for the vicissitudes of the African environment Although environmental unpredictability was recognized in the temperate zone by the mid nineteenth century the ecological theory which was subsequently developed and most widely accepted was based on concepts of norms and equilibria History has shown that the application of such ecological assumptions to African environments is wholly inappropriate This book argues that many methods used by West African smallholder farmers and pastoralists are properly adapted to the region s unpredictable physical environment Field examples from the semi arid and humid zones demonstrate the nature of environmental variability and the skill of indigenous farmers and pastoralists in exploiting this It is thus argued that development planners should where possible model development schemes on the more successful ecologically sound methods of indigenous land management Africa's Emerging Maize Revolution Derek Byerlee, Carl K. Eicher, 1997 Intended for policymakers and scholars the 15 contributions in this volume are divided into two sections the first provides six country case studies of the evolving maize economies of Zimbabwe Zambia Malawi Kenya Ghana and Nigeria The second part synthesizes major technological institutional and policy issues with chapters on research and extension soil fertility seed and fertilizer delivery systems and marketing and price policy Paper edition 754 0 29 95 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR The Oxford Handbook of Modern African History John Parker, Richard Reid, 2013-10 Provides the latest insights into and interpretations of the history of Africa Contested Agronomy James Sumberg, John Thompson, 2012-03-15 The dramatic increases in food prices experienced over the last four years and their effects of hunger and food insecurity as well as human induced climate change and its implications for agriculture food production and food security are key topics within the field of agronomy and agricultural research Contested Agronomy addresses these issues by exploring key developments since the mid 1970s focusing in particular on the emergence of the neoliberal project and the rise of the participation and environmental agendas taking into consideration how these have had profound impacts on the practice of agronomic research in the developing world especially over the last four decades This book explores through a series of case studies the basis for a much needed political agronomy analysis that highlights the impacts of problem framing and narratives historical disjunctures epistemic communities and the increasing pressure to demonstrate success on both agricultural research and the farmers processors and consumers it is meant to serve Whilst being a fascinating and thought provoking read for professionals in the Agriculture and Environmental sciences it will also appeal to students and researchers in agricultural policy development studies geography public administration rural sociology and science and technology studies

Themes in West Africa's History Emmanuel Kwaku Akyeampong, 2006-01-15 There has long been a need for a new textbook on West Africa's history In Themes in West Africa's History editor Emmanuel Kwaku Akyeampong and his contributors meet this need examining key themes in West Africa's prehistory to the present through the lenses of their different disciplines The contents of the book comprise an introduction and thirteen chapters divided into three parts Each chapter provides an overview of existing literature on major topics as well as a short list of recommended reading and breaks new ground through the incorporation of original research The first part of the book examines paths to a West African past including perspectives from archaeology ecology and culture linguistics and oral traditions Part two probes environment society and agency and historical change through essays on the slave trade social inequality religious interaction poverty disease and urbanization Part three sheds light on contemporary West Africa in exploring how economic and political developments have shaped religious expression and identity in significant ways Themes in West Africa's History represents a range of intellectual views and interpretations from leading scholars on West Africa's history It will appeal to college undergraduates graduate students and scholars in the way it draws on different disciplines and expertise to bring together key themes in West Africa's history from prehistory to the present

UNRISD Social Development News, 1994

Land, Labour and the Family in Southern Ghana Kojo Amanor, 2001 This report is based on field work carried out in the Akyem Abuakwa area of the forest region of Ghana a section of the country rich in agricultural land gold and diamonds Through the field work which was undertaken and the empirical material generated the author attempts to chart the processes and patterns of differentiation connected to land and land use in contemporary Ghana

Land Tenure and Resource Access in West Africa, 1999

Global Restructuring and Land Rights in Ghana Kojo Amanor, 1999 The report highlights the long history of commodification of land and labour in Ghana linked to speculative activities and more recently to the activities of international capital agribusiness international agricultural centres and agencies of the state It makes the case for a new land agrarian and natural resource regime that prioritises domestic economic needs to provide security of livelihood to the generality of the people

