Sacred and Secular Tensions in Higher Education Michael D. Waggoner, 2011-03-01 Both sacred and secular worldviews have long held a place in U S higher education although non religious perspectives have been privileged in most institutions in the modern era Sacred and Secular Tensions in Higher Education illustrates the importance of cultivating multiple worldviews at public private and faith based colleges and universities in the interest of academic freedom and intellectual and moral dialogue Contributors to this edited collection argue that sacred perspectives are as integral to contemporary higher education in the United States as the more dominant secular perspectives The debates and issues addressed in this book attempt to rebalance the dialogue and place an emphasis on pluralism rather than declare victory of one paradigm over the other Student affairs administrators higher education and religious studies faculty and campus ministers and chaplains will benefit from better understanding the interplay of these sometimes competing and sometimes complementary ideas on campus and the impact of the debate on the lives of faculty students and staff The Quest for Meaning and Wholeness: Spiritual and Religious Connections in the Lives of College Faculty Jennifer A. Lindholm, 2013-12-24 An insightful scholarly resource for dialogue about the symbiotic relationship between the life of the mind and the life of the heart of faculty and what faculty can do to provide students an education that focuses on meaning and purpose Larry A Braskamp professor emeritus Loyola University Chicago Among the strengths of this book are Lindholm s solid research design and data analysis deft integration of quantitative and qualitative data in presentation of findings and interpretation and clear writing Dr Lindholm makes an important contribution both to higher education literature on faculty and to religious studies literature on this dimension of religion and spirituality in colleges and universities Michael D Waggoner professor University of Northern Iowa editor Religion coauthor of Rethinking Faculty Work Higher Education s Strategic Imperative At last a book for faculty about faculty on an important but long neglected topic Jennifer Lindholm provides a cogent readable analysis of how faculty view spirituality and religion not only in their own lives but also their role in higher education Peter C Hill Rosemead School of Psychology Biola University Proclaiming the Gospel, Engaging the World Michael Bräutigam, Peter G. Riddell, Justin T. T. Tan, 2021-01-21 In 2020 Melbourne School of Theology celebrates its one hundredth anniversary Proclaiming the Gospel Engaging the World is a collection of essays that showcases the rich history of the Melbourne Bible Institute the Bible College of Victoria and the Melbourne School of Theology three names but a single proud tradition of serving Christ This volume contains papers by present and past members of the MBI BCV MST family The papers are organized around four themes historical review theological spiritual approaches biblical perspectives and cultural perspectives This volume contributes towards remembering the past while also looking forward to the future getting a clearer sense of how we participate in God s mission in Australia and the world Nonviolence and Education Hongyu Wang, 2014-02-03 In current global politics which positions China as a competitor to American leadership in depth understandings of transnational mutual engagement are much needed for cultivating nonviolent relations Exploring American and Chinese professors experiences at the intersection of the individual society and history and weaving the autobiographical and the global this book furthers understanding of their cross cultural personal awareness and educational work at universities in both countries While focusing on life histories it also draws on both American and Chinese intellectual traditions such as American nonviolence activism Taoism and Buddhism to formulate a vision of nonviolence in curriculum studies Centering cross cultural education and pedagogy about for and through nonviolence this volume contributes to internationalizing curriculum studies and introduces curriculum theorizing at the level of higher education Hongyu Wang brings together stories dialogues and juxtapositions of cross cultural pathways and pedagogies in a powerful case for theorizing and performing nonviolence education as visionary work in the internationalization of curriculum studies