Studies in Urhobo Culture Peter Palmer Ekeh, 2005 This unique book is the product of pioneering research carried out by scholars native to the Urhobo culture and language Unlike many of the other major ethnic cultures in Nigeria which were studied by Western anthropologist in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries the Urhobo language and culture remained neglected Studies in Urhobo Culture represents a comparatively new area of research approached from an indigenous perspective The result is a wide ranging survey of Urhobo culture in Nigeria offering diverse perspectives on topics such as naming traditions and practices of the Urhobo religious beliefs values and movements traditions of marriage artistic productions food and dress subcultures and the geography of Urhoboland and agricultural practices In depth consideration is given to Urhobo traditional poetry and the intellectual aspects of Urhobo culture and language within the wider complex of the Edoid languages and cultures The contributors further situate the language question within the global context of language endangerment arguing the Urhobo case is an example of how English and Pidgin are imperilling small and medium sized languages in Africa and weakening the hold of indigenous cultures on the younger generation REDD+ Crossroads Post Paris: Politics, Lessons and Interplays Esteve Corbera ,Heike Schroeder,2018-04-13 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue REDD Crossroads Post Paris Politics Lessons and Interplays that was published in Forests

Bibliographie Mensuelle. Partie I, Livres, Documents Officiels, Publications en Série United Nations Library (Geneva, Switzerland),1995 Land and the Politics of Belonging in West Africa ,2005-12-01 Recognizing that land rights are ambiguous negotiable and politically embedded these case studies explore the long term processes and recent changes in contemporary rural West Africa affecting the conversion of control over land into social and political capital and vice versa They point to the colonial origins of what came to be viewed as customary tenure and to the legal pluralism characterizing pre colonial tenure arrangements Furthermore they show the spiritual and ritual importance of land that can be converted into political power and economic prerogatives a dimension neglected by much of the recent literature Analyses cover forest and savannah state and segmentary societies facilitating comparison and insights across the Anglo Francophone divide Reconstructing Nature Peter Dickens,2002-11-01 One of the main features of the contemporary environmental crisis is that no one has a clear idea of what is going on The author uses an extension of Marx s theory of alienation to explain why people find it so difficult to relate their different knowledges of the natural and social world He argues that nevertheless it is possible to relate these to the abstractions of ecological discourse Emancipation can come only through embracing science and rationality rather than rejecting them and in the process humanity as well as the non human world will benefit

Newsletter Rural Development Forestry Network (Overseas Development Institute (London, England)),1992 Tropical Forests Thomas K. Rudel,2005-08-31 In Tropical Forests Rudel analyzes hundreds of local studies from the past twenty years to develop a much needed global perspective on deforestation With separate chapters on individual regions including South and Central America the Caribbean and Africa Rudel s work offers an up to date assessment of the world s tropical forests In the concluding chapter Rudel considers the implications of these trends and describes policy directions for conserving biodiversity and promoting sustainable development in each region Renewing Development in Sub-Saharan Africa Deryke Belshaw,the late Arthur Ian Livingstone,2005-06-29 Renewing Development in Sub Saharan Africa reviews the debates and brings together specialist contributions to provide a clear guide to the major complexities of African development They lay the foundation for designing a range of individual country specific policy sets in which the strategic components are prioritized according to each country s constraints and opportunities The emphasis of the book is on the identification of effective strategies that will enable individual countries to most effectively exploit their growth opportunities and to meet poverty reducing and other key equity objectives

Labour, Land, and Capital in Ghana Gareth Austin, 2005
An examination of the varied ways outside and inside markets in which Asante producers obtained labor land and capital during the transformative era This is a study of the changing rules and relationships within which natural human and man made resources were mobilized for production during the development of an agricultural export economy in Asante a major West African kingdom which became by 1945 the biggest regional contributor to Ghana's status as the world's largest cocoa producer The period 1807 1956 as a whole was distinguished in Asante history by relatively favorable political conditions for indigenous as well as during colonial rule for foreign private enterprise It saw generally increasing external demands for products that could be produced on Asante land This book which fills a major gap in Asante economic history transcends the traditional divide between studies of precolonial and of twentieth century African history It analyses the interaction of coercion and the market in the context of a rich but fragile natural environment the central process being a transition from slavery and debt bondage to hired labor and agricultural indebtedness It contributes to the broad debate about Africa's historic combination of emerging capitalist institutions and persistent precapitalist ones and tests the major theories of the political economy of institutional change It is written accessibly for an interdisciplinary readership Gareth Austin is a lecturer in Economic History London School of Economics and Political Science and Joint Editor of the Journal of African History

Reclaiming the Human Sciences and Humanities Through African Perspectives Helen Lauer, Kofi Anyidoho, 2012
This compilation was inspired by an international symposium held on the Legon campus in September 2003 Hosted by the CODESRIA African Humanities Institute Programme the symposium had the theme Canonical Works and Continuing Innovation in African Arts Humanities