The SAGE Handbook of Workplace Learning Margaret Malloch, Len Cairns, Karen Evans, Bridget N O'Connor, 2010-09-21 This Handbook provides a state of the art overview of the field of workplace learning from a global perspective The authors are all well placed theoreticians researchers and practitioners in this burgeoning field which cuts across higher education vocational education and training post compulsory secondary schooling and lifelong education The volume provides a broad based yet incisive analysis of the range of theory research and practical developments in workplace learning The editors draw together the three essential areas of Theory Research and Practice and Issues and Futures in the field of Workplace Learning In addition final chapters include recommendations for further development Key researchers and writers in the field have approached workplaces as the base of learning about work that is work based learning There has also been emerging interest in variations of this idea such as learning about through and at work Many of the theoretical discussions have centred on adult learning and some on learners managing their own learning with emphasis on aspects such as communities of practice and self directed learning In Europe and Australia early work in the field was often linked to the Vocational Education and Training VET traditions with concerns around skills competencies and on the job learning The idea that learning and workplaces had more to do with real lifelong and lifewide aspects than traditional training regimens has emerged in the last decade Since the mid 1990s the field has grown world wide as an area of theory research and practical work that has not only expanded the interest but has also legitimized the area as a field of study reflection and progress The SAGE Handbook of Workplace Learning draws together a wide range of views theoretical dispositions and assertions and provides a leading edge presentation by key writers and researchers with insight into the field and its current state It is a resource for researchers and academics interested in the scope and breadth of Workplace Learning

Urban Education Karen Symms Gallagher, Rodney Goodyear, Dominic Brewer, Robert Rueda, 2013-03-19 Many factors complicate the education of urban students Among them have been issues related to population density racial ethnic cultural and linguistic diversity poverty racism individual and institutional and funding levels Although urban educators have been addressing these issues for decades placing them under the umbrella of urban education and treating them as a specific area of practice and inquiry is relatively recent Despite the wide adoption of the term a consensus about its meaning exists at only the broadest of levels In short urban education remains an ill defined concept This comprehensive volume addresses this definitional challenge and provides a 3 part conceptual model in which the achievement of equity for all regardless of race gender or ethnicity is an ideal that is central to urban education The model also posits that effective urban education requires attention to the three central issues that confronts all education systems a accountability of individuals and the institutions in which they work b leadership which occurs in multiple ways and at multiple levels and c learning which is the raison d'être of education Just as a three legged stool would fall if any one leg were weak or missing each of these areas is essential to effective urban education and affects the others

Confronting Equity Issues on Campus Estela Mara Bensimon, Lindsey Malcom, 2023-07-03 How can it be that 50 years after the passage of the Civil Rights Act our institutions of higher education have still not found ways of reducing the higher education gaps for racial and ethnic groups That is the question that informs and animates the Equity

Scorecard model of organizational change It shifts institutions focus from what students do or fail to do to what institutions can do through their practices and structures as well as the actions of their leaders and faculty to produce equity in outcomes for racially marginalized populations Drawing on the theory of action research it creates a structure for practitioners to become investigators of their own institutional culture to become aware of racial disparities confront their own practices and learn how things are done on their own turf to ask In what ways am I contributing to equity inequity The Equity Scorecard model differs significantly from traditional approaches to effecting change by creating institutional teams to examine and discuss internal data about student outcomes disaggregated by race and ethnicity The premise of the project is that institutional data acts as a powerful trigger for group learning about inequities in educational outcomes and that the likelihood of improving those outcomes increases if the focus is on those things within the immediate control of the participating leaders and practitioners Numerous institutions have successfully used The Equity Scorecard s data tools and processes of self reflection to uncover and document the behaviors and structures that lead to failure to retain and graduate students from diverse racial and ethnic backgrounds with a history of unequal opportunity and to create the climate for faculty and staff to take ownership of the issues and develop sustainable practices to eliminate racial disparities in academic performance The Scorecard can be used at a small scale to analyze individual courses or programs as well as broader institutional issues This book presents the underlying concept of funds of knowledge for race conscious expertise that informs this process describes its underlying theories defines the attributes needed to achieve equity minded practice demonstrates through examples of implementation what different institutions have learned and what they have achieved and provides a blueprint for action for higher education as a whole For college leaders instructors and support staff who feel the pressure moral or otherwise to close the racial equity gap that their institutions produce year after year this book provides the structure knowledge and tools to do so It is also of value to scholars and students of higher education who have an interest in the study of organizational change
